NARRATIVE OF FACTS.
1923.

“HIS Name shall be called ‘Wonderful,’” and all He is and does is in keeping with His Name. “The Lord will do great things” is one of His great and precious promises, and truly He has done great things for us whereof we are glad. We have watched this village grow, from the cutting of the first sod and the laying of the first stone in 1877, and as we have noted the growth and development from year to year, the sense of wonder has rather increased than diminished. Nothing could explain it all but the fact of God—our wonderful God, who “is” and who hears and answers the prayers of His humble people.

William Quarrier was a mere child when first he saw afar off the “vision” of the Orphan Homes of Scotland. At first the vision was dim and indistinct and far away; but it grew with his growth and became ever clearer and stronger as the time for realisation drew nigh. Almost sixty years ago the first definite efforts were made to realize the desires which had been born in the child’s heart, but it was not until 1874 that the vision took clear shape. In that wonderful year of grace for our beloved land, Mr. D. L. Moody—probably the greatest soul-winner of the nineteenth century—was God’s chosen instrument to bring many thousands of our people into the spiritual knowledge of salvation. While in our city Mr. Moody was pained at the sight of so many ragged and neglected children on the streets, and in the autumn of the year he called and presided at a conference of ministers and Christian workers, to consider the matter and see what could be done on behalf of the needy little ones. At that conference the writer of these lines was present, and well remembers some of those who took part, and some of the suggestions which were made. Mr. Quarrier was one of the speakers at the conference, and it was on that occasion that he first made public his plan for the building of Cottage Homes, to provide for Scotland’s orphan children. Two years later he was led by remarkable providential guidance to purchase forty acres of farmland at Bridge-of-Weir, and to commence the erection of the Homes. The first “vision” was limited to ten cottage dwellings and an executive block, and within a very few years these were all provided and in full operation.

And so this wonderfully God-born work has gone on growing through the years, until to-day there are seventy-five beautiful and substantial houses, scattered over a freehold estate of three hundred and twenty acres, and making provision for a population of two thousand—including orphan children, consumptives, epileptics, and helpers. The support of this great and needy family calls for an annual income of over £70,000.

and this large sum comes in in answer to prayer with unfailing certainty, so that from the beginning till to-day there has never been a penny of debt on any department of the work. An amazing fact in connection with the financial position is that years of distress in the country—through bad trade, unemployment, or other causes—have usually been years of overflowing supply at the Homes. A glance at the Balance Sheet on another page will show how true this has been in the past year.

No new houses have been built this year, as there has been plenty of accommodation to provide for all the needy ones who have come seeking admission. We have, however, made a considerable addition to our seaside homes at Dunoon, and have disposed of Benthead, the Holiday Home at Ardnadam, which has done excellent service for many years.

In July one of the beautiful houses in the Colony of Mercy was partially burnt down. Fortunately no one was hurt as the fire took place in daylight. The rebuilding was undertaken at once and is already well forward, the cost being nearly—if not quite—covered by insurance. The week after the fire a legacy of £25,000 for the Homes from a friend in Greenock was announced, and has now been paid (less legacy duty). This is the largest sum we have ever received at one time.

All departments of the work—at Bridge-of-Weir, in the City, and in Canada—have been carried on quietly and efficiently throughout the year; and although there have been few outstanding incidents to record, the usual helpful ministry, on behalf of all the needy ones we have had brought to our notice, has gone on from day to day, and thousands have had cause to thank God for the “vision” that came into the heart of a little boy in Glasgow High Street more than eighty years ago.

Death has taken its toll of many of our friends in the past year, a list of some of whom will be found on another page. Here we would refer to three.

Mrs. Joseph White died suddenly in the Spring. She and her husband had been in charge of one of the cottage families for about twenty-five years, and we greatly valued her and the splendid service she rendered on behalf of the children.

Mrs. M'Fadzean had been laid aside by serious illness for several years before the earthly end came in September, and we laid her tired body beside her husband's in the little “God's Acre” behind the church. She had done almost forty years of splendid service on behalf of Scotland's orphans, and had been for most of that time Matron of the Homes.

Sir Samuel Chisholm, Bart., was one of the oldest and best beloved of our friends. He was associated with Mr. Quarrier from the very early days, and in addition to being an active member of the Board of Trustees, was one of the ablest and most helpful of the splendid band of voluntary preachers who bring the Gospel message to our large congregation from week to week. He had reached the great age of 87, and was alert and active until within a few days of his home call. We shall greatly miss him at the Homes, as many others will in different walks of life where he filled a large place.

Our family at the beginning of the year numbered 1,348—in addition to workers—comprised of 1,087 orphan children, 159 consumption patients, and 102 epileptics. During the year we have received 249 children, 205 patients, and 41 colonists; leaving us with a family of 1,373 on 31st

October. For the feeding, clothing, nursing, and caring for all of these we have received the following amounts, including payments:—

I. For the Orphan Homes,	£67,586	2	0
II. For the Consumption Sanatoria,	20,766	8	4
III. For the Colony for Epileptics,	10,968	10	7
IV. For Home and Foreign Missions,	1,474	4	8
Total,	£100,795	5	7

For the sake of friends who have not seen previous Reports of the Orphan Homes, the following states the basis upon which the work is carried on:—

In the year 1864 Mr. Quarrier began his public work among the street boys of Glasgow by the organisation of shoeblack and newsboys' brigades. Out of these developed the Orphan Homes, which to-day provide a home and Christian training for 1,500 fatherless and orphan boys and girls of all ages. In the years between 1871, when the first Home was opened, and now, 17,824 children have passed through the Homes, 6,607 of whom were sent to Canada. Something like £1,598,737 has been received: £312,000 of that sum has been expended on buildings, land, etc., and £1,286,737 on the maintenance of the Homes and Sanatoria and Colony, and Home and Foreign Missions. The work of the Orphan Homes is carried on in dependence upon God for daily supplies. No one is called on personally, nor do we send out collectors. The needs are committed to God in prayer, and we look to Him to move the hearts of His people to send all that is required.

NOVEMBER, 1922.—As we turn the page from a finished chapter to continue the story of God's dealings with the Orphan Homes of Scotland during another year, the very regularity of the record of Providence throughout the fifty-one years behind us, makes it easy—a thing of habit, indeed—to reiterate our thanks for all the way He has led and for all He has done and given. Yet the fact remains. He has led, and has done, and has given, and it is another year. Familiarity with the blessed experience has robbed us of the wonder of it. In these hustling, modern days we need to pull ourselves up and dwell upon the wonder, lest we miss the miracle, and thereby our faith become impoverished. Each succeeding year is a year, and each day is another day of miracle. “Give us this day our daily bread” we have often said, whilst habitual repetition has subtly stolen from the words their true prayer value. Nevertheless, each day our Heavenly Father has very definitely and materially answered our poor petition. Our faith is too often unreal and lifeless. He ever lives. We fail. He faileth never. To Him be all the praise.

The first day of this fifty-second year has brought twenty shillings from a lady in Macduff; 10s. from a Dunoon Sunday school; other 10s. from one in Glasgow; £150 for the half-year's upkeep of the Home for invalid girls; 5s. from Birmingham; £1 from a fellow-worker; £5, “a thankoffering from a grateful couple,” also our fellow-workers; £1 in memory of a little boy; £3 from Durban friends; and a guinea from a dear old friend and former helper in Natal. She calls it, “a thank-offering to God for His care over me during the last week's terrible storm,” during which the earth shook and the house tottered, while her husband was far away upon the Master's business and she "alone with no one near but God."

A helper in Warwickshire sends thanks for the booklet and report saying, "I showed them to a friend this evening, and the enclosed £1 note was the spontaneous result." Our faithful and long familiar friends, Alice, Willie, and Jessie are continuing their fortnightly gifts. Someone in New Bedford, Mass., has sent £6; the children attending a Leith Sunday school, 25s. from their birthday box; a church work party in Kirkcaldy, £3; "a circle of young Glasgow women, voluntary workers together, during the war, and since continuing the friendships thus formed by monthly social meetings, £6; a Glasgow company of the Boys' Brigade, £2; a lady in Perthshire, £15 15s., with the explanation, "I make it guineas instead of pounds this year because of the shilling off the income tax"; an anonymous donor, £2 10s. under postmark of Kinross; a frequent helper in Washington, D.C., £25; two friends in Durham, 10s.; another in New Zealand, £4; a fellow worker, £1; "George's sisters," £15, "for our little orphan in loving remembrance of those who have gone on"; one of our grown-up girls, £1; and another, 10s., in the following letter:—

I received your letter and was glad to hear from my old home. I am liking this place very much. There is a fine view of the country round about from the front of the house. Yesterday afternoon I was looking at the Bulletin, and when I saw the photos of Sir Joseph Maclay and Mr. Lloyd George, I was sure he would be paying a visit to the Homes. Hallowe'en was held here last night, but it was nothing like what you would have in the Homes, and I am quite sure everyone there would have a good supply of nuts and apples. I was at church on Sunday night. It is only a quarter of the size of your church. I am enclosing ten shillings which I hope will help to give some other child a good start in life the same as I received.

The grandfather of one of our Canadian boys has kindly passed on this encouraging extract from a recent letter, "I have now entered my last year under the care of the Orphan Homes, and with all my heart I thank you grandpa for putting me there." A good farmer's wife in Ontario says, "Enclosed please find two dollars, the price of Charlie's box that he left here. I wish I could make it two hundred. All the children I have known or heard of from the Bridge-of-Weir homes have been an honour to its great founder, your father. Charlie was a fine boy. I often wonder if the hard times after the war are affecting the Homes. I hope you may live long to enjoy seeing them prosper." Unable this month to visit three bright little boys, their grandmother writes:—

I am sending on my little subscription. Sorry it is so little for all you are doing for our dear ones. We have sent them a parcel to make up for our visit. H—— sent a post card, nicely written, to say they were well and happy. It is four years now since their mother died. I am sending you a parcel of some little things sent me by a lady my daughter sews for, also 3 pairs of socks knitted by the ——. They are nearly blind, but they never forget my little box. With our earnest prayers for you all.

With three pounds from friends in North China who have sojourned with us comes the assurance, "We specially remember the orphans and your Sunday services when at the close of each Lord's day we gather for worship and praise." An old friend in Springburn, who has been passing through trial owing to unemployment, but has now started work again says, "I am thankful the Homes have always been before me. The dear Lord does not allow me to forget, so my time has come to-day and I enclose two pounds as my yearly donation for general fund. I always remember the Homes in prayer for blessing on the work He has called you to." Sending £1 in cash, together with "a small parcel of little garments which I have made," an aged helper in Burntisland informs us that, "In spite of my 84 years my sight continues good, and I much enjoy the work though it takes long adoining now!"

In addition to nine small legacies, we have received during this month a donation of £250 made by the committee of a Greenock institution recently closed. A gift of £100 is "in memory 15th October, 1904"; 10 dollars from a lady in Saskatoon; £10 from a gentleman in Montreal, "in anticipation of Christmas"; 10s. from Eyemouth, "to buy a toy for the children's Christmas tree"; £5 from one of the teaching staff in our own school; and £1 from a Lochwinnoch helper, who has just expressed our own conviction, "When one reads in the annual report of the work done there, all that can be said is, 'It is the Lord's doing and marvellous in our eyes.'"

The following extract from The Glasgow Herald of 30th November, 1922, will be appreciated by the multitude of friends unable to attend our very inspiring fifty-first annual public meeting of the previous afternoon:—

The wonder of the work was the phrase used by Sir Samuel Chisholm, who presided at the annual meeting of the Orphan Homes of Scotland, Bridge-of-Weir, held yesterday afternoon in the Christian Institute, Glasgow. The annual report, which was submitted, showed the extensive character of the beneficent operations carried on and the support that was received from all parts of the world without solicitation of any kind. The work done at the Consumption Sanatoria and the Colony of Mercy for Epileptics was a feature of the report. "Our family at the beginning of the year (the report stated) numbered 1,325—in addition to workers—comprised of 1,074 orphan children, 148 consumption patients, and 103 epileptics. During the year we have received 203 children, 269 patients, and 39 colonists; leaving us with a family of 1,348 on 31st October. For the feeding, clothing, nursing, and caring for all of these we have received £73,419."

The Chairman said that as year after year passed the wonder, the marvel, and the mystery of it were being added to and increased. If Mr. Quarrier had been examined by a committee of business men in regard to his proposed plans, he would have been pronounced a dreamer of dreams. But Mr. Quarrier had not been out for dividends, but for results; dividends if they liked, but not for dividends that would pass in the market. He was out to rescue and redeem precious lives.

Lord Maclay, who submitted the financial statement, said that the income of the Homes last year was £43,826, that of the Consumption Sanatoria, £22,092; the Colony for Epileptics, £6,077; and Home and Foreign Missions, £1,424. They all rejoiced that throughout all the years the balance-sheet each year had tended towards an increase. No appeal had been made to the public in any shape or form beyond the annual report, and that was a great testimony to the work of the Homes and to the faith that pervaded it. Contributions came in from all over the world in varying sums and from boys and girls formerly associated with the Homes. A great number of the former inmates of the Homes had gone to Canada, and there was a constant stream of additions coming along. It was a great happiness to know that the boys who had gone to Canada had made such a success of their lives.

Pastor D. J. Findlay, who also spoke to the report, said that there were about 1,100 boys and girls in the Homes, but there were 1,500 beds, so that there was plenty of accommodation for others. The doors of the Homes, he said, were never closed against any needy orphan boy or girl. Throughout the 51 years of the work there had never been a penny of debt. Canada, as the report stated, was calling out loudly for their boys and girls. The Rev. R. Wright Hay, London; Mr. Alexander Sloan, and Dr. W. L. Reid, the chairman of the Medical Advisory Board, spoke on various phases of the work before the report was adopted. A very pleasing feature of the meeting was the singing of the choir of boys and girls from the Homes.

DECEMBER, 1922.—"I did enjoy Wednesday afternoon—such a fine meeting and tone, and so many cheery faces, it would ill have become me to put on a long one." So writes an old friend, and we thank God for the spoken word and printed page, which, from that inspiring gathering, "sent the people away, glad and merry in heart for the goodness that the Lord had showed" unto us. Amid the stress and struggle of these trying times we all have so much to be thankful for that we must surely obey the Master's exhortation to "be of good cheer." The wise man said, "A merry heart doeth good like a medicine, and maketh a cheerful countenance," and he might have added, "begets it in others." None can tell how a cheerful countenance may lighten another's load.

'Twas the sunshine of a smile—
Pass it on!
Staying but a little while!
Pass it on!
April beam, the little thing,
Still it wakes the flow'rs of Spring,
Makes the silent birds to sing—
Pass it on!

"Praying that our Father's smile may continue to rest on you and all the dear workers together for Him," an Ayrshire helper says, "My heart rejoiced greatly once more with you all when I received 'The Narrative of Facts,' for which I thank you. It spells so largely God's goodness and marvellous care and kindness from cover to cover, causing my heart to swell." In a letter from another friend in Worthing we have these sentences, "I have been reading your report. It is indeed an incentive to the individual believer to 'have faith in God.' I enclose cheque £2. In doing so I thank our God who gave it me, then put it in my heart to send it you, but I do not think He is going to end there. By His grace I can add my prayers for you, the most valuable asset we as believers have. May our God and Father grant that all your orphans may become His, and that 1923 may be the richest year of all in spiritual blessing."

To meet the heavy expenditure of this month there has been received among a multitude of other gifts from every corner of the world, 10s. from a former worker in Dingwall; £1, "a small thankoffering from an old lady who has just passed her ninetieth birthday"; 2s. 6d. from Biggar; £100 from an old helper in Galston; £10 from a lady interested in a family helped; £5 from Auckland, New Zealand; £1 from Cork; £6 12s. from one of our grown up boys in Canada; five guineas, "my usual birthday gift," from Glasgow; £2 from Pretoria; £5 from Massachusetts; 30s. from a husband and wife in Caithness; £2 from Bristol; 2s., "a small thankoffering for God's goodness to me"; a guinea from Bangor, Wales; £1 from a Women's Guild in Cromarty; £1 10s., with £1 for the Sanatoria from Cannes, France; £1 from Islay; £1 from a missionary in Morocco; £2 instead of a bag of oatmeal we are accustomed to get from a friend in Beith; 20s. out of her hard-earned and slender income from a former helper in the work; £5 from a firm of manufacturers with whom we deal regularly; 10s. from a Lerwick Sunday school; £5 from Queensland; 10s. from one of our old girls; £50, "part of the tenth," from Leith; and 4 dollars, 90 cents, enclosed in the following letter from Brantford, Ontario:—

I wish to thank you for sending on my brother's certificate so promptly. My hand is quite all right now and I am able to work. I don't miss my finger very much, and it has healed very nicely, so I should be very thankful that it healed so quickly. I hope all are well at the Homes. I suppose you will be busy now preparing for the Christmas season. The children do look forward to it, and I remember the many happy times I had at Christmas and New Year and the Christmas trees. I will always remember them and be glad that I was there. We are busy at the Sunday school preparing a concert for Christmas. Peggy is teaching her own class a song, and she is also helping another teacher prepare a drill for her girls. I am enclosing a little gift to help the big work. It's not very much, but I know that every little bit helps toward the amount needed to carry on the great work. I hope you will have a very happy Christmas and prosperity in the New Year.

A minister in a Northern county, forwarding £1 from his wife who did good service many years ago in our mission in the city, bears this testimony to our Canadian boys, "I had the good fortune of having a church in every province in Canada except Saskatchewan, and often came in contact with your boys, and all that I met were doing very well." From Melrose one of our girls has sent four shillings "to help to get a Christmas present for some poor child who is filling my place at Bridge-of-Weir." Another in Edinburgh, sending 5s., "a little remembrance of the season," remarks, "I know you haven't time to read a long letter. I'll write later giving you all the news. How excited all the children will be at this time. My thoughts wander back to the times when I used to be one of the excitable crowd."

The reference at the end of the following letter from another girl, enclosing 10s., is to one of our "mothers," who left some time ago to answer the call of duty at home:—

I thought I would like very much to send you a little Christmas gift. It is not as much as I should like to give, but I hope you will accept it with my best wishes. I am sure I am very thankful to you for all your kindness and help to me. I cannot help thinking of what you have done for me. I appreciate it very much. I wonder if you could find it convenient for me to spend from Saturday till Tuesday at Bridge-of-Weir, as my mistress has kindly let me off to spend New Year. I should be so pleased if you could have me. I have been so busy preparing for Christmas, but I am feeling very happy amidst it all. I enjoy very much taking my day off. I go round to Miss ——. She is so nice. I see now what she has done for me.

Included among the month's varied and numerous gifts in kind are a quantity of bulbs for the garden; 38 pairs of rabbits for the dinner table; 50 dolls from a lady for the Christmas trees; 33 dozen pairs of boot laces from an anonymous helper; 130 articles of clothing, 44 books, 12 pairs boots, etc., from The People's Friend Love Darg; 6 cases of apples from Edinburgh; a large quantity of groceries from Eyemouth; a splendid pair of Wyandotte fowls to enrich the stock of our rejuvenated poultry farm; 54 sultana cakes from a Glasgow firm; 133 articles of clothing from a work party in Auchterarder; 98 more from one in Fife; 78 others, together with toys, sweets, and fruit from a branch of the B.W.T.A.; and an endless variety of other useful things too numerous to detail here. Single articles and small parcels are just as welcome as large consignments. It would help us greatly if friends, wishing to provide gifts for the Christmas trees, would send these very early. Annuals for both boys and girls would be greatly appreciated if in good condition, though not new, as they are too expensive for us to buy.

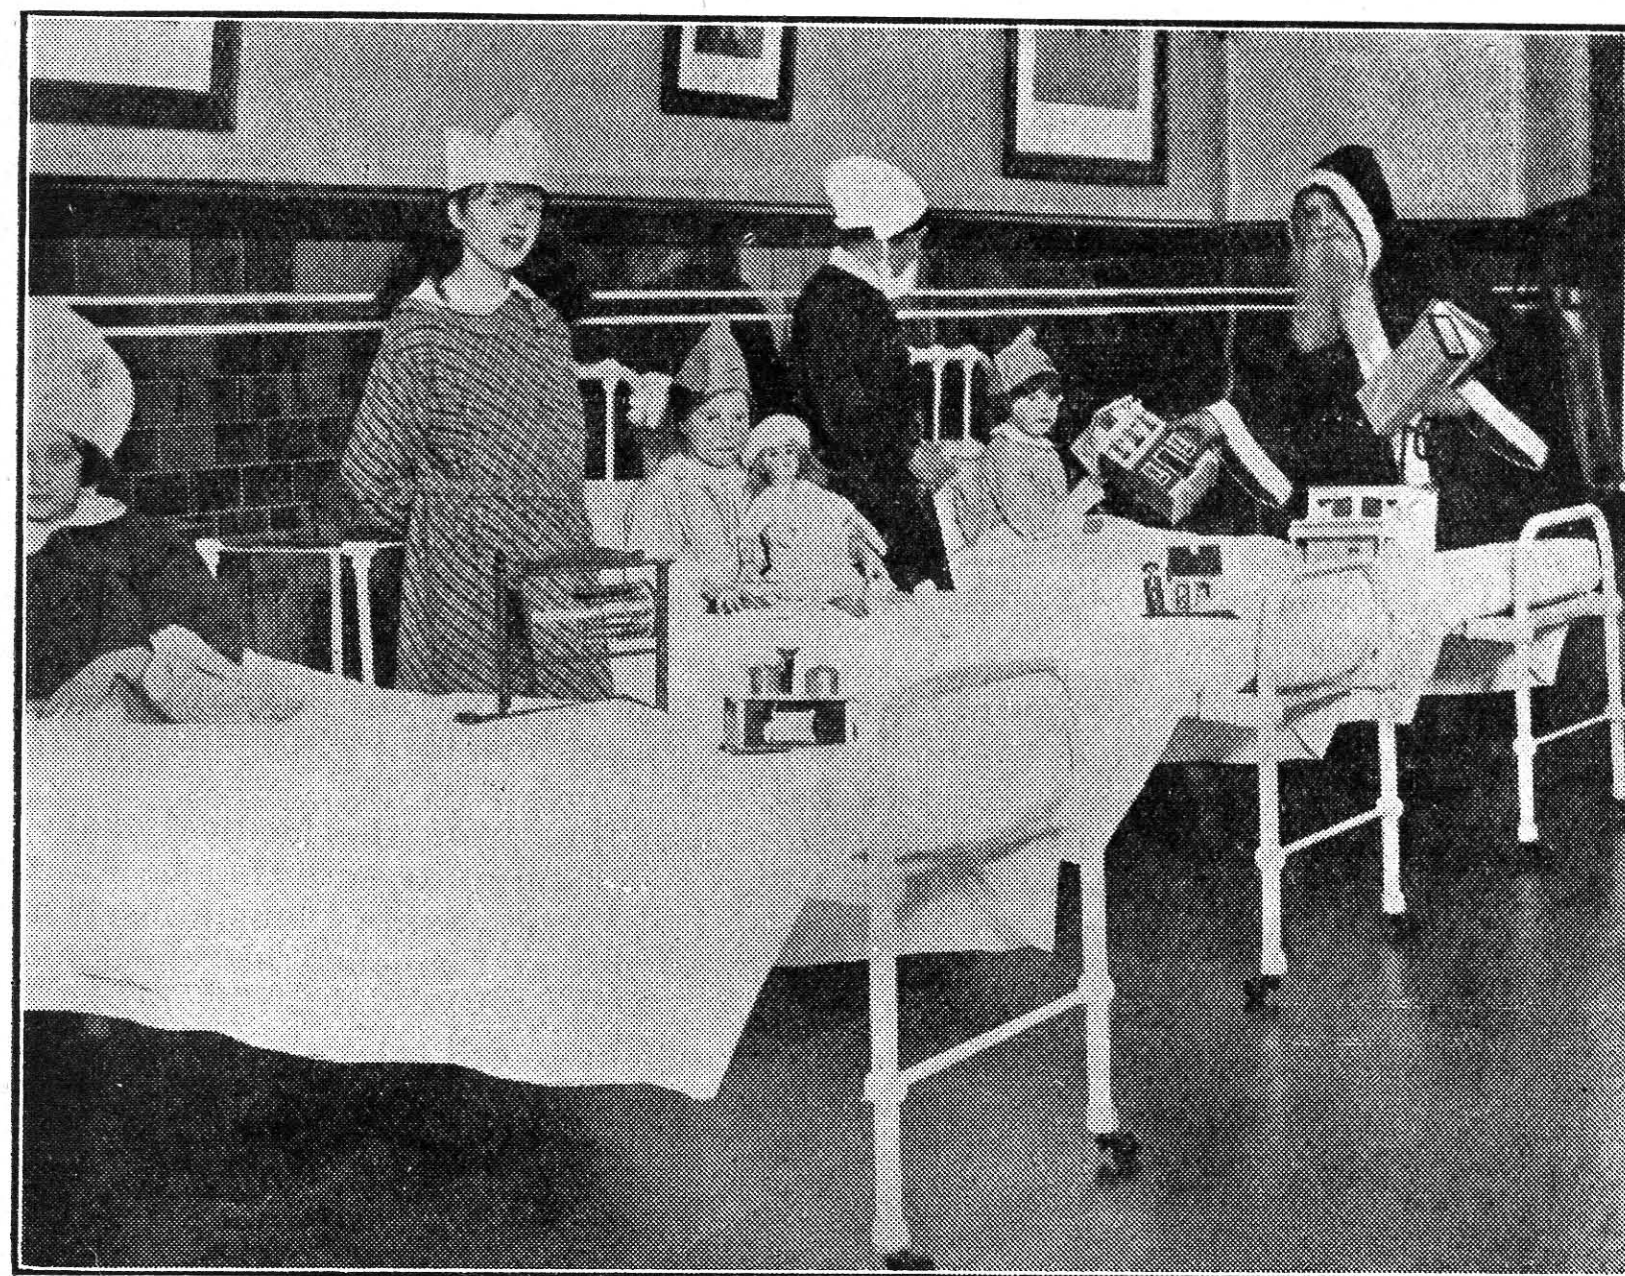

Both youth and age are prominent on the December donation list. Two shillings from one little girl "out of her slender purse," and one and threepence from another have swelled the contribution of a friend who says, "It is a great encouragement to us mothers in our small way to go forward in faith when we read of all you attain with over 1,000 of a family without 'putting on a poor mouth.' It is simply marvellous, and to me such an impetus to put God first and leave the providing to Him." Five little sisters who live near by and "were over at the Homes last New Year and enjoyed seeing the children getting their presents," have sent five shillings. Twenty shillings has been forwarded by an old age pensioner; and ten shillings by a minister's widow aged 81 years, but still anxious to do a little knitting for the orphans. But what could be more precious in the Master's sight than the pound enclosed in the following letter:—

Again I send you my mite for the Lord's blessed work. You will see by the address I am removed. Well, I was indeed ill and they were going to put me in the Poor Hospital. I could not look after myself. I did not want to lose my wee home and I could only get this. It is only an attic, but it is nice for me. I am getting a few shillings off the Board, and it is very wonderful how the good Lord has blessed it. I am so glad I am able to spare my usual small help. It gives me great joy to do so, and I earnestly hope and pray for God's blessing on your work of love among the children. It is very lonely here, and there will be no one to wish me a good New Year. I trust I will not forget to be thankful, for He has done much for me, and it may be He will come this year.

On Saturday, 16th inst., the mail delivered at the City Home included a registered envelope containing £250 in bank notes for the Homes and other £250 for the Sanatoria from a generous but anonymous donor. Other large sums are £500 from a friend who writes, "This with the like sum given a few months ago, completes the sum I had intended giving"; two out of eleven legacies, amounting respectively to one thousand and nine hundred pounds; £50 from a Kilmarnock lady enquiring about one of the girls; £25 from London for the Christmas treat; £80 for the Homes, with £20 for the Sanatoria, from two friends in Glasgow who have long been interested in the work; 50 guineas from Upper Norwood; and £100 from a husband and wife.

English donations are generally more numerous in December than at any other time of the year. Our needs have been remembered by friends all over the country from Keswick to Torquay and the Isle of Wight, and from Norfolk to Cheshire. A lady in London sending £10 each for the Homes and the Sanatoria, writes, "For years I've wanted to send something and haven't been able, but just recently my aunt left me a small sum of money and felt I must send a little share of it to help the splendid work at Bridge-of-Weir."

SANTA CLAUS AT THE HOSPITAL.

A friend in Dundee has contributed £1 "in grateful remembrance of your kindness to R— W—," one of our Canadian boys; a grateful girl, 5s.; another recently placed in a situation, 10s.; one of the 1921 Canadian party, £1; and an old City Home boy, along with his wife and family, £4.

The abounding goodness of our Heavenly Father in causing so many of His stewards to remember the extra needs at this time, has enabled us to fill up the children's stockings with good things to greet them on Christmas morning, and furnish special fare as well as seasonable entertainment. In spite of the very inclement weather on Christmas eve, parties of carol-singers, young and old, made a tour of the village, delighting the hearts of all who heard with the sweet songs that breathe the very air of Christmas and voice the spirit of the Babe of Bethlehem.

What busy weeks of preparation these have been for the older folks, and how full of anticipation for the children, whose unrestrained happiness will soon make us forget our weariness and think the toilsome days worth while. Gathered with our fellow-workers and a few older boys and girls for the customary watch hour of praise and prayer, there came to us this message which we pass on to all the wider circle of those who share our happy service. "What shall I render unto the Lord for all His benefits? Unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required. Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto Me." Therefore, "Let us not be weary in well doing; for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not."

JANUARY, 1923.—However the tired folks, who spent the hours immediately following the watch-night service dressing the trees, may have felt about it, morning and daylight came none too soon for the youngsters on New Year's Day. Their kind benefactors will get a vivid picture of the day's proceedings from the accompanying photographs by the Bulletin's special artist and these extracts from the Glasgow Evening Times :—

ORPHANS' JOY DAY.

NE'ERDAY AT QUARRIER'S HOMES.

A BRIDE DOLL.

A little fellow tried to tell me such a lot yesterday. He spoke when I was looking in quite another direction—at another little patient in the Elise Hospital at Quarrier's Homes, Bridge-of-Weir. When I leaned over his cot his wee thin white finely-shaped hand closed round my forefinger, and he babbled confidently.

John was his name, I learned. Not from him, but from the medical chart at the head of his bed. He couldn't speak really. But I am quite sure that he wanted ever so badly to confide in me, big stranger as I was, that Santa Claus himself had just been round and had shaken that same wee hand and pinched his cheek, and had given him a real . . .

But here, I suspect that John went off at a tangent to tell tales about that merry old rascal. That he kissed the very little girls when he gave them presents out of his hamper. And waved kisses to the middling girls. But when he came to the big girls, he patted 'em on the head—for safety. The sly old dog.

I quite believe John. For I watched Santa from a special neuk in the transept of the church at the Orphan Homes.

But mind, I don't blame him. For when he went down with his arms loaded among the children, and offered to shake hands from below his load, there was such a stretching of hands and beckoning of eyes that the old fellow's arm might have been shaken clean off. And that long before he and his lieutenants had shaken the gifts off the Christmas tree to a tiny portion of the eleven hundred boys and girls there.

EXPECTANT EXCITEMENT.

It is in what might be unlooked-for places that festive days like Ne'erday seem to be most happily observed. The buoyancy of spirit in the Sanatorium would have been hard to beat, if the next-door neighbours had not been orphans whose "fathers" and "mothers" had been quizzing to find out their taste in toys.

From past experience most of the orphans knew that yesterday's sumptuous Christmas trees—like all good Scots, the orphans postpone some of the pleasures of Christmas and make merriest on Ne'erday—answer these wishes, and usually provide a surplus surprise. But a few hundred newcomers merely knew by hearsay. So, what with the extra dainties at meals and the donning of guid claes, they spent the early part of yesterday in expectant excitement after their work as mothers' helps in their bedrooms or the kitchen was early finished.

One little maid informed me that she had asked for a "bride" doll. No other dolly would have pleased her. And, sure enough, at the very top of one of the Christmas trees there hung a "bride" doll, apparently rather nervous about the approaching ceremony, for she sheltered under a spread umbrella, and had attached herself to a little green go-car. It was a proud little mistress who carried bride and go-car out of the church; prouder even than when she informed me that she was the smallest and so-and-so was the biggest of her clan in the Homes.

The Christmas trees were stripped in amazingly quick time; and for hours after from every cottage home the unrestrained pleasure of the youngsters in the new toys was heard as well as seen. Then they gathered again to hear a cheerful concert and to see a popular film of distant queer people.

Their joy-day culminated in a timely recognition—by a presentation of a handsome album of views of the Homes—of Lord Maclay's generosity and helpful advice as honorary treasurer to the Quarrier Institutions. W. J. W.

What a host the world over have been with us in mind to-day, living again in happy memory such days of other years. One of those, who left us with the 1920 Canadian party, writes from his Ontario farm home :—

It was with great pleasure I received your New Year's letter and read about the doings in the dear old village. It recalled to my mind the pleasant memories of bygone days in different scenes and circumstances and made me wish I was there again. I always praise God that I am one of those who are numbered among the O.H.S. family. What a grand time you all seem to be having with so many cinemas, lantern slides, and musical and other programmes. I was very sorry to hear of the death of Mr. Douglas, for he was a great boon in the Homes, and, I'm sure, earns a well-deserved rest. We have had a splendid summer here, nice weather and a bountiful harvest for man and beast. Our barns and granaries are full to overflowing. I am still on the same farm as when I came out and like the people very well, and I am getting on fine in my work. I hope some day to be the owner of a farm myself, so I'll have to stick in and do my best. Is the boys' Thursday night meeting (Christian Association) going on as strong as ever? I was a member of it, and many happy and blessed evenings were spent there, and I am very lonesome sometimes to go to one of them again. Well, I think now I'll close, wishing you and all in the Homes a very happy New Year. I am enclosing the sum of two dollars as a little thank-offering.

The first day of the year brought 10s. from one of our girls in a situation in this country; 2s. 6d. from her sister; 10s. from a third; and other 10s. from one of the older lads, still in the village, who gathers a few shillings at this season as he goes around on various errands. We are somewhat prone to think our children neither feel nor show their gratitude till after they leave us, but there are exceptions. His note says, "This may do for someone in need and not so well off as I am." Later in the month four other girls, placed out in this country, sent tokens of their gratitude, and one who went many years ago to Canada and is now married and living in Montreal, five dollars, saying, "You may think I have forgot the Homes but never will." Yet another, sending 10s. said, "Please accept enclosed order toward the work. Sorry it is so small, but hope it will increase as time goes on." One of the Canadian boys enclosed an order for £1 in his letter in which he writes, "I often think of the happy days that I spent in Quarrier's Homes. I will never forget them. It is eight years since I left you and it just looks like yesterday."

A friend in Perthshire, enquiring about two boys emigrated in 1888, has sent £2 18s. 2d., balance from a Christmas treat; "one who has got strength and help from reading the Report for 1922," £1; a Shanghai helper, £5; two others in Windermere, £15 each; two ladies in Kirkwall, £3 each; an Argyllshire branch of the Y.W.C.A., £5; someone in

Saltburn-by-the-Sea, £2, "in memory of two birthdays"; a St. Boswells friend, £15 towards support of a child in the Homes and £5 for the Colony of Mercy; a fellow worker, £15, "Of Thine own"; a former teacher, 5s., with £5 in memory of her sister; an old friend in her 89th year, 20s.; Hong Kong friends, a cheque for £135; others in the same place, £43; one in Edinburgh, £4, saying, "I have always looked forward to some day taking my boys to see the Homes as my father took me"; and the children of a Greenock Sunday school, £5. Of all the hundreds of Sunday schools who send their contributions at this season of the year, it is surely fitting that mention be made of this one, the sender of whose gift writes, "Our school is the nearest in point of situation to the birth-place of William Quarrier, and our superintendent never wearies in telling the scholars of the fact and extolling the great work done for boys and girls."

Six legacies paid during January have amounted to £1,604 2s. 9d. Of the largest single sum received, £1,000 has been earmarked for the Home and Foreign Missions Fund, to which are regularly added all the offerings at services in our village church, Mount Zion. Those who give so well to meet the children's needs will doubtless rejoice to know that they in turn are encouraged to give liberally to every good cause, and that within a month they, together with workers and visitors, have contributed in three special collections, £17 5s. to the Glasgow Tent Hall Free Breakfast Fund; £16 6s. 11d. to the Hospital Sunday Fund; and £21 4s. 6d. to the Mildmay Mission to the Jews.

The donor of five pounds informs us, "I have many happy recollections of the days I spent in the Homes, and will be ever grateful for what was done for me." Ten dollars is to hand from a lady in Winnipeg, now sixty years of age, who bears testimony, "When I was seventeen I met a young woman. We lived near each other. She was a Christian and had been brought up in your Homes, and her exemplary Christian life bore such a bright testimony, it had a great influence on me. I had not been under any Christian influence but hers in my life. I was married by the time I got saved. She doesn't know but what joy it will be to her when we meet in glory. I just tell you to let you see how far reaching your labours are and by way of encouragement."

FEBRUARY, 1923.—Almost the first gift this month was one of six pounds with the request, "Please get an orange for the dear little boys and girls for the 2nd February," whilst a few days later we were cheered to hear that Tayport friends, sending cheque for four pounds, "were blessed through the reading of your report and praise the Lord for His faithfulness in supplying all the needs of such a great household." Twenty-two garments and eight pairs of stockings have come to hand from a new donor, who writes, "A friend gave me your annual report, and after reading same I felt I wanted to do a little to help you in such a good cause. May our dear Lord bless you abundantly in your service for Him." Her letter is dated 10th inst., which is the forty-sixth anniversary of laying down the first stone of the Orphan Homes. This year the occasion was marked by a social gathering of workers and friends in the newly-decorated Central Hall—the village church of olden days, when the family was much smaller and the work but beginning. How amply the beloved founders and we too have proved, in regard to the material extension of the village as well as in other matters, the truth of these lines—

There are heights beyond our dreaming,
There are joys beyond our scheming,
In the purpose and the counsel of our Lord.

Someone in Portobello has sent 5s. anonymously; another in Corstorphine, £2, with the explanation, "I am glad to share increased prosperity with your big family"; a Mauchline friend, £30; a helper in Sutherlandshire, 20s.; another in Middlesex, £3; two of our fellow workers, £1 for the General Fund with 30s. for Missions; a company of the Boys' Brigade, £1; a frequent supporter in Darlington, £5; a friend rejoicing in his acceptance for missionary service in Africa, 5 dollars from Pennsylvania; someone in Bournemouth, 5s.; another in Aberdeen who contributes regularly and apparently proportionately, 4s.; children and teachers of a local Sunday school, £1; friends in Dennistoun, 10s., "in memory of our little boy"; a grateful girl, 5s.; and one of our Canadian boys the following letter:—

To-day I have received from Mr. Winters a copy of the New Year Letter, and it was the remark you made in it about not being afraid to write that prompted me to do so. This is my first letter to you, but I have kept in touch with Mr. W. Douglas since I came to Canada. I also hear from Mr. and Mrs. — very frequently. They were my father and mother during my four years at Bridge-of-Weir. I received a letter to-day from Mr. —. He keeps me posted on happenings at Bridge-of-Weir. When I heard of the death of Mr. Douglas, I felt as though I had lost a very dear friend. I am sure that everyone who ever knew him felt the same. One cannot but marvel at the way the Orphan Homes and other institutions have been kept going during those years of great financial stress, and we have good cause to praise

Him who is author of it all. You will find enclosed a small gift to the Orphan Homes, my first, but I sincerely hope not my last. Anything I give to your good cause will be only paying off my debt to the Orphan Homes for the four years I was there—four years that I will never forget. I was glad to see by your letter that the children all enjoyed themselves at the distribution of the Christmas gifts, as I can well remember the excitement of looking forward to it myself, a wonderful day when it came. I wish you great success in your work, and feel confident that we can look forward to great and better achievements in the Lord's work at Bridge-of-Weir.

The sender of an Inverness Sunday school donation has enclosed along with it his own cheque for five pounds, saying, "I am interested in a family here that have all been brought up in your Homes, and they are a credit to the Homes and show the fruits of excellent training. The two that are here are in a good home, and the other two are getting on well, and one can only pray that your large family as they leave may go in the same spirit as these." Deuteronomy xxxi. 6, "He will not fail thee," is the text accompanying £3, "a thankoffering in gratitude to God for employment." Five dollars have come from Saskatoon; 20s. from Cape Colony; 10s. from Natal; 15 dollars from an honoured servant of the Lord's mission people in Montreal; five guineas, "being half of honorarium received for services rendered in Renfrewshire by one who prefers to remain anonymous"; £10 from Airdrie; £5 13s. 6d., "being result of the Christmas collection taken by the children of the Sunday school on behalf of your Homes," from Upper Tooting, London; 4s., "a thankoffering to God for sparing me after a time of much weakness," from a Dundee helper; £2, "a thankoffering for many mercies, from Bluebell in Australia"; and £2 10s., proceeds of a lecture given in Maybole by a very old friend and helper in the work.

Ten pounds from a friend in Antrim "should have been before Christmas, but better late than never." Five pounds is "for our little orphan"; 20s., a mother's thankoffering for answered prayer; £2 "in loving memory"; one guinea, for the Sanatoria, in memory of the donor's sister; 45s. being "20s. for Feb., 1923, and 20s. for Feb., 1922, with 5s. as interest which I feel I ought to add, owing to me not sending my donation last year"; £25, a thankoffering from Motherwell; £30 from our frequent helper in Washington, D.C.; and £10, "being the collection from 'friends in Strathblane and elsewhere,' made for so many years by my mother." Five legacies ranging in amount from £54 13s. 9d. to £1,300 have been paid into our exchequer during the month.

Work has recently been commenced on a big scheme of additions and alterations at the seaside homes, Torr Aluinn and Hoop House, Dunoon: We hope these will be completed in time to allow the children and staff to enjoy the improved accommodation during the summer holidays.

Reservation has been made on the Anchor-Donaldson liner Cassandra, billed to sail on 28th March, for a party of young emigrants, the first selection of whom has already been completed. We have cabled our Canadian superintendent, Mr. C. A. Winters, B.A., to come over at once to act as their escort on the journey.

MARCH, 1923.—On the donation list this month we note 7s. from the mother of three boys in the Ashgrove Home; £15 19s., "proceeds of two concerts given by the S.S. children assisted by the Girls' Auxiliary" of a North Berwick church; two guineas from a lady interested in one of the senior boys; 10s. from West Hartlepool; £5, "thankoffering" from Liverpool; 5s. for the Homes with 1s. for the Colony of Mercy from an old helper in Dundee; other 5s., "from an old joiner, with best wishes for the success of the work"; 10s. from Orkney; £1 from a Sunday school in Dornoch; £1 10s. 5d. per the secretary of Dr. Barnardo's Homes from a gentleman in Victoria, Australia; 10s., "a little Easter offering for benefits not forgotten"; ten guineas from a baker in Parkhead; £7 from another in Milnathort; and 10s., "a small thankoffering for a bonny baby girl for the little ones who have no loving mothers to care for them" from an occasional contributor in Paisley.

Other ten shillings have been contributed by a family who "had the joy of seeing the Homes last August and were delighted with all we saw." Five shillings sent anonymously through the Y.W.C.A. at Newburgh-on-Tay, was collected by a little girl of seven years. With £1 is a note from a small boy in Paisley to say, "I am sending you some money for your children. Thank you for the Report. I am praying every day for you and all the children. God bless you all." A Govan mother has sent 10s., "just a small gift from three children"; and another in Dennistoun, 5s., "from my little boy James" who "is greatly interested in the Orphan Homes since he was seeing them."

An older friend's letter reads, "This is the anniversary of my little grand-daughter's death. Instead of putting a wreath on her grave I am enclosing £1 for you to use for the baby portion of your large family." Other gifts of remembrance are 10s. 6d., "money we found in a purse belonging to our dear mother"; £2, "In loving remembrance" from Hawick; and £1, "In loving memory of our dear aunt for the great work in which she was so interested."

In addition to the ordinary services during March, a week's special meetings were conducted in the church from 18th to 23rd inst. by Mr. John Stewart of the Glasgow United Evangelistic Association. His quiet, winning way with young folk has endeared him to our children, many of whom were led to make their great decision to follow Jesus by the simple illustrated talks upon the old familiar Gospel story. We wish it were possible for more of our friends to worship with us at either of the Sunday or Wednesday evening services. A Sabbath visitor has drawn a beautiful pen picture and given his impressions in the following cutting from the Glasgow Evening Times :—

CHURCH OF LITTLE LAMBS.

Out from Kilmacolm the going was good along the banks of the river Gryfe, for anglers were wont to use it, and suitable stiles have made the rough places plain. I had not as yet seen the church of the children to which I journeyed, but knew that any bend of the river now might reveal it.

Snowdrops gemmed the spring greenery on the opposite bank, and beyond, Highland cattle, lazily chewing the cud, looked like heaps of autumn leaves. The placid pools seeming asleep yet showed their movement by reflecting out of focus the tall trees. Forms of flying rooks were also mirrored with a blurr as they passed with clamorous caw to the near rookery. The sky over the whole horizon was the colour of a kittiwake's wing, and the mild air about me reverberated with the ecstatic song of two larks soaring and ever singing. Yet somehow I was sad, for the unhappiness and vulgarity of the world seemed to be emphasised in my mind by the sincerity and wholesome beauty of the surrounding scene. This moody contemplation was lifted by the sound of far-off bells, and soon I had the pleasure of seeing the church of my wanderings. It nestled in a valley with eighty buildings at its feet, and I knew in my heart that here was something greater than the world.

Ne'er saw I, never felt, a calm so deep !
The river glideth at his own sweet will ;
Dear God ! the very houses seem asleep."

As I approached, another peal of bells went forth, and immediately that mighty heart was seen to be pulsating with life. From all quarters of the little city streams of children could be seen walking in double file and concentrating on the church. Moving in a mosaic of colour, for no two were dressed alike, these lambs from weather-beaten flocks made a brave display. As they passed I saw the radiant faces shine, and with what quiet and searching eyes they looked me through and through. I entered the beautiful building in time to see them filing in with orderly and unhurrying haste ; and soon their young voices rose in the sweetest music surely that a man whose days are short can listen to in this world.

The closing hymn fell on my heart like a benediction. The children knew it well, and believed it, as God's angels know. The tuneful appeal of their innocent voices roped me in with the cords of their love, so that, though brokenly, I also sang—

Jesus, tender shepherd, hear me,
Bless Thy little lambs to-night.

A Bank of England five pound note has travelled all the way from Hankow, China, in a letter which says, "Do not trouble to acknowledge this. You do not know me, but I have known of your work for a very long time and have often intended to send you a donation but have never done so directly before." With £20 for the general fund has come £10 for missions from Thurso. On the same day there was handed in at the City Home, £25 from a Parkhead man, and £1 from the girls of an old friend's Bible class. The largest of the month's legacies, amounting to £360, is to be equally divided between the Homes and the Sanatoria ; whilst another of about £200 is from the estate of a good friend whose wife was the means of raising money to build one of the boys' homes in the village. On 19th inst., a gift of £500 was received to name a bed in the home for invalid boys, which some of our friends may not be aware was built by a lady many years ago as a birthday thank-offering for her husband.

Amongst a varied assortment of useful gifts in kind are 227 articles of clothing, 12 pairs slippers, 19 hats, ribbon, etc., from Largs ; a quantity of forks and spoons from a Glasgow firm ; a welcome contribution of stock from a Kilmarneck draper ; two consignments of sausages from a Lanarkshire butcher ; a used sofa with £5 in cash to cover the repair of it ; 549 yards of tweed, wincey, etc., and 6 pairs of sheets from Fife ; and 100 copies of the much blessed Traveller's Guide for enclosure with the outfits of boys emigrating.

Canada has figured very largely in our village life these days. Early in March Mr. Winters arrived in our midst with much of good to tell about our greater family beyond the Atlantic. He himself is a born Canadian, who has done splendid service for our boys and girls during the fourteen years since he joined the work ; but this is his first visit to Scotland. He has been afforded ample opportunity to breathe the atmosphere of the Orphan Homes and get acquainted with his fellow-workers, and the details of our organisation at this end. According to his own statement, he will return to Fairknowe with a new vision and fresh inspiration for his responsible task, which he will be better equipped than ever to understand. During every day of his three weeks' stay in this country, preparations of all sorts have been in progress for the fledging forth of another brood across the sea.

On Saturday evening, 24th inst., the Canadian party were entertained to tea in the Central Hall. Three days later followed the impressive, and for them, never-to-be-forgotten valedictory meeting in the church. Next day the whole family gathered on Faith Avenue to wave them good-bye as they left for the city to join the Cassandra at Prince's Dock. Leaving Glasgow at 5.20 p.m., we accompanied them to the Tail of the Bank, where we shook hands with Mr. Winters and the boys, and took our places in the tender which swiftly bore us from them. Prayerfully commending them to our Heavenly Father's care, as the big ship disappeared into the darkness, we could dimly see the white of their fluttering handkerchiefs and hear their lusty cheers. God bless the lads and bear them safely through the longer voyage of their lives.

APRIL, 1923.—To an expectant village on 9th inst. our church bell rang out the good news that the Cassandra had reached Halifax the previous day. Later on a cablegram from Mr. Winters announced the Canadian party's safe arrival at Fairknowe, where a few very happy days were spent together before the boys could be placed out in their new Ontario farm homes. They have been much in our prayers during these first days amid new and strange surroundings.

To help us "carry on" at home a friend in Toronto has sent 15 dollars ; another in Victoria, B.C., 10 dollars ; our old friend "Inasmuch," 50s. ; a Dublin helper, £2 ; another in Blairmore, 2s. 6d. ; two friends in Sheffield, £1 ; one in Hongkong, £2 ; a Greenock lady, ten guineas ; an Edinburgh work party, £20 ; a couple in South Australia, £30 ; and a frequent helper in Arbroath, £1 10s. Our readers will rejoice with us at the following story told by a missionary brother in Spain, enclosing ten shillings from a new helper :—

It is a gift from one of our members. Having heard me refer often to the great work you are doing and how it commenced, he and his wife thought they would like to add their little mite to help on the good work. Let me say this dear brother has been a hard-working coal-heaver. About a year ago, he and his dear cripple wife covenanted to give to the Lord a certain portion of all his earnings. The result was the other night they handed me 75 pesetas to be distributed as they directed me. Before his conversion this man was absolutely "down and out" with drink and vice and could neither read nor write. He has been such a faithful soul and splendid soul-winner and God has honoured him. He can now read and is learning to write. Lately he was appointed to the Bible Depot and is doing splendidly.

Sometime ago we received a letter which opened with the question, "May we be married in the Homes church?" Of course we agreed at once, for it pleased us very much that she should wish it, and what more appropriate place could the writer have chosen than the one in which, since childhood, she had so often worshipped, and with which every member of her family has been so closely associated. So, during the first half of April, not only our good neighbours, but we also have been busy with preparations for the wedding of our honorary treasurer's younger daughter, the Hon. Janet Maclay and Mr. John Hampden Inskip of Bristol, for all of us, boys and girls and workers, have been invited to attend.

One press notice reads, "Beautiful but simple were the floral decorations of the edifice. Blue and pink hydrangeas amongst ferns and spiræa were backed by tall palms and arum lilies below the organ pipes, and in the side windows pots of flowering plants. Seats were reserved in the front of the church for the guests, while the children of the Orphan Homes occupied the side gallery and the remaining part of the area." None of those privileged to be present there on 18th inst. will ever forget the sight. How happy it has made all our bairns, but to the girls especially it has been a treat unspeakable. The Glasgow Evening News has entitled the following report of the proceedings—"The Smiling Bride"—

Happy, they say, is the bride the sun shines on, but happier surely is the marriage when the bride makes her own sunshine and radiates it around her. Once upon a time yesterday's bride, Janet Maclay, having taken part in a Christian conference in Pekin, lectured upon her experiences throughout the country, and it was then an old Highlandman paid her, according to the Moderator, the Very Rev. Donald Fraser,

CHEERING THE DEPARTING BRIDE AND GROOM.

D.D., a pretty compliment. "I was too deaf to hear what she said, but her smile was like a benediction."

So the bride held her head high and smiled gaily when she entered the church of Quarrier's Home, the Town of Faith, in her white crepe perle garments with her train of lace mounted on white chiffon, and carried by two kilted lads, who bore the train-bearers' office with a due sense of dignity and responsibility. Under her filmy veil with her coronal of orange blossom, she looked so fair and sweet that the children—one thousand of them—could only hold their breath in wonder. The little girls, the maids in "Betty" blue, with the floating tinsel and gold of their head-dress and the pink of the tulips they carried, completed such a beautiful picture as they had only dreamed of hitherto.

A SWEET AND SIMPLE SERVICE.

The organ played the music of Wagner and Mendelssohn. Fashionable guests whose motor-cars had flashed along the country roads, just like the automobiles in a cinema story, "simply eating up that winding ribbon of road," brought their perfumes, their silks, their cinnamon voiles and rose-pink velvets and French grey georgettes, their feathers and the flowers, into the church of which boys and girls, scattered throughout the world, carry memories so dear. In the galleries the children thronged, with their heads close-cropped or under creamy hats of straw that nodded like the daffodils. All eagerly they listened while the Moderator, in his gown of silk and ruffles of lace, spoke the magic words and threw wide the gates of wedlock for a happy pair to enter in, while the Bishop, in gowns of white and scarlet silk over his purple robe, a gorgeous figure such as they had never seen before, and Pastor Findlay, so familiar as a friend of the bairns, added their quota to the service. And sweetest, homeliest of all was the pealing of the organ and the young voices raised in "Wiltshire" and in "French," more beautiful than all your modern anthems—"The Lord's My Shepherd" and "I to the Hills," fit music for a Scottish bride.

ALONG THE FLOWERY PATH.

While signing and congratulations took the bridal group into the vestry the children hurried out, and it was no longer dull and grey along the avenue to the church. There in deep rows they marshalled nine and twenty from every home, laddies and lassies, and little ones all in their Sunday braws, the boys with daffies in their button-holes, and everyone with a Union Jack, a Lion Standard, an Imperial flag to wave in welcome of the newly wed.

Down the aisle of the church the young couple had passed over a carpet of rose petals and daffodils, and now their journey between beds of human blossoms bordering the path like flowers, a loyal, loving guard of honour that made the heavens ring with the joyous greetings. It was cold and an east-wind blew, but young Mrs. Inskip and her husband faced it all in an open car, a fairy robe of ermine enwrapping the bridal finery, and orange flowers and tulle like a halo round her head, and her smile all warm and sunny as they passed along.

The guests drove away to Duchal, the home of Lord and Lady Maclay, and on the lawn where the daffodils danced in the April wind, a great marquee was erected for their entertainment. Meantime the hundreds of little guests at Quarrier's were not forgotten. A special tea was served in every cottage home, and in the evening, joy of joys! there were "pictures," grave and gay, displayed upon the cinematograph. And in this way did the smiling bride make the sun of happiness to shine for her small friends upon her wedding day.

Two pounds is to hand "from two servants" in Edinburgh. "We are always cheered," they tell us, "by the Report. Although we cannot give much we can pray and praise God from whom all blessings flow." Another helper in Peebles writes, "I see by the Report that our Heavenly Father supplies your every need. How could it be otherwise? 'He that spared not His own Son, how shall He not with Him also freely give us all things?'" One of our boys, now grown to manhood and settled in his own home near Ottawa, has sent two guineas and news of his two sisters whom also we emigrated. "The gift is small but the heart is willing" is his remark. The largest amounts received during April are £150 to help with outfits of boys and girls placed in situations in this country; £40 from a regular donor in Glasgow; £30 from a Kilmacolm friend; £20 for the Homes, with £5 each for the Sanatoria and the Colony from another; and £100 cheque left by one, calling to say good-bye before leaving the same place where his wife and he have been living for some months. But ten shillings, which we have put to the Colony funds, brought special joy, as the donor says, "For eight years I have been an epileptic, and now God has used your Dr. Crocket as a means of restoring my health."

The other chief item of interest on the calendar was the handing over on 27th April of our first seaside home, Benthead, Ardnadam, to its new owner. The old place is surrounded with many happy memories and has done great service for the past thirty years, but it is now in need of extensive repairs, and we feel a wiser way of spending the money is to enlarge and improve the accommodation at Torr Aluinn and Hoop House, thereby centralising the holiday arrangements.

MAY, 1923.—The note accompanying a gift from two friends in Edinburgh reads, "You will be arranging now a little holiday for your large family, and we have much pleasure in enclosing herewith £10 just to lend a helping hand." Another says, "It is laid on my heart to give the little offering to the Master's work. I have been waiting on guidance in the disposal, therefore I have enclosed the sum of £2 10s. and I shall follow it with prayer that God may abundantly bless the splendid work you carry on." The sender of a cheque for £12 from the boys and girls attending a Sunday school on one of the Orkney Islands, tells of the recent passing of an aged helper of long standing. This testimony is borne concerning our departed friend, "He was only a poor man materially but rich in wisdom and knowledge spiritually and in Christian experience and faith and good works. The isle is poorer without him. He remembered in prayer every day your Homes and work." Thank God for the inestimable service of all such "helpers together by prayer for us."

One of our "mothers" has passed on "a small donation from five working girls who were richly blessed while seeing through the Homes on Saturday." An Edinburgh Parish Sister who came sometime ago to visit two children writes, "I was so delighted with the Homes, that I tried to get a donation for them. It is just a mite (15s.) from our mothers' meeting." Having heard one of the teachers tell the life-story of the beloved founder and been helped by it, a friend in the North asks us to accept his gift of one pound for the work. The following is from the letter of a Glasgow minister who took the services here for the first time on a recent Sunday:—

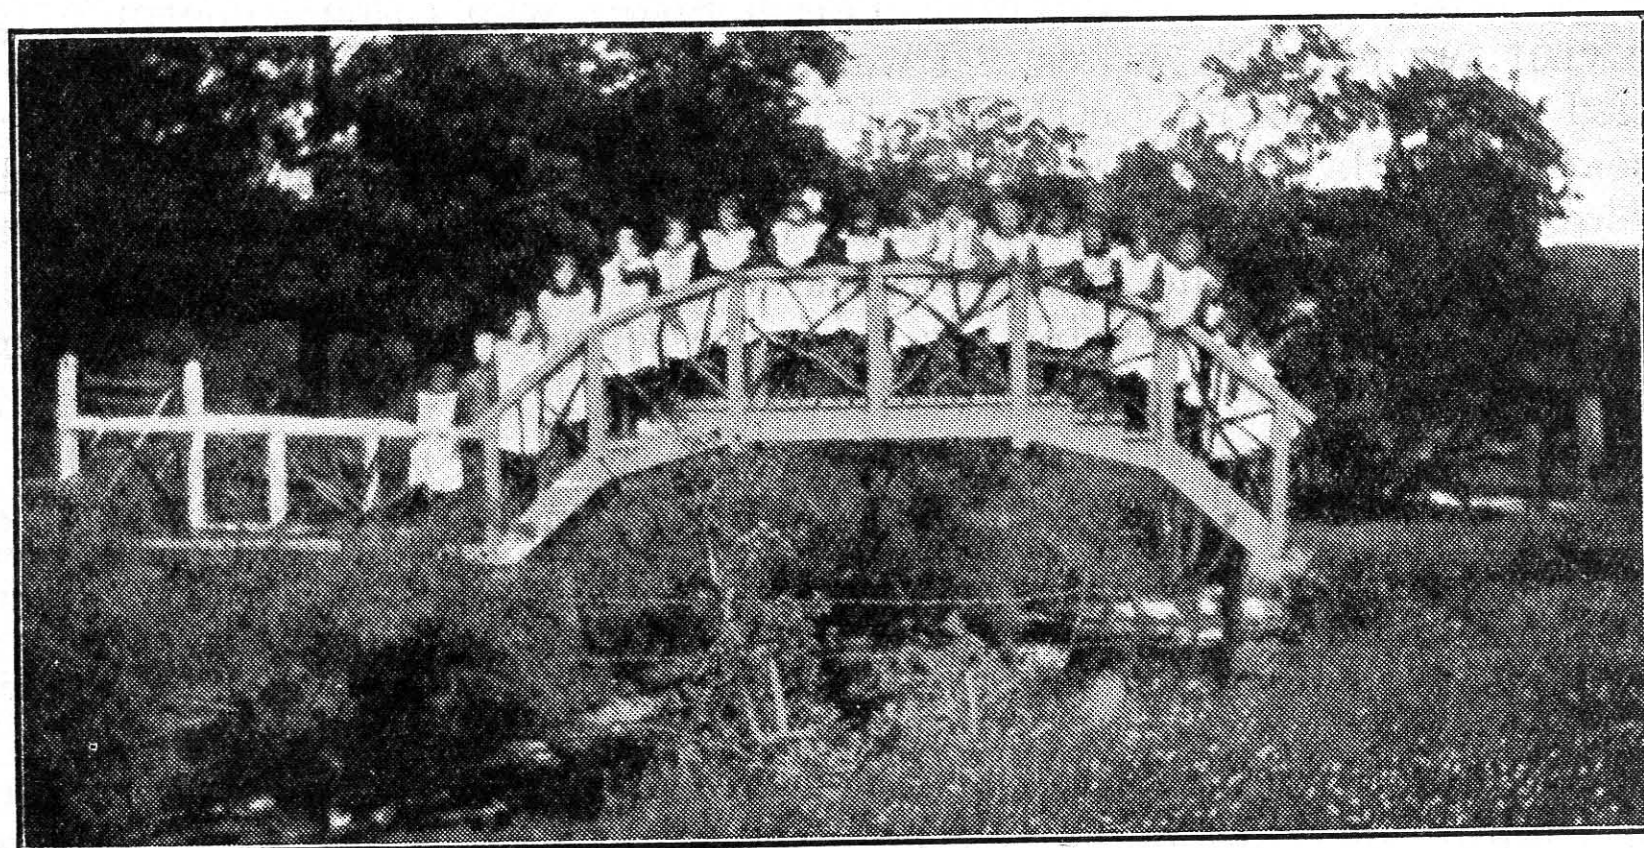

Sabbath was a red-letter day in my experience: every minute of it was full of the rarest pleasure. May the blessing of the God of the fatherless and of the Saviour who loved the little children abundantly rest upon the Homes, upon the workers, the inmates, and your own household. You will kindly accept this "mite" from a grateful soul who learned much. Do what you like with it; but if you have no objection, I would like you to spend it somehow among the sunbeams in the Elise Hospital.

One hundred dollars has been forwarded by a lady, in a letter dated on Empire Day in London explaining that she "has been sent a small legacy in memory of a devoted friend," and that "she would like it applied towards emigration of boys to Canada." A lady in Alexandria writes, "I have much pleasure in enclosing order for £100 for the Homes. I remember many years ago visiting them and never forgot what a delightful Saturday afternoon I spent. It was in connection with the Sabbath School Union I was there." This year's contribution from the secretary of the S.N.S.S. Union has amounted to £20 10s. 6d. and will, as usual, be added to the money already on hand from the same source towards erecting a companion to the already existing Sabbath School Home. Another six-monthly donation of £150 is to hand for the Oswald Home. A Glasgow friend has given £100; and the month's largest legacy of £500 is for the Colony of Mercy.

Among the other gifts to hand during May, £2 10s. has come from Northern Nigeria; 5s. from a Cardiff minister; 10s. 6d. and £1 13s. from four friends in Natal; 5s. from Bray, Co. Dublin; £5, a memorial gift from Dundee; £10, another of the same, from an old friend in Grangemouth; 10s. from a grateful girl; £10 from Cheshire; a guinea from Sheffield; two guineas from Sussex; 10 dollars from Saskatoon; 20s., a birthday thankoffering; £4 from a man in New Zealand; £1

"from a reader of The Evening Times"; £1 "in memory of mother"; £10 for the Homes with £5 for the Sanatoria from a regular donor in Milngavie; £5 from a "sympathiser" in Giffnock; £4 from a lady in St. Andrews, who is interested in one of the boys; £5 per another in the same place, also interested in a brother and sister in the Homes; and £1 from a mother in Irvine who says, "This is my little baby's birthday come round again."

JUNE, 1923.—In a long letter from one of our old girls, enclosing £1, are these sentences, "Oh how great the work has grown and not one of us big family has been asked to return a penny. But a good many of us older ones remember that the old friends are still faithful at the post of duty helping the younger generations along, and so we still ask you to accept our mite towards the little ones. Never once do we see the Homes appealing. So we have learned that He who has kept will keep." Another pound has come in a letter from another of our girls who, along with her sister, emigrated to New Zealand some months ago. She says, "I noticed there were two boys from the Homes on the boat. I met their sister at Wellington, who was in the same cottage with us. I suppose the children are looking forward to their holiday at Torr Aluinn again. I often think about the good old times we had at Bridge-of-Weir.

Among other gifts are seven guineas from "Friends in and around Kinross"; 25 shirts from one in Aberdeen who often helps in this way; £2 from one of the teachers; £8 and later in the month other £6 from a friend in Alnwick; £1 11s. 6d. from a Stornoway Sunday school; £4 from another in North Berwick "the result of sixpenny contributions by the scholars"; 5s., "In memory of my dear father," from Greenock; £2 anonymously under the London postmark; £5 similarly from Ayr; £5 from Jedburgh; 4s. from Stranraer; 20s., "In memory of my beloved mother," from Belfast; 10s. from a Sunday school in Orkney; 18 pairs of boots and shoes from an anonymous helper; 14 articles of clothing from Stromness; a large quantity of cod and 50 boxes of kippered herring from our old friend "Fellowship"; and a short note anonymously from Greenock to say, "The enclosed £2 is for an invalid boy or girl as you know best, in gratitude to God for kindnesses received."

An old friend forwarding £2 from his neighbour, now 86 years of age and the last of her family, who many years ago gave one of the boys' Homes, reminds us that "It is a very long time since we looked each other in the face, but there has not been a day during these nine months that I have not remembered you and all your fellow-workers." Another in Perth says, "You will be thinking that I have forgotten all about the Homes, but that is not so. I have been out of steady employment since November, but I thank my Heavenly Father for supplying all my wants and something over. Enclosed you will find £1 to assist you in your work."

Of larger sums received, £40 is the gift of a Glasgow physician; £18 1s. 9d. of ladies connected with a church in Hongkong; £42 17s. of someone in Blairgowrie; £50 of a Newlands friend who says, "You do not ask for money, but I presume it will be always welcome"; and a like amount of one who asks us to "kindly accept the enclosed certificate for £50 to be used as you think fit." Twenty-five pounds of a cheque for £100 has again been earmarked for the children of sailors and soldiers. The donor refers to the report as being "of such wonderful interest in the way you and yours have been led to care for the little ones and bring them up not merely to be useful social assets, but in the nurture and admonition of the Lord," and adds, "one may be sure He will honour His own promises." Seven legacies ranging in amount from £1 8s. 4d. to £1,500 have been paid during the month and a friend in Fraserburgh has written, "I am sending a bank draft for £25 on behalf of the Homes. I had intended leaving it a legacy in my will, but send it now instead with best wishes."

At noon, on 26th inst., the School closed for the long summer vacation, and two days later the first party of boys, to the number of 270, were safely transported by train and steamer to begin their holidays by the seaside at Dunoon. It has required a good deal of pushing to have the place ready for occupation in time, and there will be men at work outside for several weeks yet, but everyone is delighted with all the additions and improvements. The dining-room has been made double its original size, with well-equipped scullery and bread store adjoining. Sleeping accommodation for both children and staff has been extended. The greatly increased water storage has enabled us to provide much needed lavatories at both houses and conveniences on the beach. Withal the appearance of the building has been decidedly enhanced by the addition.

On the day following the departure of the boys to the coast, between five and six in the evening, fire was observed on the roof of the women's block of the Colony of Mercy. The alarm was promptly given and first aid at once applied, but, unfortunately, half of the male members of the staff were on duty at the seaside homes and a number of the remainder on holiday. Thus handicapped, we had to call in outside help, but owing to the fire having got a strong hold before becoming visible, and the high wind blowing, the building was soon completely at the mercy of the flames. We are unspeakably thankful that all the patients escaped unhurt, and within an hour or two were safely housed in a vacant cottage in the Homes.

JULY, 1923.—The insurance company have been very generous in their settlement, and already the Lord is touching the hearts of His stewards in view of this unforeseen extraordinary expenditure. A Glasgow lady sending her usual annual donation of £3 has added £1 "to help with the rebuilding necessary after the fire," and another to her yearly memorial gift of £5 says, "I want to add £5 to go towards the cost of restoration of the house in the Colony of Mercy recently damaged by fire." The donor of £50 is one of many others who have kindly expressed their sympathy in the loss and inconvenience caused by the fire. From Perthshire, enclosing cheque for £44 14s. 6d., another friend writes, "I heard that some of your buildings were destroyed by fire; if such is the case and you intend to rebuild, I have enclosed a cheque. You can either use it for rebuilding or for your orphans."

While our village boys have been holidaying at Dunoon, the lads from the City Home have been camping out for the week of Glasgow Fair at Tarbert, Loch Fyne, where, by the courtesy of the School Management Committee, they had the use of the local school for cooking and dining. In spite of unfavourable weather, which reached the climax of inclemency on the last night of their stay, they all benefited by the change and are grateful to those whose gifts have helped provide this annual outing.

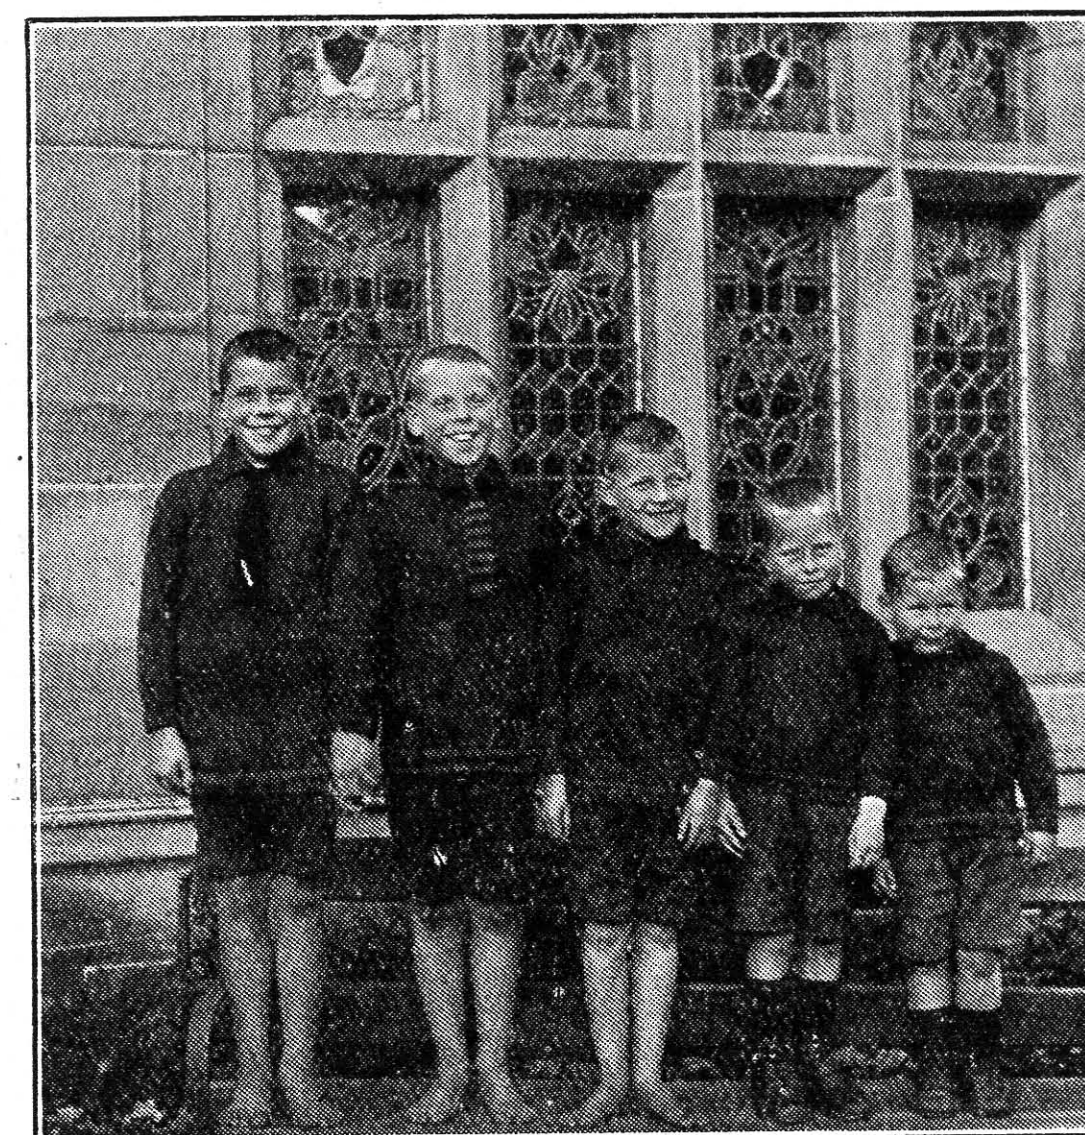

One pound from Alyth, 10s. from our old helper "Cable," St. Andrews, 3s. 6d. from Selkirk, and £4 3s. from a few of the girls employed in the wareroom of a Border hosiery factory, are among the gifts towards the holiday fund. To the general fund someone in Stronsay has contributed 4s. 1d.; six gentlemen in Winnipeg, 6 dollars in return for perusal of a famous Glasgow journal lent them by an old friend, who often forwards small sums gathered from those he meets and interests in the work; a Sydney friend, £5; another in Bangor, Co. Down, £2; a branch of the Y.W.C.A., 20s. for the Sanatoria; an old age pensioner, 5s.; visitors at the Dumbartonshire Home, 31s.; ladies in New Zealand, £3; a couple in Adelaide, South Australia, £1; a Fifeshire farmer, £100; one of our girls in a situation in this country, 10s.; two sisters, £1; a fourth, £2; and two others, 10s. each. Letters from the last two are as follows:—

I must apologise for being so long in answering your ever welcome New Year Letter with all the news that interests us so much. Time seems to pass so quickly, each day bringing fresh things for itself to think about. Although I am sometimes long in writing, I always remember you all in my prayers, as I know and feel it is my duty to do so for the friends who have been our support for almost seven years now and who still are bringing up my little brother. I had two very nice letters from him lately. I have met quite a number of girls I knew at Bridge-of-Weir, and our conversation always is about the happy days we had there that will never come back, which we sometimes feel we did not appreciate half enough. I hope you are all well. The children will be enjoying their holidays, more especially at the coast. I am enjoying the blessing of health and liking my work very well. I am fifteen months in this place now. Miss Quarrier, I send this as a little help in remembrance for my dear little sister who is now at rest in your own churchyard down there. Hoping to hear from you sometime soon, I remain one of your old girls.

I enclose 10s., part of my first month's wages, for all that you have done for me the last six years when I was under your care. I thank you very much for the beautiful box of clothes you gave me when I left. I am getting on all right and I like my work very much. My mistress paid my fees into the tennis club, so I get off every Saturday afternoon if it is convenient. I hope you are all keeping well.

A note from Dunoon, in a very shaky hand, reads, "An old single woman sends you 2s. Sorry the amount is so small." One hundred pounds from a gentleman in London has been divided into £20 for the Homes, and £40 each for the Sanatoria and the Colony. Twenty shillings for the Sanatoria from Oban is a memorial gift; so also £2 10s. "towards maintenance of a little boy"; 10s., "our little love gift in memory of our little daughter," from London; £1,551 13s. 8d., the month's largest legacy; £5, the smallest; 30s. from two friends visiting at the seaside home; 30 dollars from one of our Canadian boys; and £20 for the emigration fund, from a member of the Central Exchange Labour Committee, whose experience in that connection has impressed upon him the value of this branch of our work. In forwarding a donation from her niece, one of the "mothers" writes, "It is 20 years to-day since I came to interview Mr. Quarrier. My happiest days have been spent in working for the children and sowing the seed in the field God gave me. The harvest is with Him." So too, some day, it will be the Master Himself who will say to those who have devoted their lives to the service of His little ones here, "Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

AUGUST, 1923.—From the donation list we pass on as being of special interest to our readers, 10s. from one of our girls "to help the holidays"; £100, "In memory of my mother and elder son"; £10 collected from friends in Largs; 5s. from another of our girls recently placed out; 30s. from Bournemouth with the instruction, "Put the enclosed to your most needy object;" £1 from a friend in Durban who is just sailing for home; £1 from one visiting from Guelph, Ontario; 10s. under postmark of Aberdeen "from a lover of children"; other 10s. per an old friend in Airdrie; £2 from a lady in distant Vancouver; £22 12s. 6d. from

Campbeltown friends; £5 from a Greenock helper at present in Cape Town; 20s. from two friends in Valparaiso; 3s. 6d. out of a Huntly friend's mission box on his birthday; £2 from a bereaved helper in New Zealand; £25 from a Kilmacolm friend; a similar sum from another near Wemyss Bay; 10s. from one of our grown-up family; £1 from one in service near by; and 15s. from another. The Canadian mail brought the following from one of our overseas family:—

It really is something new for you to hear from me although I have often thought of you all, especially when the New Year's Letter comes, which I have been so glad to get each year since I came out to Canada in 1912. They make me lonesome when I read them, but I just say to myself, I'll visit them sometime, probably in a couple of more summers. I have a vivid memory of the Homes yet, such as school, park, church, and the cottage I was in. I am eighteen years old now, height 5 feet 4 inches, weight 135 pounds. Not bad! I have travelled around quite a bit since I came to Canada, and now am working in a town near Sudbury, in the best nickel mining district in the world. I have joined the girls' baseball team here and like the sport fine. I go to the Church of England and also to the Presbyterian Church occasionally. I was ransacking my drawers this afternoon and came across a couple of the letters, one dated 1914 and one 1920. I still have the book that was presented to me for progress and excellence in school work, 1911-12. Believe me, I prize it very dearly. I also have my New Testament. I have my writing case and button hook and little mending bag. I love everything I brought from there. I'll write oftener now, and will you please answer my letter?

Two anonymous letters have come to hand, one containing ten shillings and bearing the Glasgow postmark; the other, £300 four per cent. Victory Bonds "for Quarrier's Homes, wishing them great success." Of six legacies, one amounting to £200, is from the estate of a New Zealand friend. The sender of 30s., from a Springburn Sunday school, writes "We now wish to let the teachers and children see for themselves the good work carried on in the service of our Heavenly Master. We will be glad if you can make the necessary arrangements for us to be shown through the Homes." Visitors, coming singly or in parties, however large, are always welcome to our village, for no amount of telling about the Homes is to be compared with seeing them. We shall be obliged, however, if those responsible for larger than family parties will notify us of their approximate numbers and the hours of their arrival (which should not be later than 4 p.m.), so that we may have someone ready to show them around.

With the home-coming of the last party of girls from the coast, where they have been in two contingents during August, and the re-opening of school on 28th inst., holidays are at an end once more. They are indeed more fortunate than many in these trying times, and some good friends may think it unnecessary to take them from their sufficiently healthy surroundings at home. Their appearance, however, on returning from the seaside, the benefit to their health, and the psychological value of the outing are ample arguments for the extra care and cost entailed thereby. To those whose thoughtful gifts have made it possible we are deeply grateful. Nor will the children ever forget these happy holidays, a new feature of which this year were the picnics by motor-boat or charabanc to Castle Toward and elsewhere.

At the end of this month, a friend who desires to be anonymous, made a gift of £1,000 to name two beds in the Elise Hospital, "in memory of those who have left us."

SEPTEMBER, 1923.—The members of a church rambling club, who visited early in the month, would like their donation "to help with the the Christmas gifts for the children." Their secretary says, "As almost all were there for the first time, they will never forget it, and I hope it will impress them with a fuller understanding of His faithfulness." A Belfast friend who was with us on one of the children's great days has forwarded £1 with the remark, "I still recall with much happiness my New Year's Day when I had the privilege of being with you and seeing the children get their toys. This was one of the happiest sights I ever witnessed." A well-known Glasgow business gentleman has sent a cheque for £5, enclosing a copy of a friend's letter who has written from New Zealand, "You will remember when I was motoring back with you one afternoon, you pointed out the large buildings of an orphanage, which I understood from you was doing really splendid work. I have quite forgotten the name of the organization, and would be glad if you would kindly hand them a contribution of £5 on my behalf." May we not call this one of God's ways mysterious in which He moves, "His wonders to perform"?

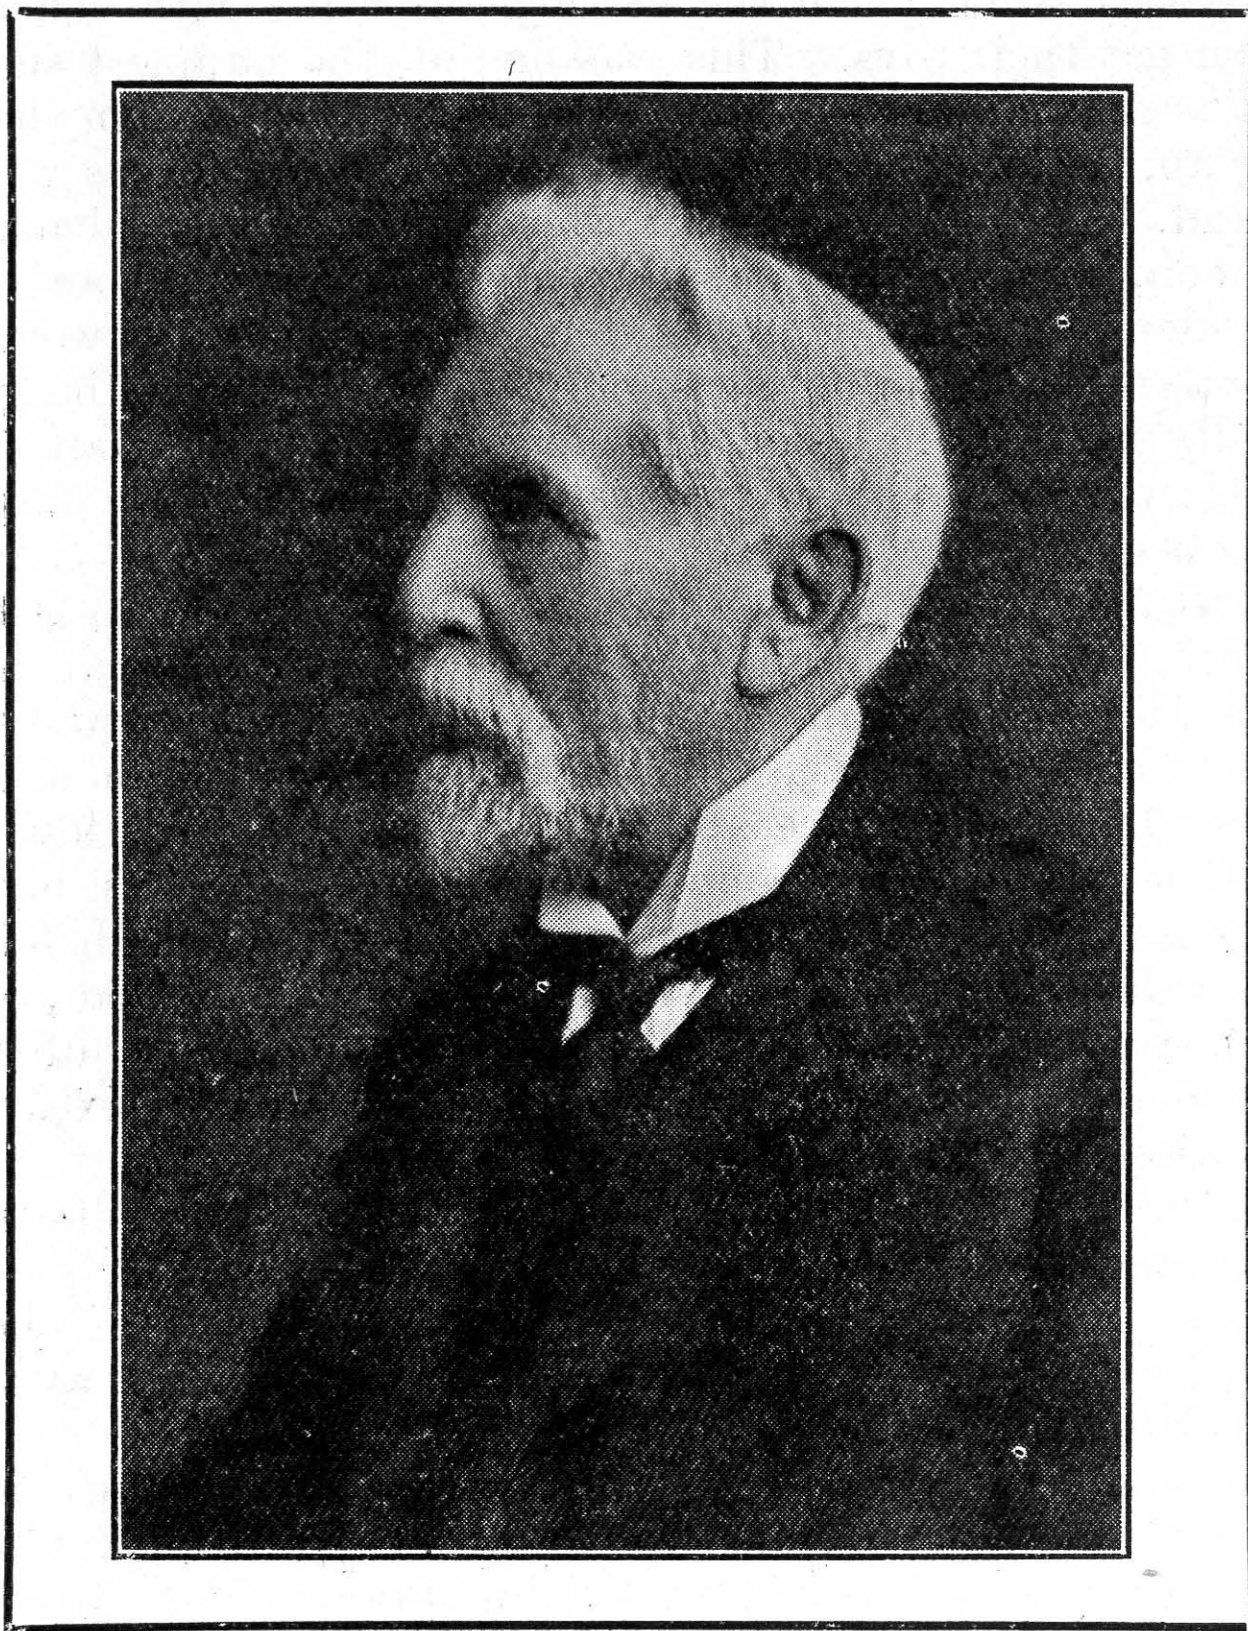

Another bank draft from New Zealand for £4 from two sisters brings the reference, "How thankful I am to have had the great privilege of visiting the Homes, and how often the memory of that visit has been an inspiration to me! What a joy it is for us to remember you and the work daily at the Throne of Grace and to think of His great love in caring for these little ones." Two pounds from Dunedin "is my birthday gift towards the general fund." Two other New Zealand friends left £5 when visiting the village one day, and a Women's Guild, £3 14s. 6d., on another. Several of our grown up family have remembered the needs of the present generation, one with 7s.; four others, with 10s. each; a sixth with 30s.; and a seventh with £1. An Edinburgh letter contained an order for twelve shillings, "being the contents of a purse I picked up six months ago, as I failed to find its owner"; and one from Denny, a cheque with the explanation, "A friend of my own and of your institution, who does not wish his name to be known, has handed me twenty pounds as a contribution to the Homes."

Ten shillings for the Colony of Mercy from Dumbarton is in memory of the donor's sister; £2, from Kent, "to help provide for the bairns, in memory of my own dear boy who fell in France"; 2s. from a regular helper, "for your Homes with love and prayer"; £3 for the general fund with £2 for the Colony of Mercy from Lanark; £50 from our friend in Washington, D.C.; £1 anonymously under postmark of Inverness; another £1 similarly "from a friend in Southend"; £1 from a lady who writes, "I am still a poor cripple 21 years now and have sat in a chair for nearly five years, but I still hope to walk yet"; £150 from "Teach us, Lord, how much we owe"; and some postage stamps with a note to say, "Please find enclosed 3s., a very small thing these days. Having reached the allotted span, unable to earn much more."

Contrary to expectation, owing to a number of considerations, it has been deemed advisable not to hold the biennial day of thanksgiving until next year, which will again cause it to fall in the even years as was the case prior to the war, the first having taken place as the formal opening of the Orphan Homes in September, 1878. Due intimation will be given later of the exact date fixed upon for Founder's and Thanksgiving Day, 1924. Most encouraging of many gifts of remembrance for the ninety-fourth anniversary of the beloved founder's birth is one of ten shillings, "a thankoffering for all that has been done for me in the Homes" from one of our own working girls in the village.

We have sustained great loss on two successive days this month, by the passing to higher service, first of our late devoted matron, Mrs. David M'Fadzean; and then of our much beloved and venerable trustee, Sir

SIR SAMUEL CHISHOLM, BART.

Samuel Chisholm. Suitable reference has already been made to these faithful servants of God in the opening paragraphs of this Report.

Mention has also been made of a legacy paid this month amounting to £22,729 6s. 4d., the largest single sum ever received since the work began and from one who must have thought well of it, though it was not known to us during his lifetime that he was even interested. We are humbled before God, and fully appreciating the responsibility of spending this great inheritance, pray for guidance to use it wisely for His glory.

OCTOBER, 1923.—Among the first gifts to hand this month was a cheque for one hundred pounds enclosed in the following letter from one who has long been a generous helper of the work:—

I noticed in the Glasgow Herald that you have lost one of your old faithful workers, and that this week she had been laid to her rest. And now you will be mourning the loss of an old and good friend, the late Sir Samuel Chisholm. What a splendid man he was! Not only the Orphan Homes will miss him, but that great community where he has lived and worked so long and where he was held with high regard and love. His good deeds will surely live long after his declining days and death. I am enclosing a cheque for £100, and am sending this small gift in memory of this fine gentleman who lived such a beautiful life and gave so much service for the good of his fellow-men.

MRS. M'FADZEAN.

Another memorial gift is five pounds towards the maintenance of their orphan, from "George's sisters," to which they have added twenty pounds for the general fund. £1 2s. 6d. has been passed on by one of our fellow-workers from his sister "from Mr. Quarrier's box" in memory of her husband; and £1 by a daughter of another saying, "To-day is mother's birthday and I feel I should like you to have her birthday gift." Two similar sums have been received, one marked "September 28th birthday in Memoriam," and the other, "In loving memory, 16th October, 1923."

The last-mentioned date is the twentieth anniversary of the beloved founder's home-going. The sceptical of his day, "wise in their own conceits," but ignorant of the ways of God, said that Mr. Quarrier's personality alone sustained the work and prophesied that it would become a vanishing quantity if he were gone. But his faith stretched far beyond the narrow span of his own lifetime and he could see the work, that was God's as well as his, carried on, though one worker, and he the founder, had been called to higher service. All through the interval that faith has never been disappointed, and at the close of this twentieth year, God has graciously beyond every previous record fulfilled His promise to be a Father of the fatherless.

To help swell the treasury three of our old girls have each sent 5s.; one of the workers, £2 10s.; a regular old helper in Arbroath, 30s.; someone in Sowerby Bridge, 2s. 6d.; another in Great Malvern, £7; a lady in Dunblane, £1 each for the Homes and the Colony of Mercy; "Wellwisher," £1; an unknown helper, £2 in an envelope bearing postmark of Annan; "In Christ," 7s. 2d.; a branch of the Y.W.C.A., £5 towards maintenance of our little Moorish girl; our Darlington friend, £10; one in Yoker, a postal order for 3s. 3d. with a stamp for reply; a couple in Vancouver, 10 dollars; a friend in Basutoland, £10 for the Sanatoria; one in Glasgow, a guinea, also for the Sanatoria, "as a thank-offering for great blessings my sister has received at your beautiful Sanatoria"; a lady interested in one of the boys, £4; the Thomas Porter Equipment Fund, £150 towards outfits; two of our fellow-workers, £1 each; and a faithful helper in Yorkshire, another £1, in spite of circumstances, for he says, "I am very sorry it is so small, but added to failing health, I lost the whole of my life savings in Farrow's Bank." The Master Himself will surely reward this brother and give him to know how "there is that scattereth, and yet increaseth."

Ten pounds for Missions with £5 for the children, "sent with a hearty good-will and prayer that the Lord's rich blessing may accompany it" is to be identified as "Tenth." A firm of lawyers in Dundee have paid into the Union Bank there £35 to our account on behalf of a client; and from Gartcosh has come £6, the proceeds of special collections at harvest thanksgiving services. As a result of two similar local services we have received contributions of fruit and flowers and vegetables for both patients in the Sanatoria and children in the Homes. Among other gifts "in kind" are a set of scales for use in the butcher's shop; 32 boxes of kippered herring; 56 lbs. sausages; several boards of teabread; and 3 cwts. of Barcelona nuts to help with the Hallowe'en festivities, which have been carried out according to ancient usage, supplemented by a modern cinematograph display on the evening of our autumn holiday, which falls due at this time.

Thus we have come to the end of another chapter of our Narrative, in which we have prayerfully sought to declare something of the Lord's dealings with His work in this place. Out of the multitude of gifts, detailed at the end of the report, selection has been made of such as seemed specially interesting. Quotations have also been given from some of our children's letters, by whose words of encouragement we have been helped to think lightly of disappointments naturally inseparable from such work as ours. May God richly bless this printed testimony to His providence. Our opening paragraph emphasised the wonder of a story which has grown still more marvellous as the days and months of another year have gone. Now we must close on a jubilant note of praise to Him whose name of old was called the Wonderful, and exclaim with the Psalmist, "O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt His name together."

THE CITY ORPHAN HOME.

FIFTY years have come and gone since the City Orphan Home was built. The neighbourhood of that day has changed considerably. Many buildings of olden days are close at hand, but with these we are not concerned. We therefore turn from the busy thoroughfare into James Morrison Street where stands the Orphan Home and Mission Hall, a monument to the living faith and work of the beloved Founder, with its ever open door for the fatherless and orphan children, and to men and women of the district who still seek to find within the walls of our Mission Hall, grace and strength for the battle of life.

The consecrated men and women who laboured year in and year out for the children and the people round about them have gone, some to rest in the city of God, and others to different spheres of labour in this and other lands. Their memory is still fragrant, and it is in large measure due to their unselfish lives and consecrated services that God has been able to do such wondrous things these later days in the City Orphan Home. As of old, strange, sad, pathetic stories are still told and listened to, and help given where possible; tired, hungry, ill-clad children are still received with kindly welcome and taken upstairs to be bathed and fed and clothed before they are sent to Bridge-of-Weir, with laughing eyes and shining faces.

The Home is alive with young manhood; sixty bright, healthy lads of 15 years of age and upward are resident. They go out daily to work at various trades. At the end of their apprenticeship they betake themselves to lodgings and make their own way in life. A goodly number of these lads occupy positions of trust in the world to-day, a credit to themselves and to the Homes. Life is full of variety, and so is it with the lads in the Home. They have football, cricket, swimming, rambles in the open country, Fair holiday camp at some coast resort, night school and college classes, and last but not least, "family worship." The Silver Band, of which we are all so proud, renders fine service at open air and to many good causes throughout the city. All attend Sabbath morning service in Central U.F. Church and evening service in their own hall.

We now turn from the Home to the Mission Hall, and as one realizes all that God has done, we reverently yet gladly cry,

"O sing a new song to the Lord
For wonders He hath done."

Our Sabbath evening service is an impressive sight. Five hundred men and women (all sorts and conditions) are packed into our beautiful hall. The service begins at seven, but the queue of folks begins to form up at six o'clock, and at 6.45, standing room is not to be had. If space permitted, many wonderful stories of sins forgiven, lives made new, husbands and wives restored and reunited, could be told, sufficient to say God has indeed revealed Himself to many souls and richly blessed our evening service.

Every Tuesday afternoon our Women's Social Hour service is held, having a membership of four hundred, with an average attendance of three hundred, and some forty young children in the playroom. The happiest meeting of the week! Tired mothers, troubled about many things and finding it hard to make ends meet, there they are laughing and talking over their cup of tea. Solo singing and Gospel address follows. One fine woman regular attender, with no appearance of poverty, but who had been without a fire for two days, exclaimed as she went out, "I can face anything after this."

Our Young People's Christian Endeavour and Choir are a fine body and have been a source of inspiration and help in all our services.

We pass on to the Wednesday Evening service at 8 o'clock, with its attendance of over two hundred. We are able to get in touch with each other at this service, able to shake hands and say, How are you? Then we have the Boys' and Girls' Lantern Story on Thursday night, and with a crowd of five hundred Glasgow youngsters, there is some noise. It's a great night and every worker finds the "getting old" feeling knocked out of him, and when the hall is emptied and the door closed, the heart is full to overflowing for such opportunity of leading these young lives into the Saviour's keeping.

Full of hope and fraught with great possibilities is the Young Women's Bible Class, held every Sabbath at 5.30. Here are gathered service, shop, warehouse, mill girls, and it's fine to see how keen they are to know their Bibles and God's purposes for them.

I cannot close this short résumé without testifying to the splendid service and loyalty of all the workers.

WALTER YOUNG.

EMIGRATION WORK.

ANOTHER year in connection with the Orphan Homes of Scotland is ended, and it is my duty to contribute to the report on the activities in connection therewith something of interest in regard to the emigration phase of the work of the Homes.

As has been gathered from former reports, this important branch of our work has not yet recovered from the setback it received by the advent of the war. For various reasons, we are receiving in Canada fewer than one-third of the pre-war numbers. The parties are, in numbers, about one-half what they once were; we have had no girls' party since 1914.

Ontario still has much need for such help as these boys and girls can give; in fact, the applications for them are ever increasing. From the whole of our field comes the complaint that it is all but impossible to secure the desired help on the farm.

It is rather difficult to write an annual report on our work at Fairknowe. Nothing very new ever develops. Day by day we are dealing with human nature which, collectively, is more or less a constant quantity. One generation of boys have pretty much the same desires, ambitions, and virtues, or the reverse, as the preceding or the succeeding one. Each year we could refer to the many successes and to some apparent failures; to many encouragements and some disappointments. Year by year mention could be made of the excellent savings accounts; the splendid success at school and on the farm; on the same page complaint that some do not take advantage of the splendid opportunity afforded them. But though we cannot tabulate or even measure the degree of success, we are very positive that the work is well worth while. Not only are the young lives being given the much sought "chance" to succeed, but the countries concerned are being benefited.

And yet our lives are not being lived on one uninteresting level, for, though the unending sameness does prevail, there is also the variety of experience which comes from working for individuals, all of whom are quite different. Herein we come to learn our limitations and need for Divine counsel and wisdom. In proportion to our trusting and dependence have we been helped to meet the problem of the moment.

It was a happy privilege to have the inspiration derived from visiting the Homes and to conduct this year's party of boys to Canada. I am glad to be able to report that all these lads are happily placed, and for the most part, are doing very well indeed. One lad has saved $106 during his first seven months in Canada. I have visited these boys in their homes and hear from many of them frequently.

The visits to the children reveal this year, as in others, how God has guided in the selection of suitable homes. With such frequency as to be striking the peculiar need of a particular boy has been supplied in the home to which he has gone.

In concluding, I desire to record my appreciation of the faithful co-operation of co-workers at Fairknowe, which has contributed not a little to the measure of success we have to report for the year; also of the sympathetic interest and prayers of our friends.

HOME AND FOREIGN MISSIONS FUND.

THE income of this fund for the past year amounted to £1,474 4s. 8d.—£436 of which sum was given by the children and workers at the Homes in church-door offerings, while the larger portion was sent in as special ear-marked gifts for Foreign Missions. The ministry of this fund affords us much pleasure, and in it the children take a keen interest. No month passes without one or more missionaries visiting the village, and telling in the church some of their experiences in the Regions Beyond, and of the progress of the work of the Gospel in the spheres from which they come. Within recent days, such fields as France, Spain, Nigeria, Central Africa, Nyasaland, Egypt, Indian Lepers, Tibet, Bolivia, the Solomon Islands, the New Hebrides, and Jewish Missions have been represented, always by the living voice, but frequently also with the help of the electric lantern. By these and other means the children get a liberal missionary education, and have their sympathies drawn out towards their more needy brothers and sisters in distant lands.

One night every year is devoted to the important and interesting task of dividing up the year's offerings, and apportioning them amongst some thirty-six home and foreign missions. On that occasion some information is given regarding the origin and history of some of the missions to which gifts are sent, and afterwards letters in acknowledgment are read to the young donors.

We are in intimate touch with missionaries on most of the mission fields of the world, and have unique opportunities for knowing where special gifts can be advantageously placed, so that frequently it is our privilege to contribute towards the meeting of urgent needs, in a manner that brings great joy to the recipients, and certainly not less so to the donors. "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

As many of our friends are aware, we are responsible—through this fund—for the support of six missionaries; these are Mr. John Ritchie, of Lima, Peru, who works under the Evangelical Union of South America, and whose record for the past year has been one of abounding work and very considerable blessing; Mr. and Mrs. James H. Haldane, of Pernambuco, Brazil, who are associated with the same society, and who also have much to encourage in their faithful service; Mr. and Mrs. Cuthbert Nairn, of Marraksh, Morocco—of the Southern Morocco Mission—who for more than thirty years have been toiling at the hard task of undermining the black walls of Islam, with increasing signs of God's presence and blessing; and Miss Anna Ritchie, who has just arrived in China to labour in connection with the China Inland Mission.

May we again commend these, and all the other missionaries to whom our fund is privileged to contribute, to the earnest prayer and interest of all our missionary-hearted readers?

Matron—Miss TAYLOR.

During the year, work at the Sanatorium has gone on steadily. At no time has there been an empty bed. No waiting list has been kept, yet whenever any patient left, there were usually two or three ready to be admitted.

At the beginning of the year 159 patients were in residence, 71 males and 88 females. 197 patients were treated and discharged during the year, and 205 were admitted. There were three deaths during the year. At the end of the year 164 patients—74 males and 90 females, were in residence. Several outside sleeping shelters were built. This accounts for the increase in the number of patients in residence at the end of the year, as compared with the beginning.

Thirteen patients did not suffer from tuberculosis of the lungs. Most of those had tuberculosis of other regions—the spine, the skin, the abdomen, &c. One had cancer, another lymphadenoma, and another non-tuberculous scoliosis.

CONDITION ON ADMISSION AND RESULTS OF TREATMENT.

Of the 187 patients with pulmonary tuberculosis, 15.5 per cent. had the disease in the early stage, 36.8 per cent. in the intermediate stage, and 47.5 per cent. in the advanced stage. It is very sad that even to-day, when facilities for the diagnosis of the disease are greater than ever before, and the machinery for dealing with the condition is also very greatly improved, it is a rare thing to get a really early case of the disease. Advanced cases on admission are three times more common than early cases. The fault does not lie altogether with the doctors, or with the health authorities. The disease, insidious in its onset and progress, is not infrequently well advanced before its presence is suspected and advice is sought.

35.2 per cent. had the disease arrested, 39.5 per cent. were improved, 24 per cent. were not improved, and 1 per cent. died of the disease. It is interesting and instructive to note that these results were good in direct ratio to the stage of the disease on admission.

There were 29 early cases. 23 or 79.3 per cent. had the disease arrested, 3 or 10.3 per cent. were improved, and 3 or 10.3 per cent. did not improve.

There were 69 intermediate cases. 28 or 40.5 per cent. had the disease arrested, 30 or 43.4 per cent. were improved, and 11 or 15.9 per cent. did not improve.

There were 89 advanced cases. 15 or 16.8 per cent. had the disease arrested, 41 or 46 per cent. were improved, 31 or 34.8 per cent. did not improve, and 2 or 2.2 per cent. died of the disease in the Sanatorium.

Taking the totals together, it is very satisfactory to note that the percentage of those discharged with the disease arrested, is larger than in any previous year. At the same time the figures illustrate the fact that the most important period, from the point of view of cure, is the early stage of the disease. Then arrest is the rule. Progress of the disease and an unsatisfactory result are comparatively rare.

DURATION OF RESIDENCE.

There is no doubt that the good results obtained during the year were largely due to the prolonged periods that patients were kept in residence. The average period of stay of the patients discharged was 9.4 months. 26.7 per cent. were in residence for over a year. Tuberculosis, when it has advanced to that stage in which there has occurred breaking down of the lung tissue, is rarely benefited permanently by a brief period of residence. Rest is the one specific which we possess for tuberculosis. To allow scar tissue to form, a patient often requires to be kept in bed for 3, 6 or even 12 months, and to allow this scar tissue to become firm and safe, for a very long period the patient of necessity must be handled carefully, and permitted to exercise very gradually, and go forward by degrees.

COMPLICATIONS OF THE DISEASE AND FIRST SYMPTOMS.

Patients with pulmonary tuberculosis are usually below the average in resistance, and are subject to many complications and intercurrent affections. Chief among these demanding attention were:—Pleurisy (88 patients), laryngitis (67 patients), and indigestion (57 patients). A list of the other conditions which required to be dealt with is like an index to a medical text book, and is too long to be included in this report. It certainly points to the fact that a sanatorium physician is not permitted to forget his general medical work. Demands for help are numerous and very varied.

It has been of value to cull from the different case reports the first symptoms indicative of the presence of the disease shown by the patients. These were numerous, and indicate the necessity of suspecting the disease even when the symptom is not respiratory in character.

Cough, cold, or bronchitis, ...	83 Cases.	Enlarged glands of the neck, ...	6 Cases.
Malaise or lack of endurance, ...	32 "	Pneumonia or congestion of
Pleurisy or pains in the chest, ...	18 "	the lungs, ...	6 "

Influenzal symptoms, ...	12 "	Headaches and insomnia, ...	3 "
Loss of weight or inability to		Lupus, pyrexia, epistaxis,

Other cases followed on operations, miscarriage, pregnancy, measles, whooping cough and scarlet fever. These seemed to lower the resistance of the individuals affected, and make them more liable to infection by the tubercle bacillus.

HEREDITY AND ITS EFFECTS.

A family history of tuberculosis was elicited in 88 or 46 per cent. of the cases. In only 41 or 21.4 per cent. was this direct. In the remainder it was in collaterals—brothers, sisters, cousins, uncles, aunts, &c. The figures show how little reliance can be placed on heredity in the diagnosis of the disease. The majority of the patients gave no evidence of the disease having been present on either side. Our experience, for many years, has been that in those patients who have a direct family history of the disease, the disease appears to be more chronic in character and more amenable to therapeutic measures than in others. In other words, tuberculosis in parent often appears to endow the offspring with greater fighting capacity; the disease thrives with difficulty. When the soil is virgin, the sowing of the seed often produces a rapid and astonishingly large crop.

TREATMENT OF THE DISEASE.

In treating the condition the basic principles which through many generations have proved of value, have received the first place. Hyperaeration—this is practised as fully as our somewhat undependable climate will permit. Hyperalimentation—we do not stuff the patients as in the old days, but encourage them to eat up to the limit of their digestive capacities. The feeding of a consumptive is always difficult. We have been delightfully free from complaints about the food. Hydrotherapy—the patients have cold sprays or cold douches each morning. This does not a little, by producing a brisk reaction of the skin tissues, to enable them to enjoy the rigorous open-air measures in all weathers. As previously indicated, greater insistence has been put upon rest, particularly at the beginning of treatment. Previous to admission, most patients have been exercising too much, and many of their symptoms are due to auto-inoculation on account of this. No progress is ever witnessed until these symptoms are made to disappear, and the auto-inoculation of the toxins brought well under control.

Every year new cures are vaunted for the disease. Usually each of these has some value for a limited number of patients. None of the so-called cures have proved a specific for every case. It is doubtful whether anything will ever be discovered which will prove of value to all. Tuberculosis is a protean condition. Rarely is it found alone. Other organisms and complications hasten its progress and its destructive effects. The ability to re-act and resist differs greatly in individuals, and in the different tissues of the same individual. We have tried many of the new "cures." Not one is useless, and yet not one has cured any individual. Tuberculin has been used in no less than 128 of the cases. The effects have been good in 79.6 per cent. of these. They have been doubtful or not good in 20.3 per cent. We use bacillary emulsion tuberculin chiefly, and give that not only hypodermically but also orally, percutaneously and by spray. We have also used "Defatted" tuberculin vaccine, Koch's old tuberculin, &c.

Artificial pneumothorax treatment has been attempted on a large number of patients. As a rule the attempt was not successful on account of adhesions. In cases where collapse was possible, the effects were little short of marvellous. There is no doubt that this has come to stay, and one regrets that it is not of universal application.

Light treatment has been used much more than previously. Mr Quarrier, when planning the Sanatoria, purposed to institute sun baths. Unfortunately, the sun is fickle in its appearance, and undependable in regard to the intensity of its rays. Artificial sun treatment has been instituted. Several forms of lamps are in use daily. The results are excellent in skin lesions, laryngeal tuberculosis, abdominal disease, and in genito-urinary tuberculous conditions particularly.

Although we insist on absolute rest on admission to the Sanatorium, and during toxic exacerbations of the disease, as the patients improve, idleness is by no means encouraged. Patients who do well are required to walk gradually increasing distances. Before they are discharged, they usually are engaged for four hours each day in some form of outdoor work—gardening, poultry work, building particularly. This not only helps in the cure of the condition, it tests their efficiency and fits them for the duties of life on returning home. On admission, practically all were unfit for work of any kind. On discharge, 119 or 63.6 per cent. were apparently fit for work.

Our patients have, as usual, been drawn from every part of Scotland. We practically never admit any from across the border. Nearly every county is represented in the Sanatorium at the present time.

They belong to many classes—the professional, the labouring, the skilled tradesman. The only people apparently not represented are the leisured and the wealthy class. During the year we have dealt with teachers, students, clergymen, nurses, dentists and officers, and one member of Parliament, in addition to metal workers, clerks, factory workers, seamstresses, travellers, domestic workers, &c. Fourteen of the patients discharged were children of school age.

Our inclusive charge has been at the rate of 30s per week for children, and 45s per week for adults. No deserving case likely to benefit has been refused on financial grounds. It has been felt that in providing sanatorium treatment as has been done for that largely forgotten, but most needy part of the population, the respectable upper working class and the lower middle class—to whom expensive private institutions are impossible, and who could not, with pleasure, accept charitable or Government relief—the Sanatorium has been doing good work. It is practically the only institution in the country open to such.

The loyalty and co-operation of the patients, and of the staff of the Sanatorium during the year, have made the work light and pleasurable. New methods of treatment involving extra work, have in no case been considered a trouble, and in no instance have they been refused. The excellent, constant supervision of Miss Taylor, the Matron, has done much to secure the co-ordination and harmony which have made much of the success of the work possible.

COLONY OF MERCY FOR EPILEPTICS.

THE year 1923 will long be remembered in the Colony because of the partial destruction by fire of No. 2 building, the most beautiful of the houses. This naturally, to some degree, has hampered the work and reduced slightly the numbers. Fortunately it was possible for the occupants of the Colony to be accommodated in one of the cottages of the Orphan Homes of Scotland, or the disturbance of the work would have been infinitely greater.

At the beginning of the year, 102 patients were in residence—48 men, 25 women, 21 boys, and 8 girls. There were admitted during the year 41 patients, and 45 were discharged. Four patients—a man, a woman, a boy, and a girl—died during the year. At the close of the year 94 patients were in residence—49 men, 22 women, 16 boys, and 7 girls. Many of those discharged, unfortunately were discharged as unsuitable for the institution. Epilepsy is a borderland disease. Many of those affected are subject to periodical attacks of insanity. The Colony, run as it is much on the lines of a home, with no locked doors and no special hospital accommodation, is not suitable for such. For their own safety, and for the comfort and peace of the others, their removal has been necessary. Several of the patients were discharged with their fits apparently arrested.

In the treatment of the disease, reliance has been placed on no new methods of dealing with the condition. The etiology of the malady is obscure. Probably as a symptomatic manifestation it points to various lesions. The remedy therefore which proves effectual in one case, is without effect in another case. In those who have benefited most, probably good has accrued partly from the drugs or other chemio-therapeutic measures used, and partly from the regular open-air life of the Colony, with its freedom from excitement and worry. There is no doubt that the psychical effect of continuous employment is a beneficial one in cases of epilepsy. All our patients, if able for it, are required to attend school, or to work in the homes, at the laundry, or on the land. One finds that while employed thus, epileptic seizures are fewer, mental deterioration, so frequently characteristic of the condition, becomes less marked, or makes slower progress, and the physical condition of those under care, keeps more satisfactory. That work is best that interests the patient most. If possible, therefore, we endeavour to give the individual such work as he or she has been trained to do.

There were 18,616 epileptic seizures recorded during the year, of these 6,278 were major fits; 12,338 were minor fits. Fortunately they did not prevent the patients from getting the usual fortnight's holiday at the coast. The Colony was entirely closed during the last week of August and the first week of September. The patients spent that time at Torr Aluinn, near Dunoon. They much enjoyed this, especially those who have no friends who can take them for a change during the year.

It is a great boon to the colonists to be allowed to attend Divine Services, and entertainments like other people. The temperament of the epileptic, wherever found, is usually religious. When on account of seizures, or other disability, a patient is unable to attend church, there is great disappointment.

The work is difficult. Discouragements are numerous. Our helplessness to benefit the majority of those affected is disappointing. We have, however, at present an excellent group of patients. They all appear to appreciate the advantage of colony life for those in such a condition as themselves. Not a few have had no fits for many months, and this encourages them as well as the others to hope for future permanent benefit.

There have been few changes in the staff during the year, and to the nurses and attendants for their constant attention and care, great praise is due.

M'FARLANE, HUTTON & PATRICK, C.A.

SUMMARY OF THE YEAR'S WORK.

ORPHAN HOMES OF SCOTLAND, BRIDGE-OF-WEIR, AND CITY ORPHAN HOME, GLASGOW.—On 1st November, 1922, there were resident in the Homes 1,087 boys and girls. During the year 249 new cases were admitted, making a total of 1,336 dealt with.

These have been disposed of as follows:—Outfitted and sent to Canada, 49; domestic service, trades, and situations, 53; deaths, 4; children under 5 years of age adopted, 5; returned to relatives now in a position to provide for them, 70; left to go to relatives, etc., 40; leaving in the Homes on 31st October, 1923, 1,115; of whom 591 are boys and 524 girls.

From the above it will be seen that 107 boys and girls were provided with outfits, given a start in life, and placed in positions to make their own way. The older girls having been trained for domestic service, situations were found for them, and the older boys were apprenticed to trades or sent to farms. Amongst those returned to friends many were old enough to work, and where necessary, we helped with outfits, so that a large proportion of these might be added to the number of the permanently helped.

CONSUMPTION SANATORIA OF SCOTLAND.—The year began with 159 patients in residence. 205 were admitted, 197 discharged, and 3 died, leaving 164 in residence on 31st October, 1923.

COLONY OF MERCY FOR EPILEPTICS.—The year began with 102 colonists in residence; 41 men, women, and children were admitted; 45 were discharged; and 4 died, leaving 94 in residence on 31st October, 1923.

THE YEAR'S INCOME.

The amount received during the year is as follows:—For the General Fund, which includes the maintenance of the Homes at Bridge-of-Weir and the City Home, including £1,360 14s. 9d., earned by working boys, and sundry amounts as per Cash Statement, £67,586 2s.; for Consumption Sanatoria, £20,766 8s. 4d.; for the Colony of Mercy for Epileptics, £10,968 10s. 7d.; for Home and Foreign Missions Fund, £1,474 4s. 8d., making the total amount for all purposes, £100,795 5s. 7d., besides large quantities of clothing, provisions, and other useful gifts.

For the work accomplished we are, under God, indebted to our devoted fellow-helpers in the various Homes, and to the practical generosity of friends throughout the country; to ministers, evangelists, and all who have aided in the Church services and other gatherings; to Sabbath School superintendents, teachers, and scholars; to ladies who have made up garments for our little ones; to the Press which has given notices of the work; to the members of the Medical Advisory Board, and the Doctors who have freely given their time and skill for the benefit of the sufferers in the Sanatoria and Hospitals; and to the accountants, Messrs. M'Farlane, Hutton & Patrick, who very kindly act as Honorary Auditors.

IN CONCLUSION.

“BETTER is the end of a thing than the beginning thereof”—and certainly it is with a sigh of relief that we arrive at the last page of another “Narrative of Facts.” Much prayerful thought is given to the writing of every page, lest by some error of our pen we should mar the beautiful work of God it is our duty to write about. We do not send out this report year by year nearly so much with the thought of awakening or deepening a giving interest in the Homes, as with the hope that it may carry messages of cheer and help to some of the great circle of its readers who are scattered in almost every nation in the world. It greatly encourages us to hear frequently of such results following the reading of our simply told tale. It is now twenty years since the founders of the Orphan Homes—our beloved father and mother—passed on to their well-earned rest. We took up the task they laid down with some measure of fear and trembling; but our Heavenly Father has been better to us than all our fears or hopes, and has made “all grace to abound towards us, that we always having all sufficiency in all things, may abound unto every good work.”

So far as we can forecast, the needs of 1923-24 are likely to call for:—

£40,000 for maintenance of Orphan Children in Glasgow and at Bridge-of-Weir.

£2,500 for Emigration and maintenance of the Canadian Home.

Gifts towards maintenance of Consumption Sanatoria.

Gifts towards maintenance of Colony of Mercy.

Christmas-Tree Gifts for 1,100 boys and girls at Bridge-of-Weir. Required early in December.

£2,000 for Home and Foreign Missions Fund.

Consecrated Christian men and women to fill vacancies as they occur for “fathers and mothers” in the cottages.

We daily pray for all our donors and friends, and covet the same service from them. Gifts accompanied by real prayer are worth infinitely more than mere money gifts not so given. God will be no man's debtor, and we feel sure that many, if not all of those who care for God's orphans, find that He gives them back “good measure, pressed down, shaken together, and running over.”

“EBENEZER”——“HALLELUJAH!”

Thanksgiving Day will (D.V.) be held in September, 1924.
Due intimation of the date will be made later.
