NARRATIVE OF FACTS.
1924.

"Thou art the God that doest Wonders."

"Declare His Wonders among all people."

IT is popular to-day in many quarters to decry miracles—even the miracles of our Lord being sometimes denied by those from whom better things might be looked for. We, however, are of those who believe every word in the Bible and every recorded incident, even when it far transcends our understanding. Not only do we believe in the miracles of the past, but also in those which the same God is doing to-day. None of us who live in whole or part at the Orphan Homes of Scotland have any temptation to accept the modern views about God and His dealings with His creatures, for we have a greater miracle before our eyes day by day than any of which we have read or heard. There is only one word which can explain the experiences of the past fifty-three years, and that word is God—the God who is—and is a rewarder of those who seek Him diligently, the God who in old time did, and still does marvellous miracles in answer to the prayer of faith. Here is a great family, which began with a unit and has grown into thousands; which "toils not neither does it spin" in the sense of "working for a living" (and yet which is anything but an idle or lazy community!); a family which calls for some seventy thousand pounds sterling to cover its temporal needs from year to year; which never makes any appeal to man for help, nor spends any money in advertising its great requirements; and yet which for more than half-a-century has never been for one hour in debt; which has lived from day to day and from generation to generation upon the promises of God, and has never once found these to fail. How would you explain this wonderful record, if you do not believe in our wonderful God? A sympathetic visitor from across the ocean said to us a few days ago:—"I suppose you have big drives from time to time to raise the funds!" No! we do not even quite know what a 'big drive' is; nor do we use any of the methods so common and popular in the world. We have found the simple and scriptural method of making all needs known to God in prayer, and trusting Him to supply them, to work so well that we have no temptation to depart from the method adopted by our father, when he began the work so long ago.

And so another year has come and gone and laid upon us the task of again sending out our testimony for God. There is nothing new to say; we have said it so often before, but "We love to tell the story—it is pleasant to repeat—what seems each time we tell it more wonderfully sweet." The pages which follow give a partial account of how the miracle works here from day to day, and these will, we feel sure, be read with interest and thanksgiving by our prayer helpers throughout the world, who are the instruments He uses for the accomplishment of His "wonders."

It has been our privilege to help a large number of extremely needy ones during the past year; but we would like our friends to know that we could have helped many more had they come or been brought to us. While the accommodation of the Consumption Sanatoria and Epileptic Colony is usually taxed to the utmost, there have always been openings in the Orphan Homes for destitute orphan children.

Every year death takes a heavy toll of our donors and friends, and the names of these, as far as known to us, are given on page 39. Amongst these names is that of Sir Charles Cameron, Bart., who recently passed away in Surrey at an advanced age. Sir Charles was one of Mr. Quarrier's early and greatly valued friends. He was at one time proprietor and editor of the North British Daily Mail, in whose pages he frequently wrote regarding the work of the Homes. He was also from the first one of our Trustees.

Dr. Campbell Syme, late of Kilmacolm, was also a kind helper, and for some years a member of our Medical Council.

Two of our fellow workers went to their reward in recent months—Mrs. Giffen, who had been amongst us for thirty years; and Mr Pratt, who was a valued Cottage father for thirteen years.

Mr. R. Lockhart Bryden, who has acted as secretary to the Trustees for many years, has found it necessary to resign this honorary position. We wish to place on record our appreciation of his services.

Our family at the beginning of the year numbered 1,373 in addition to workers—comprised of 1,115 orphan children, 164 consumption patients, and 94 epileptics. During the year we have received 242 children, 194 patients, and 30 colonists; leaving us with a family of 1,381 on 31st October. For the feeding, clothing, nursing, and caring for all of these we have received the following amounts, including payments:—

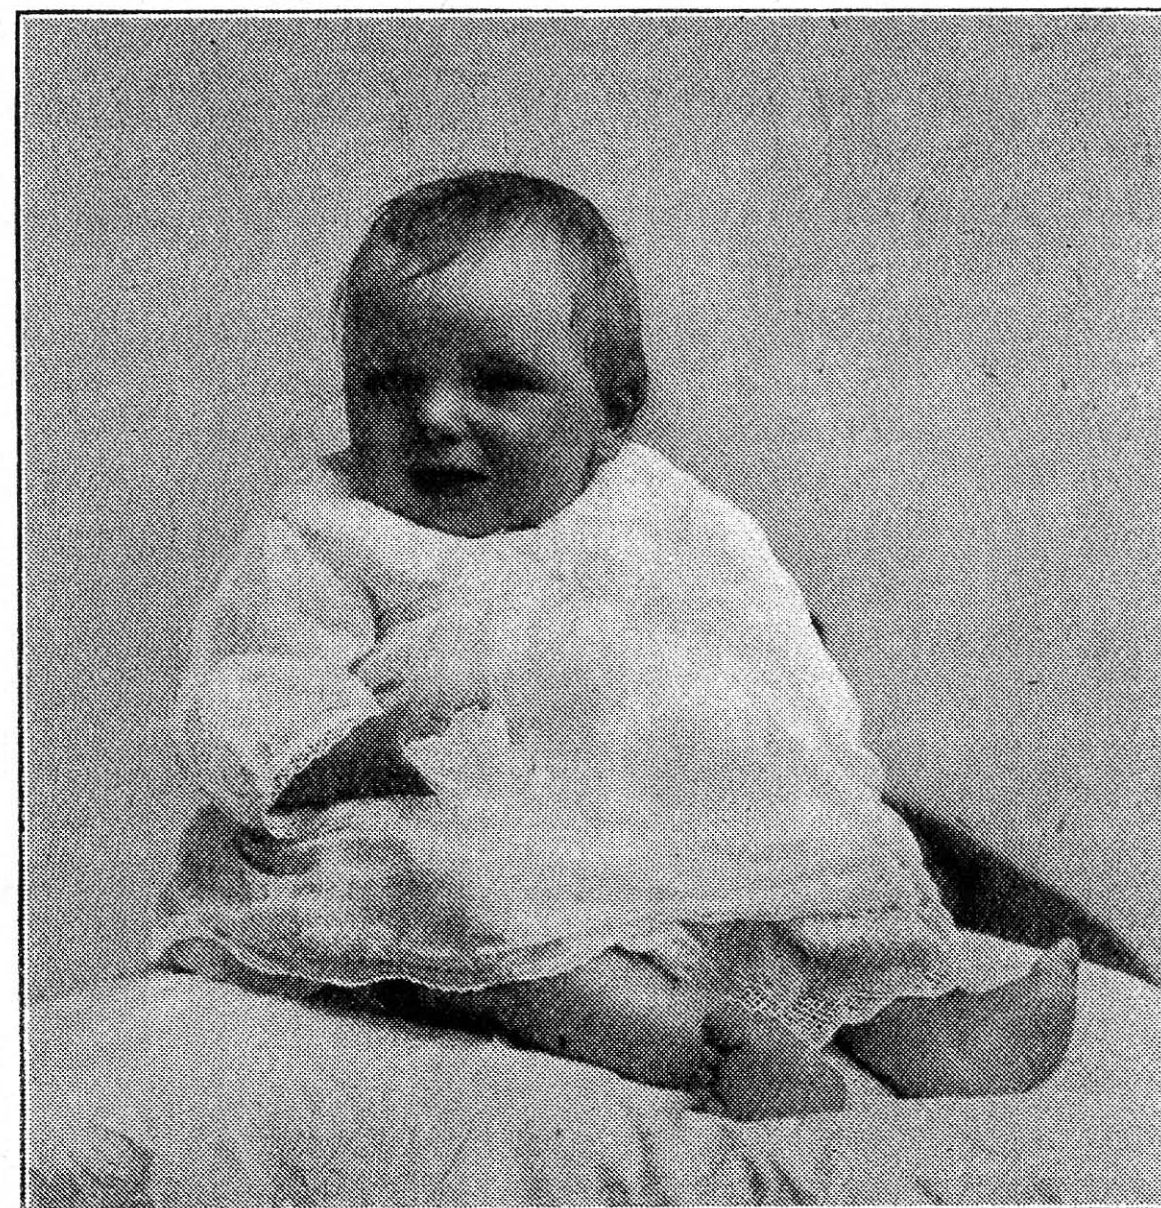

I. For the Orphan Homes,	£47,305 10 7½
II. For the Consumption Sanatoria,	24,859 4 3
III. For the Colony of Epileptics,	6,040 15 0
IV. For Home and Foreign Missions	1,467 7 3
Total,	£79,672 17 1½

For the sake of friends who have not seen previous Reports of the Orphan Homes, the following states the basis upon which the work is carried on:—

In the year 1864 Mr. Quarrier began his public work among the street boys of Glasgow by the organisation of shoeblack and newsboys' brigades. Out of these developed the Orphan Homes, which to-day provide a home and Christian training for 1,500 fatherless and orphan boys and girls of all ages. In the years between 1871, when the first Home was opened, and now, 18,045 children have passed through the Homes, 6,666 of whom were sent to Canada. Something like

£1,678,409 has been received; £312,000 of that sum has been expended on buildings, land, etc., and £1,366,409 on the maintenance of the Homes and Sanatoria and Colony, and Home and Foreign Missions. The work of the Orphan Homes is carried on in dependence upon God for daily supplies. No one is called on personally, nor do we send out collectors. The needs are committed to God in prayer, and we look to Him to move the hearts of His people to send all that is required.

NOVEMBER, 1923.—These diary pages of the narrative constitute the official record of the work inaugurated by William Quarrier, and include allusions to the "Red Letter Days" now by no means few in the course of a year. They contain, besides, details about the gifts and words of encouragement that no amount of scrutiny or imagination can read into the closely printed donation list at the end of this report.

"OUR BABY."

As the beloved founder said of the first Thanksgiving Day, that the presence of so many interested friends in such depressing weather did far more to encourage him than even bright sunshine could have done, so for us the fellowship of friends and the partnership of prayer cannot be overestimated. They are just as truly of the sinews of war as are the material gifts in cash and in kind, and quite as needful. Therefore, "Brethren, pray for us." We pass on to you what the Lord has blessed to us.

The dominant note in the chapter of our history just closed was that of wonder at all God's overflowing provision for our needs. Yet the large balance to our credit is but a very little thing compared with the all-sufficient, untold resources of our Jehovah-Jireh. Humbly confident through the experience of the past that He will not fail or forsake us, with full hearts, we step out upon the unknown road to the next milestone.

Speak, lips of mine, and tell abroad
The praises of thy God.
Speak, stammering tongue, in gladdest tone,
Make His high praises known.

A friend in distant Natal sending three pounds says in his letter, "Our minister, who called upon you recently, arrived here a fortnight ago, and for two Sunday mornings has been telling the young people and the congregation about his visit to your Homes. He had in the pulpit a small bag which one of your cripple boys had made. Christian people out here cannot understand how such a work as yours is maintained without canvassing for money." Nor can we understand His ways, often mysterious and "past finding out," but we have God's own promise to provide, and "in Him is the 'yes' that affirms all the promises of God."

After returning to her home in Vancouver another visitor to our village has sent £4; someone in Newport-on-Tay, 10s. for the Colony of Mercy; a Port-Glasgow Sunday School, £5 3s. 3d.; one of the teaching staff, £5; an Alloa wellwisher, 10s.; a helper in Eyemouth, 10s. "to buy a toy for the children's Christmas tree"; a member of the China Inland Mission, £20; two others, £3; a frequent donor in Ross-shire, £6 for six months' donations; an old worker out of her very slender income, 10s.; a Birkenhead friend, 20s.; the mistress of one of our grown-up girls, 5s.; friends in Moffat, collectively, £7 17s. 6d.; one in Saskatoon, $10; another in Winnipeg, £1; a third in Seattle, Washington, £5; and the members of a Women's Missionary Sewing Party in the North, other £5.

Five shillings for the Colony is an anonymous gift, and bears the postmark of Strathaven; £10, "usual Christmas cheque from Montreal"; £25 for the Christmas treat from a lady who is always mindful of such extra expenses; 20s. from a very old friend in Natal; £3 from Durban; £1, "in memory of Willie O."; £7, raised by street collection at a children's demonstration in connection with the No-Licence campaign; £5 from one in Blackheath who says, "It is with joy I can add a little to my usual subscription"; other £5, collected at church parade of a famous Scottish battalion stationed in Hampshire; £1, with good news of a child adopted; 5s. "in memory of our beloved and only daughter"; £50 from an old friend of the Homes in Kilmarnock; and £150, the half-yearly amount towards the upkeep of the Oswald Home for invalid girls.

Enclosing her usual donation of five pounds, an Edinburgh friend, who has interested herself in several of our young folks, writes encouragingly of a fine Christian lad home from Canada on a visit. She says, "I have just had a visit from John —, and am so pleased to see him such a nice boy. He had tea with me, and behaved and talked like a gentleman. When I think of the poor little fellow we sent through to Glasgow, it seems quite a miracle that this should be the same boy. Your training has once more borne fruit, and as John says, 'given him a chance in life.' " From him also we have received £1, a gift of gratitude. Another similar gift of 10s. was enclosed in a very happy letter from one of the girls; two others have given 5s. each; and yet another 10s., "as a small thank-offering," remembering that this is the month of the annual meeting in Glasgow. The following is copied from the Glasgow Herald's report of that well-attended and inspiring gathering on 28th inst., the uplift of which, we regret that so many distant friends are denied.

ONE OF OUR MANY CANADIAN GIRLS IN THE NURSING PROFESSION.

The fifty-second annual meeting of the Orphan Homes of Scotland at Bridge of Weir was held yesterday in the Christian Institute, Glasgow. There was a large attendance of social workers. At intervals in the business programme a band of children from the Homes sang hymns.

Lord Provost MONTGOMERY, who presided, said that was a meeting which went straight to his heart. Naturally their minds went back to 50 or 60 years ago, when Mr. Quarrier had that splendid vision of helping orphan boys and girls in Glasgow. They could hardly express how much Glasgow, and indeed Scotland, owed to Mr. Quarrier. To-day they were reaping the benefit of that prophetic vision in no small degree. Every year showed more and more the need for caring for orphans. In developing the Homes in Scotland they had given a lead in national affairs of this kind which had been followed not only by other institutions, but by many corporate bodies as well. The care of orphans and those afflicted with consumption had become not only a private matter, but a public charge as well. The Tuberculosis Department of Glasgow Corporation had become one of gigantic dimensions. They had a large staff for treating people afflicted with this dread disease. And the Corporation also sent to the institution at Bridge of Weir a number of patients who received splendid treatment and the benefit of the atmosphere and the surroundings of the place. A great many returned from Bridge of Weir invigorated and rejuvenated, and able to take their part in the active business of life. The organisation held a noble and affectionate place in the estimation of the people of Glasgow, but they could not get an adequate idea of its ramifications by simply reading about it. They should go there and see the work in operation, the careful nursing of the patients, and the provision for the education of the children and for their upbringing in every way. In the report he noticed that the Homes did not appeal to the public by means of collectors. He was in no way underrating the importance of the collectors in some institutions; they were necessary. But the system at Bridge of Weir showed the appealing force of the good work. The Homes had reached the hearts of the people, and the necessary money was provided without any collectors. He commended the institution to the support of the public.

Lord MACLAY read a synopsis of the financial statement, which showed that the income for all purposes was £100,795. As to expenditure, there was a balance at the credit of each account.

Pastor D. J. FINDLAY submitted a summary of the general report, which stated that at the beginning of the year the "family" numbered 1348—in addition to workers—comprised of 1087 orphan children, 159 consumption patients, and 102 epileptics. During the year there were received 249 children, 205 patients, and 41 colonists, leaving the institution with a "family" of 1373 on 31st October.

The reports were adopted.

Addresses on the history and work of the Homes were delivered by Pastor FINDLAY, Mr. DAVID PERRY, Mr. W. M. OATTS, and Professor RALPH STOCKMAN, who dealt with the medical arrangements at the Homes.

After an unusually long wait for suitable weather conditions, the picturesque and old-fashioned Hallowe'en procession took place on the first Tuesday evening of the month, when the village was transformed into Fairyland by the long stream of wee folk and big folk, as they wound their way along tortuous paths among the trees and shrubbery made eerie and fascinating with brightly coloured Japanese lanterns, swaying in their hands as they marched with merry song and chatter.

Conforming to the arrangement for all the churches throughout the Kingdom, on the fifth anniversary of the Armistice, a short Service of Remembrance preceded the usual morning service in the church, the offering at which, amounting to sixteen pounds, was forwarded to Earl Haig's Fund. In the afternoon a large party of workers and children, including those who had lost fathers and brothers in the Great War, marched to Bridge-of-Weir to be present at the public service around the local war memorial.

DECEMBER, 1923.—“How nice the children looked at the annual meeting with all the varied hats, and how sweetly they sang!” So write two friends in the west end of the city as they enclose their large annual donation to the Homes and the Sanatoria. Referring to the report published at that gathering and thereafter posted to all parts of the world, an east end donor of ten shillings says, “A Narrative of Facts is not a compilation, it's a romance, and should be circulated very widely. It passes understanding.” We praise God for the blessing that has always rested on this testimony to His faithfulness, and pray that more and more the written witness to His miracles of Providence and Grace may be blessed to all who read them.

He who said “The silver is mine and the gold is mine” has boundless resources, and the instruments of His bounty are varied without limit. Two guineas from a lady in Carlisle is in memory of her husband, “who was so interested in your Orphan Homes simply because you make it a matter of faith and therefore no begging letters.” Another widow has passed on £1 found in her husband's purse and intended “to take us for a sail and and a day's outing.” He, too, was “very much interested in the Homes, and prayed and helped in every way he could during his life.” Ten shillings is “in loving memory of my son's birthday”; £1 from one in South Africa who has had to retire from missionary service; 10s. from a minister of the Gospel in Stornoway; 20s. from the teacher and scholars of the qualifying class of a Northern academy; £5 from “Kingsborough,” London, side by side with 5s. from an Essex donor; a half-crown postal order for the Sanatoria; £1 from Otago, and £5 from Auckland, New Zealand; 5s. per one of the workers from an old lady over ninety; 10s. from a former helper, out of a very slender income; 5s. from one in Gourrock, who is “sorry it is not more,” but explains, “my husband has been idle for a long time”; £5, a Christmas donation from a friend in Shanghai; and £1 from a lady in Edinburgh, because “a gentleman has allowed me to put the aerial of my wireless set to his tree, and instead of taking payment, asked me to send this to you.”

An old friend, enclosing a postal order for ten shillings, says, “I have now begun my ninetieth year, but still remember happy days spent at the Homes”; and one of our grown-up girls in sending her gift writes:—

I am sure it is five years since I sent a little donation. I have always meant to write, but always kept putting it off. I am married now five years come March, but not in a house of my own. I am keeping house for a gentleman and his mother, who lost his wife last November. My husband is a tailor, but not very busy at times. However, the Lord has been good to us. My husband is a Christian and belongs to the Brethren. I am also one of them, being baptised last May. I read an account of Mr. Lloyd George's visit to the Homes and saw a picture of the church in the Bulletin, and it recalled the happy days of yore when I used to look forward to our visit to Bridge of Weir on New Year's Day. I have still a remnant of my work box. I hope, Miss Quarrier, you enjoy good health. I am sending £2. I only wish it were more, as I will never be able to repay half of the love and kindness I received at the Homes.

Six shillings and sixpence has been collected by another of our old girls now the mother of four children. £5 10s. has been received from a Sunday School in New Bedford, Massachusetts; 10s. from two children in Liverpool; 30s., being part proceeds of a cake and candy sale, from pupils of a High School; 5s. from two boys in Fife; £8, to be divided between the Homes and the Sanatoria, from a Glasgow Sunday School; “also 1s. from my little daughter,” added to her father's gift of £10; and 30s., enclosed with their parents' donation of £150, from three children. Their father writes:—“I am also sending you 10s. each from my three children who would like to begin to send a little help for the children whom you are looking after so splendidly. Our youngest boy is too little yet to understand about these things, but I hope he may join in later on.” How delightful to think that now the third generation are beginning to have a share in helping the work in which their grandfather took such a keen and generous interest from its inception.

“Just an old nurse,” now over 83 years of age, in a letter containing £4, to be allocated at our discretion, says, “I have had an interest in the Homes since your dear father began with them, also when he had the Shoe Black Boys in Renfield Street. Our Heavenly Father has been mindful of the fatherless. Praise His name. May He continue to bless the Orphan Homes and all connected with them.” Another old friend in Greenock writes, “I have greatly enjoyed your Annual Report, and enclose a note of praise (£1), I am reminded of the first time I was at the Homes, when the Central Building was the church. Your dear father conducted the service, and Mrs. M'Connell led the praise. What a change since then, but He changes not. With love to all and daily prayer for the work.”

In addition to several small legacies, among the larger gifts to hand this month are, £100, “In memory 15th October, 1904”; £100 from an old friend in Galston; £50 from a gentleman in Edinburgh; £40 from a Girls' Auxiliary; £50 from Crosshill; 50 guineas from Upper Norwood; other £50 from Greenock; and £100 from an Ayrshire dairy farmer. All of these large sums and much more will be required to meet the heavy expenditure for necessities, besides the extras at this time, of which many thoughtful friends have been mindful.

One pound for the New Year treat has come from a regular donor in North Berwick; £2 for Christmas from another in Milngavie; $2 from Vancouver; £1 from Jedburgh, in the hope that “it may help to make at least one little heart the happier at Christmas”; 5s., with 2s. 6d. for the General Fund, from the Isle of Wight; and £3 from a little girl, who has printed on the back of her card of greeting accompanying her gift, "Please send this to Santa to buy toys for your Christmas tree." So, there is ample provision to fill every stocking and furnish the special fare this festive season requires.

More and more as the years go by this Christian Festival seems to be coming into its own in our village, where the dawn of Christmas has been heralded in by the sweet strains of music borne on the still night air, as the carol singers told again the joyous tidings of God's great Gift to men. To some of our sick folks, whose homes are in the busy streets of the great city, their message was a new revelation of the meaning of Christmas, and we rejoice that God has blessed this piece of happy service. Of all the good things He sends at this time, we bless God for the all-pervading spirit of the Babe of Bethlehem, filling every heart to overflowing with gladness and loving thought for others.

Are there hearts that you can bless,
My brother?
Can you give some happiness?
Help another!
Lift a prayer or sing a song,
Cheer the right or fight the wrong;
As you pass life's way along,
Help another!

From every corner of the world thoughts have been turning to the homeland, and, during these closing days of the year, the needs of our children have not been forgotten by friends far away. The grandfather of a family at present in the Homes has sent £1, his token of gratitude from North Dakota; a lady, 20s. from Bloemfontein; a gentleman, £2 from Pretoria; one who still keeps in close personal touch with many of our Canadian family, $5 from Toronto; someone in Baltimore, U.S.A.; £5 12s. 6d. per his nephew in Edinburgh; a grateful girl, now married and living in Montreal, $10; and another, a similar amount. Five shillings is the thankoffering of one in a situation in this country; another like sum of one still within our gates; and £4, the family contribution of one of the old boys. Of all such, however, the one which has touched us most deeply is the five shillings in small change laid anonymously on the superintendent's desk on Christmas morning by one of the senior boys, who had written on the envelope, "For the Orphans."

With the busiest week of the year behind us, and the last strenuous day of preparations drawing to an end, we turn, with weary steps but very full hearts, once more to spend the closing hour of the old year with fellow-workers and some of the older children in praise and prayer and renewed dedication for the high calling that is our privilege in ministering to the lambs of His flock. Along the unknown path we tread, may the theme of our meditation keep echoing in our ears, lest we weary in well-doing or faint by the way—"They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; they shall walk, and not faint."

JANUARY, 1924.—Long ere the first glimmering of daylight on New Year's morning, the young folks of our big family were wide awake, for had not the great day, long looked for, come at last. To them it seemed as if it would never come, and yet how short its crowded hours have been. Ham and egg for breakfast; turkey and plum pudding, with all the usual "trimmings," for dinner; and a Ne'er-day tea to follow surely constitute a day of feasting. Might not some of the good things be kept for another day, someone may say, and indeed some of them were, but then there is a pleasure all its own, of which those who "fare sumptuously every day" know nothing, in just having one full day of feasting.

The Post Office and the office staffs have spent a busy morning as well as those responsible for preparing lunch for the large party from the City Home, and every kitchen in the village has been a hive of industry.

To-day the congregation has reached the church much earlier than their wont, the longer to gaze upon the great trees, loaded with dolls and toys, and books and sweets, and things to wear. The very air is electric with hardly suppressed excitement, and the usual respectful silence has given way to merry hum and chatter, broken only momentarily during the hearty singing of the doxology and the brief prayer of thanksgiving that alone precede the process of dismantling and distribution.

All day long there have been reunions of old boys and girls with fathers and mothers and chums, so that by evening together with local visitors, it is an augmented family which assembled in the church for the programme of music and motion pictures. The two thousand or thereby who have filled the building are by no means the number of those who have joined in our evening worship to-day, for a host of others have been transported in imagination to the old home and in heart have mingled their prayers with ours at the family altar. Had we but vision to recognise them, in that multitude we would find faces of some of whom there has been no news at home for many a year, of those whose track has been over the rough places and into the bypaths astray, but whose memory of the teaching of childhood has turned their erring feet again into the way of righteousness, which will lead them on to the Father's House, where, please God, none of our great scattered family shall be wanting. To this end we pray on the first day of 1924,

Give me a faithful heart,
Likeness to Thee,
That each departing day
Henceforth may see
Some work of love begun,
Some deed of kindness done,
Some wanderer sought and won
Something for Thee.

Among the first gifts to hand are some from our grown-up family, 15s. from a grateful girl in service nearby; 5s. from another; £3 from one of the boys of the early days and his wife; 5s. from a girl who contributes this amount with great regularity; 10s. each from three others in this country; and $10 from one of the boys, married and settled on his own farm in Saskatchewan.

One of our Canadian boys, whose conduct had been such as to place him in the category of apparent failures, has gladdened our hearts by a letter in which he says, "I am writing to tell you that I have accepted Christ as my personal Saviour. It was on Sunday night. I was going out, so I thought I would go to the Salvation Army to hear the band, but thank God I got more than the music. I got my sins forgiven, and I am on my way rejoicing." We are sometimes asked how many failures there are among our emigrants, to which the only reply seems to be to ask in return, when a man or woman or child may properly be classified as a failure. How true we have proved the verse of an old familiar hymn:—

Though sown in tears through weary years,
The seed will surely live;
Though great the cost, it is not lost,
For God will fruitage give.

Such letters as the one already quoted and the following from a girl, who many a time was a source of anxiety, help us to forget the disappointments and renew the assurance that the work is always worth while. Her letter is dated New Year's Day, and reads:—

Your very welcome New Year's letter has just reached me. I wish to express my thanks to yourself and also to Mr. Winters for sending same. Although I am now married and have children of my own, I still welcome news of the old home and friends at Bridge of Weir. No doubt you will think it strange when I tell you that for the past three years I have written letters in answer to the New Year's letter, and never sent them to you. You see, Miss Quarrier, I am a bit ashamed to write after such a long silence, but have resolved to send this letter anyway. Although I have been married four years I am still quite young, just twenty-two, and am the mother of two of the prettiest baby boys you ever saw. My oldest boy, Gordon, is three years, and my baby is just four months, but is a very big baby for his age. At present my husband is away from home working, as there is no work of any kind for the winter around here. This is the first night of the New Year, and we spent the day with some friends on the other side of the town. They are Scotch folks, like ourselves, and made me welcome, since my husband is away. This is the great red-letter day at the old Homes. How well I remember how I used to look forward to New Year's Day and the Christmas trees, and as I look at my own two wee boys fast asleep just now I think of the many little boys and girls at Bridge of Weir who have happy dreams of Santa and their presents to-night. It seems like yesterday that I too was one of them, and I can hardly realise that ten years have gone since I last shared the enjoyment of the boys and girls over the sea. No doubt it is a great disappointment to you that we boys and girls in Canada, so many of us, do not correspond more freely with our old friends at the Homes, but I am sure many of us, like myself, think of the old home with tender memories very often, and although I do not write, still the old influence and memory of loved ones, both young and old, are with me still. Well, I will not tire you with my chatter, but I just want to share a secret with you. Every night when my wee Gordon has said his prayers I tuck him in bed, then I take the baby in my arms and shut my eyes and sing, "Jesus, tender Shepherd, hear me," and I can almost believe I am a little girl again sitting in the dear old church at Bridge of Weir, and hear the rest of the boys and girls singing with me. Jesus said, "Except ye come as a little child," and every day I believe it more and more. We are nearer to Him when we humble ourselves as little children. Now, dear Miss Quarrier, I hope you will forgive my long silence, and write to me once more.

One of the boys, also grateful for the New Year Letter in his distant Toronto home, says, "It is one thing I look forward for around the close of every year. I am sure things have changed considerably since I left the Homes in 1914. It seems a long time, and yet it doesn't. I think that those New Year letters which you send out to us draw us closer." A girl who was lately returned to her mother after several years under our care tells of her safe arrival home, and how "my mother thought that my outfit was perfect, and she is very grateful to you for all the kindness I have received," and adds, "The little Testament you gave me is a great comfort to me, and I read a portion of it every day."

During the New Year holidays, before the school resumed on 8th inst., the senior boys and girls greatly enjoyed shopping and sight-seeing excursions to the city under the care of the father or mother of their respective homes. To cover the cost of this treat as well as meeting ordinary expenses, we have received among numerous other gifts £1 from an Edinburgh University medical student; £3, "In loving memory towards the support of a little boy"; two guineas from proceeds of a cantata in a church in Fife; £1 from Blackburn; £20 from a Greenock donor who wishes no acknowledgment sent; 10s., "being a share of the first fruits" from Glasgow; £3, "as a thankoffering from my brother and myself for a loved father now gone home"; £15 towards the upkeep of a boy, together with £5 for the Colony of Mercy, from St. Boswells; £3 "from a grateful couple" on the staff; 2s. 6d., "with best wishes for 1924 from a widow"; £2, "being the amount made from the sale of hand-painted calendars among my friends"; $10 from Winnipeg; 30s. from missionaries in Nyasaland; £5 from someone who overlooked sending this sum at Christmas; other £5 from Lerwick; £1 per one of the workers, 20s. per a second, and 5s. per a third; £2 17s. from a Sunday School in Brisbane; £2, "my drop in your bucket" from Edinburgh; £100 from an old friend in Kilmarnock; £1 17s., gathered in a box at a Sailors' Home; £5 from the "Save the Children Fund"; £25, a birthday offering; 20s., "a thankoffering to God for adopted child"; and £3 from a Pollokshields friend who writes, "I am now in my eighty-third year. When I was a lad in Jamaica Street I knew Mr Quarrier."

The donor of £1 from a manse in Kirkcudbright remarks, "It is wonderful how the 'little one' in Renfrew Lane 'has become a thousand,' thanks to God's love and care, and your dear father's faith." Another helper in Caithness asks us to send a copy of the last report to a minister of her acquaintance in Paisley, because "he could not believe me that you did not ask for any subscriptions, that all you got was through prayer." The donor of £5 from Partickhill is glad to know of the work's progress, and asks, "How could it be otherwise with such a Provider?" A Carnoustie friend says of part of the money she has sent, "I was very pleased to receive one shilling from an old woman of 86, who lives in the factory district where I used to do a little work."

Another letter reads, "If you are sending any girls to Canada this spring I should like the enclosed £5 to be used for that purpose," and so it will, for we intend sending a few girls with the next party, and on the 16th inst., with that in view, made a reservation of sixty berths on the Anchor liner "Columbia," billed to sail on 12th April.

FEBRUARY, 1924.—One of our helpers has requested that £1 of her donation be used for emigration expenses and £2 for the Missions Fund. Another friend says, "The enclosed £5 is for one of the boys going to Canada to get some things in memory of my dear father's birthday"; whilst a third, enquiring about one of the Canadian boys and his sister, has contributed £10 to the Homes, £2 to the Sanatoria, and £3 to the Colony of Mercy. A lady, interested in a brother and sister in the Homes, has again sent £5 towards their maintenance. What a change for the better has taken place in them since she rescued them from a sordid environment and brought them to the village.

Numerous Sunday School contributions include £1 10s. from Stornoway; 10s. from a small school near Kelso; £2 10s. from Birmingham; and £1 2s. 11d. from the neighbouring parish. A three shilling postal order from Dunoon is the gift of an old invalid lady; £5 of a British Weekly reader; £10 of an Ayrshire children's church;

10s. of an English friend engaged in work similar to our own; £4 of a friend in Alnwick; 10s. of another in Rosehearty; 5s. 4d. of a frequent helper in Aberdeen; £1 5s. 5d., of an Annan Bible Class; 10s. "in memory of our little boy Robert"; £1 of a Paisley Girls' Guild; £1, "a thankoffering for all God's blessing" of a dear old friend who has just celebrated her seventieth year as a Sunday School teacher, and is still at it; £10 of a generous helper in Darlington; £2 of one in Kirkwall; 10s. of our old friends "Alice, Willie, and Jessie"; £5 of another friend of the early days, who asks us to celebrate his eighty-first birthday by giving all the boys and girls an orange; and a cheque for other £5 of a lady in Edinburgh, who quotes these lines of Masfield:—

And he who gives a child a treat
Makes joy-bells ring in Heaven's street.
And he who gives a child a home
Builds palaces in Kingdom come.

The sender of 6s. 6d. from Stranraer writes, "Please use this money for the benefit of young girls in poor circumstances. It is given by a servant who has no home and no relations." Two shillings is "from a poor widow for Jesus' sake." The mistress of a girl recently sent to a situation has "every hope of her proving satisfactory," and encloses along with the railway fare 5s., "which in the ordinary course I should have paid to a registry office." The mother of a baby boy, who was with us for some time and tenderly cared for by a worker who has gone to her reward, has sent a note of thanks with her donation to show "I haven't forgot the place that was so good to me in my time of great need." An Argyllshire shinty club have forwarded, through their secretary, £6 7s. 6d., "for the benefit of the family which left here not long ago and now under your charge." Ten shillings has come from another of our girls, who has just gone to a new place, "as this is my birthday"; and £1 from two brothers, who write:—

As old Killearn Home boys brought up under your care, and always made welcome by Mr. and Mrs. Simpson every occasion we go down on a visit, we feel and wish to show, in some small way, our gratitude for what was done for us in the Orphan Homes by asking you to accept this small gift. Believe us, this represents the respect and esteem we hold for you, and we sincerely hope you will be spared further health and strength to carry on the good work, and earnestly hope and trust that the blessing of God will rest upon your deliberations.

Of gifts to hand from other lands, £2 comes from missionaries in Northern Nigeria; £3 from two others in Nyasaland; £8 7s. 6d. from several more in West Africa; $1 from California, per a friend in Prestwick; $5 from Montreal; 40 rupees from India; £5 from Hankow, China; £1 from Paris; £2 from Dunedin; 5s. from Christchurch, New Zealand, with £5 from the sender of it; £2 from an old fellow worker in China; and $5, "In memory of 10th February," which is also the forty-seventh anniversary of laying the first stone of the Orphan Homes. The day has not been marked by any special function or celebration beyond a reference to the fact at the morning service in the church, where the whole family united in grateful praise and prayer to God for all the wonders He hath wrought throughout the intervening years.

It is worthy of note, and will afford satisfaction to friends, that the beloved Founder's eldest grandson, Mr William A. Findlay, having resigned his position with the Union Bank of Scotland, after twenty-three years' service, has this month joined the staff as secretary, where his experience will be of great value in the supervision of the financial department and other kindred duties.

Fifteen shillings has been sent by some of last summer's visitors, who "would like to express our appreciation of the great work being done at the Homes, and to have fellowship with you to the extent of the enclosed small sum." Continually we pray that the testimony of our village to the power of believing prayer may be blessed to beget or deepen faith in every visitor. This privilege of witness we also count among our blessings, and praise God for it. Two other friends, enclosing ten pounds, have written:—

Ever since my husband and I visited your Homes, last autumn, we have wished to give some little expression of our love and appreciation for your service and for so kindly allowing us the privilege of going over the wonderful testimony of God's faithfulness. It was such an object-lesson to us. We know something of the blessedness of a life of faith and testify in some measure the faithfulness of God personally, but I had no idea that yours was such an immense work. It was all wonderful, and a great lesson to me. I trust you are well. May He bless and sustain you. With our love and prayers.

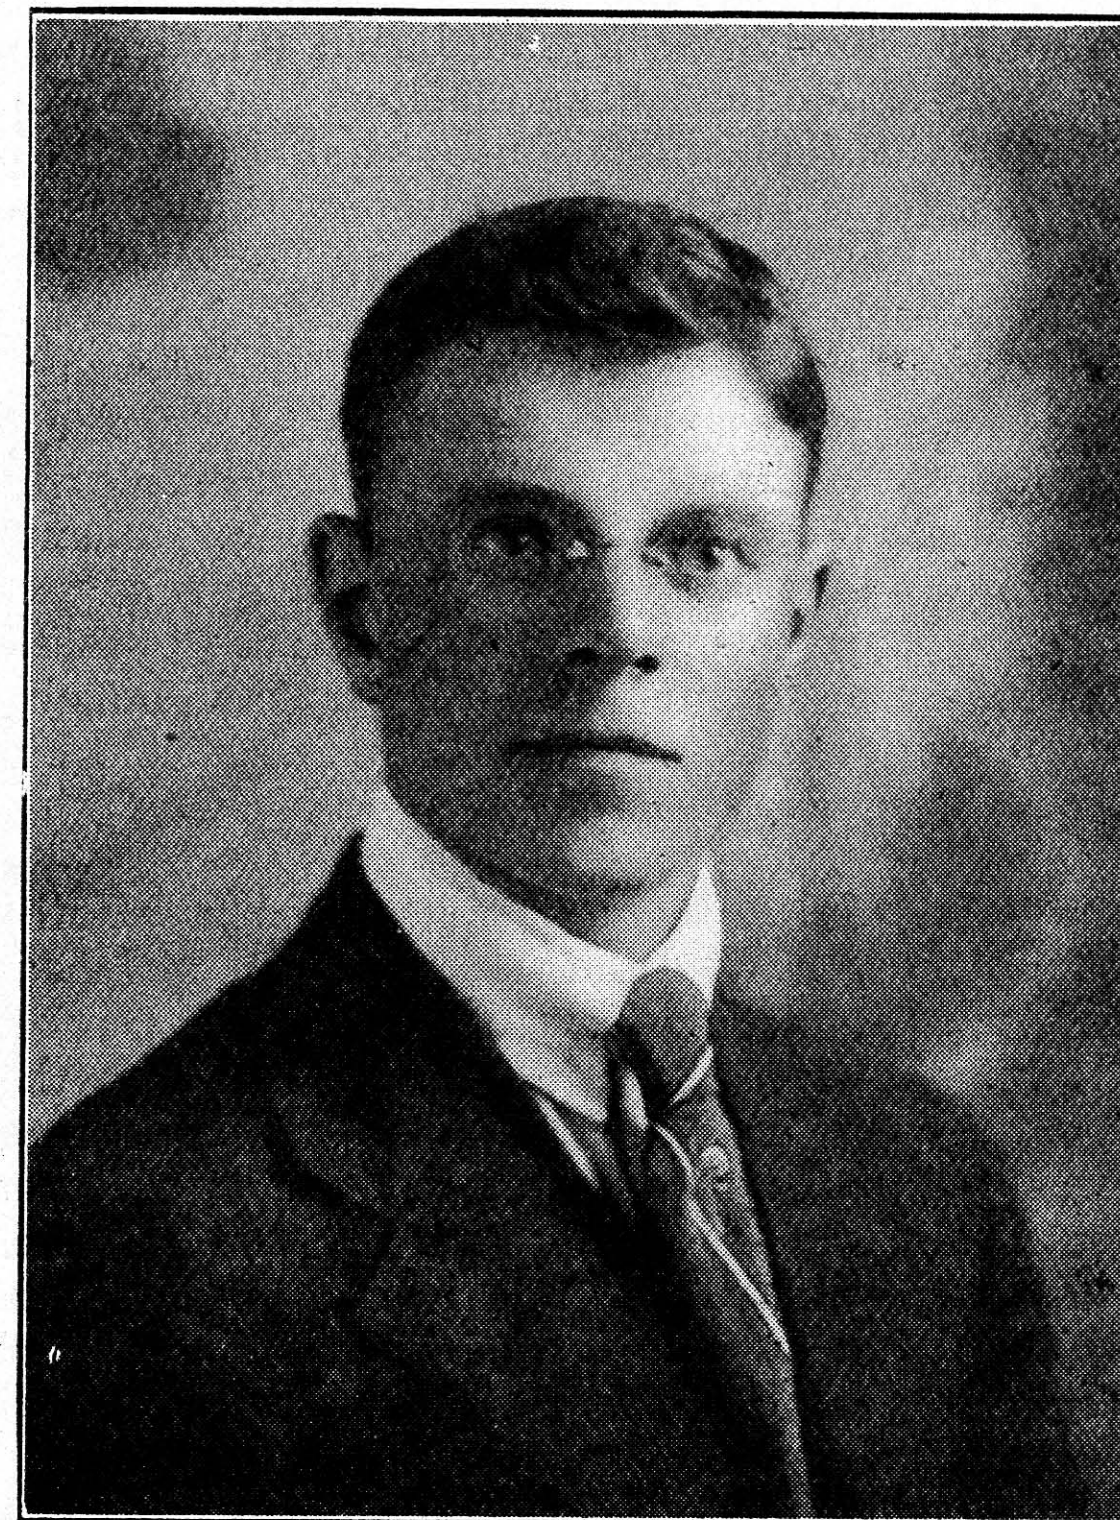

MARCH, 1924.—Towards the supply of this month's needs a helper in Sunderland has contributed £2; an old worker, generously from a small income, 10s.; "George's Sisters," £5 "for our little orphan"; readers of The Christian, £10 17s.; members of a mothers' meeting near Glasgow, one guinea; the uncle of a family, in gratitude for their recent admission to the Homes, £5; someone anonymously from Dunecht, £5 "on the occasion of the sender's birthday"; a lady in Thurso £15, with £5 for Foreign Missions; a mother in Forfarshire, £1 from her three children; an old worker in South Africa, one guinea; a friend in New Zealand 10s., with news of the home-going of an old neighbour nearly 94 years of age, who used to help the work; someone interested, in Orkney, 10s.; a helper of long standing, £10 from County Antrim; and a Belfast friend, £1, giving thanks not only for special blessings but as well, and surely with still more occasion, "for blessings that we are so used with that we hardly know we possess them."

For a week, commencing on the second Sunday of March, Mr. John Stewart, of the Glasgow United Evangelistic Association, conducted special services in the church. His simple addresses on the second part of Bunyan's immortal allegory, and on the Life of our Lord, were illustrated by lantern pictures. Quite a number of boys and girls of all ages professed decision for Christ. May they be kept by the Power of God, and may the Holy Spirit deepen the impression made upon many others. It is not enough that our children should know about God and His wonderful provision for their needs in this place. We covet for them the personal experience of Him as Saviour and Friend.

The sum of £27 10s., a share of collections taken on board a line of passenger steamers on the Western Ocean, has been allotted to the Orphan Homes. From beyond the Atlantic we have received $1 50 cents from an old friend in Vancouver; a cheque for £45 from a regular donor in Takoma, U.S.A.; $20 from the congregation of our late beloved friend and valiant soldier of the Cross, the Rev. John Currie, of Montreal, whose loss a multitude will mourn for as they say, "He was a great man, a good man, a Godly man, and we will not get another his like in this generation"; and $30 more from one of our own boys, who often remembers our needs, and writes, "I guess you will be busy getting the boys ready for Canada. Canada sure needs them, and I hope you are able to send out some girls this year." The Canadian mail has brought news from several more of our distant bairns, including the following from a girl, who was specially fortunate in the place to which she went in 1911:—

I am ashamed to say it is a long time since I have written to you. We do seem to be living in such a busy age, with so many things to claim our time and attract our attention, that I sometimes think we are apt to let the real things of life slip by us, and is it not too bad? I often think of you all in Scotland, even if I do not write. I received your New Year's letter and was, as usual, glad to get it. I have read it over several times and was so pleased to learn you had been so prosperous during the past year. All the workers are certainly doing a worth while job, and I hope all we children appreciate the efforts. I, for one, am very thankful to you all and am living in hopes of one day showing to you in some way my appreciation. I know my efforts in that direction will be small to what you have done for me. I finished High School four years ago, and taught for the first two years after graduating. Last year I attended Normal School in Toronto and took up a kindergarten course and primary teaching. This year I am having a very pleasant vacation but expect to start teaching again next September. My Canadian aunt or guardian and I are taking a trip through Canada and United States, visiting friends and sight-seeing. We started in July, 1923, and have visited all through the Western Provinces, spent one month in Manitoba on a prairie farm, and had an enjoyable rest from city life, then we journeyed on to Saskatchewan. The early part of September found us in Alberta. In October we went to an Alberta ranch and stayed a month. Here we saw a western threshing machine at work. We also went fishing, hunting, picnicking, &c. What I enjoyed best of all was horseback riding. We made a short visit at Banff, the famous summer resort in the Rocky Mountains. Surely there is some wonderful scenery here. Then we spent the month of November in Vancouver, B.C. The early part of December we came down into the States, visiting at Portland, Tacoma, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and we now are in Arizona. Our family is pretty well scattered just now. M— is in Toronto, a stenographer in the Tract Society. She likes it fine and is getting on fine. My oldest brother is in Ottawa, teaching in an agricultural college. F— is in British Columbia. He had a serious operation for appendicitis last year and then took pneumonia, was in the hospital for seven weeks. Afterwards he came home to Ontario, but went back to British Columbia as the climate there seems to agree with him better. He is real well this winter, has been working all the time, helping to build a power house. Now I shall hope to hear from you sometime and I shall try to do better.

ONE OF OUR CANADIAN BOYS.

For several weeks selection of boys and girls for the Canadian party has been progressing. Medical examinations are over, and with the inspection of candidates for emigration by the Canadian Government's Agent, on 24th inst., the last stage of preparations has been entered upon.

A lady in Eastbourne has forwarded 10s., "part of some money I found several weeks ago, and as it was unclaimed was given to me, so I thought I'd like to send a bit to Scotland." Fifteen pounds from Greenock is in memory of three loved ones; and a similar amount from the East Coast, proceeds of a Sunday School entertainment. A cheque for £170, the month's largest donation, has been sent by the secretary of an association in Hong Kong; and five guineas by a London fruit dealer, being the price obtained for the largest bunch of Canary bananas which the shipper had ever seen, and instructed him to send or sell for behoof of the Homes.

APRIL, 1924.—A social gathering in the Central Hall on the first evening of the month terminated the weekly meetings of the Girls' Guild, organised during the latter part of the winter for the benefit of the senior girls. Their personal appearance as well as the work displayed was most creditable, and the varied programme of music, recitations, and games was greatly enjoyed both by the girls themselves and their "mothers" and other friends privileged to be present.

On the following Sunday (the last in the old home for our prospective Canadians) there was an added interest in the usual monthly communion service. On that memorable and happy occasion seven of the older girls, after being duly examined and received into the fellowship of the Christian community here, sat down with us for the first time at the Lord's Table. The Rev. Edward Last, who has a rich experience of young people and personal evangelism, conducted the service with great acceptance. Only the Master Himself, could have inspired the messages so appropriate, which he, a stranger to them, gave to each of the new communicants, one of whom is waiting to emigrate to Australia, and two others to Canada. Praise God for these. We pray that many more may be led thus publicly to confess their faith in the Saviour.

On the donation list we find £20 from friends in Elgin towards the maintenance of a little girl in the Glasgow Home; £1 1s. 7d., and 3s. 6d., "a little more help" later from a frequent donor in Aberdeen; £5 for the Colony of Mercy from the same city; a guinea from a husband and wife in Lancashire; 5s. in stamps, "being the amount collected in box at this office"; £1 from a Girls' Guild in our own county; £2 from "wellwishers" in Peeblesshire, hoping "It will give a little one a holiday, and may this be the best year yet"; $20, forwarded by a friend from eight others in Winnipeg, whom he has interested in the orphans; £1 from another friend in Greenock, after bringing a party to visit the Homes; 30s., anonymously under postmark of Glasgow; £6, "The Willing Helpers' Gifts"; 10 guineas from a Paikhead baker; £1 from Woolwich, after a lecture on the work here; £2 from Forfar, "to continue what our dear sister, who has gone before, joined us in sending for many years"; 30s. from "Inasmuch"; and sixpence in stamps, which we are asked to accept for the children from "Wellwisher."

Readers who have experienced the turmoil incident to a member of their household migrating to one or other of the colonies will be able to picture just what sort of a place our village, and especially the Stores, have been during these last days of outfitting and packing for the forty-seven boys and sixteen girls, to whom the whole community turned out to bid goodbye on the morning of the twelfth. The accompanying photograph was taken at Bridge of Weir station before they joined the special train for Greenock, where, contrary to custom, they embarked on the Anchor liner Columbia. What a contrast to the old days, when we had to provide each child with bedding and towel, dishes and cutlery. Never has the accommodation been more complete in equipment or conveniently arranged for a mixed party. As they fared forth that Saturday afternoon, in charge of our superintendent and his wife, to begin the great adventure of their lives in the land of their hopes across the sea, we commended them anew, these children of many prayers, to the Great Pilot of souls.

Someone has sent the following interesting cutting from the Evening Times of that date, in which a resident of Port-Glasgow has recalled a memory of long ago regarding one of our first bands of emigrants:—

"In 1873 I was sailing before the mast in a barque named the Alice Wilson, when on a voyage from the Clyde to Quebec. We were ten days out from the 'Tail of the Bank' when one of Allan's steamers hove in sight, right astern, and steering the same course as us. By the first dog watch she was right on our starboard quarter, and about 100 yards distant. The wind was very light from the N.E., and when she got her port bow abreast of our starboard quarter we were surprised to see about 70 boys, and the same number of girls, stretched along the port rails; the boys forward of the bridge, the girls abaft. They sang that good old hymn, 'God be with you till we meet again.' I need hardly say the incident was a most impressive one, and we gave them a cheer as only sailors know how. That was exactly 51 years ago. Although the incident stands out clearly I cannot remember whether it was the Scandinavian or Norwegian, both of these ships having passed us within a few days of each other."

Two cheques for £100 each have come to hand, and a grant of £150 towards outfits of children placed in this country. A minister has written, "I enclose £2 for the Orphan Homes which were handed to me by a poor widow in the congregation, who has longed for a while to do something to help on your good work. She did not wish her name to be known." Another, sending a cheque for £13 2s. 8d. to cover as well the contribution of his Sunday School, has enclosed a note addressed to him by an old friend in Orkney to say, "In case I may be called suddenly, please forward enclosed £10 to Quarrier's Orphan Homes of Scotland." Ten shillings from an Edinburgh invalid brings the welcome assurance of her frequent remembrance of us in prayer. "I always remember the dear bairns in my prayers," says the sender of half-a-crown from Dundee, explaining, "This is my birthday and I would like to do something to help in the good work."

Three of our grateful girls in this country have contributed ten shillings each, and a fourth, five shillings. Other ten shillings is a "token of my appreciation of the good the Homes have done for me and many thousands like me." One of the girls now married and residing in Montreal has sent a gift of five pounds, and another a letter, from which we quote as follows:—

You will be surprised to receive a letter from me. It is quite a while since I last wrote you. When I first came to Canada I went to Mr. M—. I stayed a few months there and was then sent to Mr. B's at A—. I was there ten years when I got married six years ago last June. Mrs. B— regretted parting with me as they seemed to think as much of me as their own daughter, but I am settled only a short distance from them and we visit each other often. My husband is a farmer. His brother and he work their farms together. They own 250 acres of land and over 90 head of cattle, sheep, and horses. My husband nor any of his brothers neither drink nor smoke. They are honest living and striving to do the right by every one. They had one of your boys for ten years. He is now out in Western Canada doing for himself. He had a nice lot of money saved of his earnings when he left here. I have three children, two boys and a girl. I suppose you are getting the boys ready to come to Canada. My brother has a son and he wants to come to Canada, but owing to the hard times over there he has not the money to pay his passage. We were thinking he might come at the same sailing as the boys, so he would have company right through. We would meet Mr. Douglas or whoever comes with the boys and settle the expenses with him and pay you for the trouble. As it is nearly time for the courier to be along for the mail I have to close with love.

MAY, 1924.—Every year hundreds of Sunday Schools, numbering in their membership, literally, thousands of boys and girls, throughout our own and other lands, contribute to the funds of the Orphan Homes. All of these gifts are used as they come for immediate maintenance, but once a year the Scottish National Sabbath School Union sends a variable sum, which it has been our custom to lay aside in anticipation that some day there may be enough money thus accumulated to build some sort of companion to the Sabbath School Home for boys, which already exists in the village. This year's contribution of £10 13s. brings the total now up to £911 8s. 11d. When the great international convention meets in Glasgow next month we hope that many of the delegates, from far and near, may come and see for themselves how we have been spending the money their schools have sent, and carry with them an inspiration to the rising generation to "have faith in God."

The month's payments to account of various legacies, ranging from 7s. 3d. to £1800, have amounted to a little over two thousand pounds; and the largest donation to £100, "to help you to carry on," from a resident of Newlands. Two ladies in New Jersey, U.S.A., have gathered together for the Homes, £6 10s.; and others in South Africa, £1 14s. 6d. A husband and wife in Victoria, B.C., have sent $10; a lady in Saskatoon, $5; two friends in Vancouver, $10; one in

AT THE SEASIDE.

Winnipeg, £1; two doctors in Victoria, Australia, £10 and £5 respectively; and a couple in South Australia, £20.

Other £20 was left in the post-box by an anonymous donor. £17 15s. 10d., the proceeds of a charity football match in Demerara on New Year's Day, has been divided equally between St Dunstan's Hostel and the Orphan Homes. The secretary of an English golf club has forwarded £2, the amount of a prize won by a member, who wished it sent to us anonymously. One pound is the gift of a mothers' meeting in the city; 10s., "an offering to the Lord for His bountiful kindness to us in our time of need"; £1, of a Liverpool minister, who asks an interest in our prayers; £2, of a lady in Bristol; £10, of someone in Cheshire; £20, of a Greenock engineer; £5, of a helper, who has sent the amount through a firm of Glasgow accountants; £1, "Birthday Thankoffering"; £20, of "Sympathisers" in Largs; £5, to be divided equally between the Sanatoria and the Colony of Mercy, "in memory of a loved one"; £2 10s., of the members of a women's meeting, after visiting the village; 7s 6d., of another party of visitors; and 4s. 5d., of a friend, who hopes "the young folks that you sent to Canada last month had a good passage and all arrived quite well."

Since receiving the first news of them by cable a month ago, our superintendent has returned home with a full report of their record journey, accomplished in exactly eight and a half days from Greenock to their destination at Brockville, a thousand miles by rail from Halifax, the port of landing, reached just a week after leaving the village. With the added luxury of hot baths, made use of to the full, the accommodation was unsurpassed. Nor has the conduct of any party been more exemplary, so that there remain only the happiest memories of the long journey together like one big family of boys and girls. In the five weeks of his absence Mr. Douglas has covered ten thousand miles by sea, and rail, and road; seen the party distributed and settled; visited about seventy of the children, including some of the new arrivals; and attended along with our Canadian superintendent two conferences in connection with the proposed new Ontario legislation affecting immigration. His first visit was to a fine Christian lad, who during the slack time on the farm last winter, took a correspondence course with a view to joining the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, next Fall. In the city of Kingston a girl who expects to graduate as a nurse next month was seen. Later some time was spent with another, who is a school teacher, and is spending her holiday in the same city taking the vacation course at Queen's University for her arts degree. Three boys were found to be doing brilliant work at the High School in Brockville. One of the new boys was declared to be promising better than any his "boss" had ever employed before; and one of the new girls was found "listening-in" at the radio, with a beaming face that spoke louder than words of the happy home into which she had come. One evening was by no means sufficient to tell the good tidings of even a few of our great Canadian family.

Among a big bundle of letters from members of this and former years' parties is one from a boy, who is now the Ontario representative of the largest publishing house in the Dominion. As a token of gratitude 10s. has been received from one of the girls in a situation at home; and 5s. from another. The elder brother and guardian of two girls, who recently left the Homes to reside with him in Edinburgh, has sent £1 saying, "I would like to take this opportunity of thanking you, and expressing my gratitude for your kindness to them, specially fitting them out for their start in life." In a recent letter from another of the grown-up girls in Glasgow she tells, "I have been hearing Mr. Stewart is coming for another week's mission, and I am very pleased about it. Will you please give him my kindest regards, for although he doesn't know me he is sure to be pleased to hear it was he who brought me to my Lord nearly four years ago."

JUNE, 1924.—Glancing through this month's letters from scattered members of our grown up family, we find several which are sure to be of interest to our readers. One asks us to accept "this small but heartfelt gift of 5s., being a little raise in my wages that I have received this month, which I intend to lay aside every month after this as a token of gratitude to the 'Lord First,' and all the dear and kind friends who had my welfare at heart, when I was in that grand home." She adds, "I am getting on very well and am happy in every way." Another, now married and very comfortably settled in Massachusetts, has enclosed £2, "a little mite to help a bit, wishing it were more." One of the younger boys of the last Canadian party writes, "I thank you very much for supplying me with such a beautiful outfit."

A girl in a situation in a Border town says her master and mistress are very kind, and "I am beginning to feel at home with them, but I still yearn for my own home and friends at Bridge-of-Weir. I was so pleased to see in the Scotsman that an old lady had left you £5000. I know it was an answer to prayer. The Lord is good to us orphans, and we begin to understand when we get older what a Friend He is and thank Him for all His goodness." The following has come with good news after years of silence from one, whom we remember as quite a small boy of the 1907 party:—

A HAPPY FAMILY ON HOLIDAY.

It is so long since I wrote before, and, indeed, seventeen years last March since I left the dear old "Homes," that had not Mr. Winters written you some few weeks ago, I'm sure you would have had great difficulty in ever finding any records of me at all. I feel I owe an apology for my laxity in writing, but I assure you, Miss Quarrier, that I appreciate very much the care given me in my young days, and wish the glorious work all God-speed. I was singularly fortunate in that Mr. Burges, then in charge at Fairknowe, placed me in a good, Christian home with people whom he personally knew, and I was adopted into the family as their son. It is a pleasure for me to inform you that I still live with these good people, and pray God that some day I shall be able in some measure to repay in part their kindness and love. I went to school, receiving a good start, and the war breaking out, and being on a large farm, I couldn't see my way clear to enlist until the last year. I never got overseas, as the signing of the Armistice upset all previous arrangements. For the past five years I have made my home with my foster-parents here in K—, where they are living a rather quiet life, and I am now attending Toronto University, registered in Trinity College as a student in Divinity. It was with no small degree of astonishment that Mr. Winters learned this good news, when I called at Fairknowe some few days ago. Mr. and Mrs. Winters are very genial, and I enjoyed my short visit very much indeed. I shall keep him better informed as time passes re my progress in my studies. I vaguely remember my life at the Homes, but recall sailing on s.s. Sicilian on 30th March, 1907. After that my memory fails me. I shall be pleased to hear from you, wishing you all success.

Almost two hundred delegates to the Reformatory and Refuge Union Conference motored from Glasgow to be shown over the Homes on the afternoon of 5th inst. It is regrettable that their official programme did not allow more time for a careful and detailed survey of the place, as they are all trained experts or in some way connected with work of a nature similiar to our own. A brief statement of the history and principles of the Orphan Homes was given them, while they partook of afternoon tea in the Central Hall, and all seemed delighted with their excursion and what they had seen, one of their number insisting upon gathering nearly seven pounds to buy a treat of sweets for the children, just as the char-a-bancs were about to start on the return journey to the city.

Towards the supply of every day needs £15 has been given by friends in North Berwick; a postal order for 2s. 6d. by an anonymous donor; £2 by members of a junior choir in Lanarkshire; £7 15s. 6d., collectively, by "friends in Kinross and neighbourhood"; £2 and 12 pairs socks by an old lady of 81 years; 19s. by some visitors; 5s. by a wellwisher; other 5s. by a party of visitors from Hungary; £42 15s. by a branch of the Young Helpers' League; 10s. for the Colony of Mercy by a Dumbarton helper, in memory of her sister; £50 by a friend in Otago, N.Z.; 20s., "in memory of mother," by another in Belfast; £5 by a gentleman in San Francisco; other £5 by a lady in France; and £2, a thankoffering, by one who wishes the money spent on the "little sunbeams in Elise Hospital."

The Slamannan donor of 10s. says, "I cannot tell you how greatly I have been helped by just reading your report: it makes me ashamed to doubt." Two little folks in Forfar have sent a guinea "to help to give your little ones a trip to the seaside." £61 18s. 3d. has come from distant Hong Kong; £10 from Montreal; £10 17s. 6d. from readers of the Life of Faith; £1 towards support of our little Moroccan girl; 15s. from one of the old girls; 5s. each from two others; 10s. each from other two; £1 from yet another; and from still another a letter in which we read, "I often look back to the days I spent at Bridge-of-Weir, and thank God for the good He has done for me and my sister all those years, and such a comfortable home and also such kind people looking over me and protecting me when I was an orphan. It is just now I am beginning to realise what has been done for me. If I could live my life over again I would live a better life and a pleasanter. The children will all be looking forward to spending their fortnight at the seaside."

For the last seven weeks painters have been working long hours every day re-decorating Torr Aluinn and Hoop House, so as to be ready in time for the children's holidays which began with the arrival of the first party, numbering nearly 300, on the last Friday of June. When the houses were first opened in 1919, the only available furnishing for the bedrooms, in the short time at our disposal, was a collection of old-fashioned bedsteads, varied in size, shape, and colour, now hardly presentable. To the greatly enhanced convenience and appearance of the establishment these have just been replaced with up-to-date beds of a uniform pattern.

JULY, 1924.—Though in our community holidays are in progress from April or May till September or October, this is pre-eminently the holiday month of the year. On 11th inst. the first party returned home, to be succeeded at Torr Aluinn and Hoop House by the remainder of the boys till, on 25th inst., the first half of the girls began their long-talked of fortnight by the seaside, with its varied programme of shopping excursions to Dunoon and Innellan; picnics by motor 'bus; tennis and putting tournaments; games in the park, and castle-building on the beach. Unfortunately the weather has been very wet, so that it has been necessary to rent two additional marquees as shelter from rain, until we can arrange for building some more suitable permanent structure. Nevertheless the youngsters have enjoyed themselves immensely under conditions which may serve to enhance their appreciation of home comforts and conveniences. A change of fare in different surroundings is ever a boon to old or young.

THE CITY HOME BOYS' CAMP.

During the Glasgow Fair Holidays the lads from the City Home spent a happy time at Tarbert, Loch Fyne, camping on ground adjacent to the public school, kindly put at their disposal for dining and cooking and storage. Even more than our children at Bridge-of-Weir, these lads need the change and bracing air of the sea to equip them against the trying days of winter in the city.

To help cover such extra expenditure, two friends in Selkirk have sent 6s.; another in Irvine, £1; "a few of the girls in the finishing department" of a factory in Penicuik, £1 10s.; some wareroom girls of another factory in a Border town, £3 9s.; a Rothesay helper, 10s., "Hoping some little one may have a happy holiday"; and a lady in far-off Saskatchewan, $10, "as I am leaving in another hour for a holiday to Los Angeles, hoping all the children have a good holiday."

Another Canadian donation is from one who writes of the last Report, "I am always glad to get it. It is like a cheery magazine. The pictures shown and the names mentioned bring back memories of home and the long ago." An anonymous gift of £2 has come in an envelope bearing postmark of Wellington, New Zealand. Along with a frequent contribution from an old friend and former helper in the work in Natal, comes a request for prayer and the glad tidings of not a few, who have lately surrendered their hearts to Christ. May God continue richly to bless this faithful servant and her devoted husband, who is ever about his Father's business, winning souls; one here, another there, under his own hospitable roof, in a railway carriage, or at some gospel service, as he travels up and down the land. From one of our old girls there has also come good news in a long letter, from which we quote these sentences:—

Many thanks for your kind letter. It is nice to know that though we are far away from you your prayers and interest still follow us, and that we are still counted with you. The old saying, "Out of sight, out of mind," does not apply to our friends at the Homes, for though we may be far away we feel and know that we are ever in your thoughts and prayers, and the knowledge is very comforting. I do not think there is ever a time when there is not some great excitement in the village; there is always some bustle of preparation taking place, and your time is always fully occupied. The wonder is that among all your work you can find time to write to us so frequently. I heard about the party of boys and girls who went to Canada in the early part of the year. The boys will be having a good time down at Torr Aluinn. Going away to the seashore is such an exciting thing with the children. It is a topic of conversation for the whole year. I often speak to my mistress about the happy times we had, and she thinks it was wonderful. I quite agree with her. There is no other word which can describe it. My best wishes go with the holiday-makers, and may they carry away as happy memories as I cherish to-day. I can picture your village just now. I can see all the flower beds and bushes on the lawns—a blaze of colour with their bountiful supply of blooms. There we find tongues in trees, books in the running brooks, sermons in stones, and good in everything, for every stone of every building there is a sermon in itself, and all things speak of the God of the Orphan Homes. One day when I was speaking to my mistress of our village, she asked me how the money had come to build all the cottages. I told her the stories of Craigbet and Sagittarius Homes, and she was very much impressed. Do you remember the day you told us these stories, sitting on the seashore at Torr Aluinn? Perhaps Mrs. Findlay may have told you that my sister partook of her first communion a fortnight ago. You see, she is so far away from the Tabernacle that it is not possible for her to get out to the service in the morning. On the evening of the last Sabbath of June we had our midsummer communion, and that gave her the opportunity of joining the church, which she had long wished for. With many thanks for all your kindness and good wishes for our welfare.

Several more of our girls in situations at home have added their "gifts of gratitude" to the family exchequer; three giving 10s. each; other three, 5s. each; and another, £1 10s.; whilst one visiting from Canada left £2; and another, a trained nurse, from the United States, £5. Other five pounds have come from a father and mother, whose daughter is on her way to China as a missionary; two anonymous contributions of half-a-crown each from North Berwick and Stirling; 30s. from Stromness; £2 from Cornwall; £10 from engineers in Hong Kong; £4 14s. 4d., the amount of a special collection from a little church near Aden; and £40 from an anonymous donor's banker.

A cheque for £100 has been sent by a Greenock friend; and one for £1000 by the agent of others in the same place; £50 each for the Homes and the Sanatoria, with £20 for the Colony of Mercy, from a friendly firm in Glasgow; £100 by a son of an old and generous friend, who commended the work to his family as he lay dying; £850 by the trustees of the donor towards restoration of fire damage at the women's block of the Colony of Mercy; and various legacies paid to the treasurer, amounting to £3327 7s. 9d., and including £2000 willed to us by our venerable and sadly missed friend Sir Samuel Chisholm.

AUGUST, 1924.—An Aberdeen friend, interested in two sisters, one of whom was emigrated to Canada and is about to be married, has sent £1 for the general fund, together with 5s. for missions; a couple of friends from Hamilton, Ontario, after their recent visit to the Homes, £5, to say, "We were delighted with all we saw and the very full explanation of the working of all your plans"; two others in Lennox-town, 5s., enquiring about three girls at present within our gates, two of whom used to attend their local Saturday night tea-meeting; a third couple, 10s. towards emigration expenses; and one of our Canadian boys, who came to us as the baby of a family of four, all of whom were emigrated, the following interesting letter:—

Do not think for one minute that we have forgotten you or the work that is being so nobly carried on by you. And although nearly four long years have passed without either of us writing to you, yet we have always remembered you. We both take this opportunity of letting you know how we have and always will appreciate everything done by way of giving us this great start in life. It is indeed with sweet remembrance I look back to the years that I spent at Bridge of Weir, and as I think of everything done for us both, I thank the Lord for ever sending us there and receiving such good care when at the Homes. As I look on the young boys of to-day in this country I see how fortunate I was, receiving such loving care and hearing many times of Christ's love for poor sinners. I only wish I could show my appreciation as I should. You will know that I am working in the Union Bank of Canada, and as pay is not too good at the start, you will realise why I have not done so before now. I am sure you will be anxious to know how we are keeping and how we like Canada. We have both been in the best of health ever since coming out. My brother still works with his flowers, thanks to his experience at Bridge of Weir. You will be glad that I am still on the Lord's side. On Saturday night for the last few weeks we have been having open-air meetings in country places 15 to 20 miles outside of Ottawa. The seed is surely being sown. May the Lord richly bless its increase. Then on Sunday night I am at another open-air meeting in the city. I have at our little hall a Sunday School class. You no doubt have heard about my sister's wedding. She is very happy in her new home. I sincerely hope you are in the best of health. May the Lord richly bless you and the work you are so graciously carrying on. Best wishes to the workers and, above all, to yourself.

During the month one of the grown-up family in the homeland has contributed 12s. 6d.; another, 6s.; a third, 5s.; and a fourth, £1. Five shillings is "a little offering for His name's sake"; 2s. 6d. from a widow for the Missions Fund; other 2s. 6d., "Holiday fines from three little children"; £7, the gift of three ladies in Kirkwall; £5, of a Dumbarton wellwisher, with thanks for kindness shown to a party of visitors; five guineas, of helpers in New Zealand; £10, collected from friends in Largs; and £5, of an anonymous helper in Dunoon. Two other anonymous contributions came to hand in one day; the first, under postmark of Lanark, amounted to 12s. 6d., "Just a little gift to help on the good work"; and the second, from Kilmarnock, was a bank draft for £20. On the following day from Perth there also was received, "A donation for Quarrier's Homes, £100, anonymous."

Five pounds, towards the maintenance of a delicate little girl in the Homes, has been "gathered in pence, and is a voluntary offering of our Thrift Club members." One who desires to be known as "Helper" has sent £3. Of this sum £2 is for the Missions Fund, "to cheer and comfort in a small way one of your band of preachers"; the other £1,

"to gladden the hearts and brighten the faces of some of your sick children." The wise donor of £2, "in memory of a good man laid to rest to-day," asks us to acknowledge his gift to the widow for he says, "Helping those in need is a truer tribute to his memory than spending the money on flowers. He thought of others far more than of himself."

We are continually beholden to clergymen of all denominations, as well as to laymen, who come to us week by week as the Lord's messengers to the community. Some unselfishly rob their holidays to give us a Sunday, and others, out of a busy life, spare us what they dare not promise another congregation. They have our hearty thanks, and we shall be happier to think that those, who gave us of their best, have not themselves gone empty away. A Glasgow mother, enclosing a family donation, writes, "Our minister, who was with you lately, gave us a very interesting talk on your work and workers. You have made another interested friend for life." In this connection the following letter from a Sanatoria patient has given us cause for thanksgiving:—

Before leaving here to-morrow I should like to convey to you my grateful thanks for all the happy hours I have spent in your beautiful church. Coming here, as I did, broken in body and bruised in spirit, spiritual food was even more necessary than the material. To hear the children singing is alone an inspiration, and the whole service is most helpful. To-day's address was one of the best of many good ones. I am deeply indebted for all the attention and consideration received during my stay here.

The last day of the month finds all of the children safely back from their holidays. For the provision, which always overflows the necessities to leave something for such greatly appreciated extras; and not less for the watchful care, saving us the sorrow of any untoward happening during the long summer vacation, we pour out our hearts in renewed thanksgiving to the Father of Mercies—the Friend of Little Children.

SEPTEMBER, 1924.—A friend, inquiring the date fixed for Thanksgiving Day, has sent in her letter £1, "given with a prayer, that God may open the hearts of those who can give in large measure, so that the needs of the dear orphans may be supplied," and quoted the injunction, "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ." Thank God for the host unseen of praying friends the world o'er, who are bearing our burdens by casting our cares upon Him. How often we have been conscious of the very real power of someone's intercession on our behalf, as some dreaded and apparently insurmountable difficulty has disappeared.

The weary ones had rest, the sad had joy
That day; I wondered how.
A ploughman, singing at his work, had prayed,
"Lord, help them now."

Yes, we are always wondering, wondering "how";
Because we do not see
Someone, unknown, perhaps, and far away,
On bended knee.

"We have bad times out here," writes a barrister from Saskatchewan, "but they will be really very bad before I persuade myself to omit my annual subscription to your noble work. Here is the guinea with every good wish." An old friend in Canada, who often forwards small sums from persons he has interested in the Homes, having written him suggesting he might help us, a donor in the Borders says, "He told me that had I been travelling over his way he would have 'tapped' me for a guinea or so, but I see no prospect of being in Winnipeg and falling into his clutches. I have, however, a great respect for him and I feel that it may please and encourage him as well as you, so here is £5 with my best wishes."

Of those who have the will and means to give in large measure, two sisters in India have asked their brother to forward £200; a city man has contributed £100, in memory of his mother and elder son; someone in Leith, a thankoffering amounting to £20; "Teach me, Lord, how much I owe," £150; and a lady who resides within a short distance of the Homes, £100, "with very best wishes, as I cannot be with you on Friday." A former helper in the work has passed on a shilling, which she had received in a station waiting-room, for our boys and girls from a poor woman, who makes her living by working in a garden. It may be that, in the Master's reckoning, she "hath cast in more than they all."

An American minister, who visited recently and took part in the mid-week service, handed the superintendent £1, "for Jackie and the invalids at the Hospital." Two guineas have been received from a father and daughter in Johannesburg; £1 from Adelaide, and £10 from Sydney, Australia; 2 guineas, "In memory of my beloved friend, Mary Slessor"; $5 "from an old friend in far away British Columbia"; and £2 from Belfast, asking us to unite in thanksgiving to God "for the great many souls that have been born again here."

This month of two anniversaries has brought an unusually large number of gifts from old boys and girls, and workers past and present, from Inverness to Dumfries, from Edinburgh to Bute, from India and China. Twenty shillings is "just a small thankoffering to help to carry on this great work," in which a couple have found happiness in service; £5, "a thankoffering and remembrance" from another; £5 "of Thine own"; and £3 from one of the mothers who exclaims, "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits." One of the old workers says, "I am so very glad I was permitted to spend those years in the service of the Orphan Homes," and one of her old girls, who was by no means always easy to get on with, writes of her, "I never felt so happy with anyone as I did with her." In another letter we read these sentences, "I sometimes meet some of the old girls. It's so nice to see the old faces, and we have so much to talk about the happy days we did not appreciate half enough at Bridge-of-Weir."

Not a few friends, unable to unite with us in person, have sent tokens of their fellowship in thanksgiving, as on the 26th September, we have celebrated at once, the anniversary of the formal opening of the Homes, and of the beloved Founder's birth. An old fellow-worker, whose memory goes back to the "early days," exactly expressed our own feelings, when she says, "God is good to us to-day as the sunshine is flooding the earth with joy. May the sunshine of His Presence fill our hearts with thankfulness and peace." Seldom has the day been so fine. Truly, "this is the day the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it."

Nor have we been without guests in plenty, to the number of nearly 1500, to share our joy and revel in the sunshine, beaming through the rich foliage, making glorious the flowers in a perfect riot of colour. Besides our big family, quite 1200 visitors were packed into the church for the afternoon service, the inspiration of which is but poorly conveyed in the Glasgow Herald's full report of the meeting.

A special thanksgiving and memorial service was held yesterday afternoon at the Orphan Homes of Scotland, Bridge of Weir, at which Lord MacLay presided, and he was accompanied to the platform by Dr. Henry Montgomery, ex-Moderator of the Presbyterian Church of Ireland; Dr. John C. Young, Aden; the Rev. Charles Robson, Alloa; Miss Mary Quarrier; Pastor Findlay; the Rev. Dr. Swan, Leith; Mr. W. M. Oatts, and others.

Lord MacLay, in referring to the work of the Homes and the other institutions, said he thought their influence indirectly was even greater than their visible presence. He would like to suggest that Mr. Quarrier was the forerunner of a great movement for the betterment of the poor, the needy, and the suffering. His work had been copied, not only in this land, but in many other lands. It had been taken up by great corporations such as that of Glasgow, by the Christian public, and by authorities throughout the country. They had gone on following the lines Mr. Quarrier laid down until to-day the poor and destitute were largely cared for. Fifty years ago there was very little done in Scotland for the poor children of the street. Mr. Quarrier realised the greatness of the work, and he started and developed it in so wonderful a way until to-day they had that great institution. It was hard to think that 50 years ago children were so little cared for, and it was a joy to know that things were so different now. He did not suggest that there were not still many who needed looking after, but where they were found there was at least some institution where they could be fed and cared for. The same could be said of the Consumption Sanatoria. Mr. Quarrier had no wish to start that great work, but no one else would take it up. He felt the call come to him, and he set on foot that movement. Others had followed in his footsteps. The same thing applied to the Colony for Epileptics. He found that there were many little children in the city who were suffering from epilepsy. The little ones afflicted with that disease were often kept out of sight, and were a constant source of anxiety to those who had the care of them. So Mr. Quarrier started the Colony for Epileptics. These children were not now sent to asylums. Throughout Scotland there were a number of institutions to which young people suffering from epilepsy might be sent.

SPIRIT OF CHRISTIANITY.

He did not propose to speak of the expenditure, which was going up in proportion as the work increased, but he might mention that in connection with the fresh-air home at Innellan a large extension had been made, and at present there were schemes on hand for improvements in connection with the light and water supplies of the Homes. It was probable also that building operations might be begun for the erection of baths and other buildings. If anyone was tempted to ask was it worth while, let them think of the great stream of young life that had been saved, many of them physically, morally, and spiritually. They were scattered to-day over the wide world, some in humble and others in high positions, but those connected with the Homes loved to think that wherever they were they carried with them something that they had learned there. (Applause.) Lord MacLay also referred to the valuable work that was being carried on in the Consumption Sanatoria and the Colony for Epileptics. He thought there was never a greater embodiment of Christianity than was to be found in these places, nor a greater example of what true religion was. It was sometimes asked what was to be the future of that place. They knew not. But he would like to say the work was God's work. The children who came there were His children, and just so long as God sent the children provision would be made for the work to be carried on. (Applause.)

The Rev. Dr. Henry Montgomery said he had been over the world pretty well, and he did not know of any other such institution or class of work that seemed to represent the love of Christ so much as did that carried on in the Homes at Bridge of Weir. William Quarrier was a wonderful man. He had a very clear mind and a very warm heart. He was a man with a vision, and, like Michael Angelo, who saw an angel in a rough block of marble, William Quarrier saw in the poor boy of Glasgow streets the making of a true-hearted Scottish citizen and of a good Christian. He did not know of anything more remarkable in their remarkable country than the man who, born in humble circumstances, became one of the greatest philanthropists in the world. (Applause.)

Other speakers followed, and after the service an exhibition of drill was given by boys and girls at the school.

OCTOBER, 1924.—"It surpassed my expectations," is the comment of one, who at the Thanksgiving Service raised his hand as having known Mr. Quarrier, though, strangely enough, it was his first visit to the Homes. One writes from New Zealand, "Although so far away it is a joy to remember you and the Homes in our prayers. That visit to Bridge-of-Weir is still fresh in my memory and is not likely to be forgotten." Another in the same part of the world also assures us that "we remember you daily at the Throne of Grace."

On the day prior to the twenty-first anniversary of the beloved Founder's home-going, we laid to rest, in the little cemetery behind the church, the worn-out body of a little girl, whose closing weeks of life were spent in great weakness at Elise Hospital. This is the first death among the children since May, 1923—surely a unique and remarkable record of good health in such a community as ours. Nor has there been any epidemic in our midst during the year just closing. For these, too, by no means the least of His countless mercies, we give God thanks. Yet we have not been without sorrow and loss, for two of our workers have been called to their reward in the persons of Mr. Thomas Pratt and Mrs. Humphrey Giffen. The former, in the prime of his manhood, was taken from our midst with tragic suddenness, when we could ill spare his thoughtful and devoted service; the latter, having far exceeded the allotted span, went to join her husband, who was the partner of her long years of service here.

To help swell the treasury the Bible class in connection with a Fife company of the Boys' Brigade have sent £5; someone in Somerset, 5s. for the general fund, with 5s. for Jewish missions; another, anonymously from Glasgow, 2s. 6d.; a mother and her two daughters in Dundee, £1 10s.; friends in Moffat, collectively, £9; the mother of one of our "mothers," 10s.; "George's Sisters," £5 for their orphan and £10 for the general fund; the Dundee branch of the Union Bank, £35 on the instructions of a client; a lady in Melbourne, Australia, £25, per Reuter's Agency; another in Sydney, N.S.W., £2; the trustees of a bequest, £80; an aged minister in Blackpool, 10s. for the Homes, with 5s. each for the Sanatoria and the Colony of Mercy; two missionaries on furlough, £3; a helper in Durban, other £3; employees of an Edinburgh foundry, their monthly contribution this time amounting to 11s.; a friend in Chili, £5; others in Campbeltown, £20 19s. 6d.; an anonymous donor, $10, posted at the Hudson Terminal in New York City; one of the girls, 5s.; and another 10s., asking if she may come for a week-end, as "there is nothing on earth that gives me more pleasure than to see the old home again."

No gift so inspires the drooping heart of a weary worker like a word of gratitude, such as we have from a Sanatoria patient, who writes:—

I very much regret that in the excitement of leaving I omitted to bid you farewell. I regret it all the more because I never entered at the Homes' gates without experiencing a sensation of peace and spiritual strength and comfort. In the contemplation of the activities of the village I have learned many a lesson in sympathy, compassion, and service from which, in all humility, I trust I have benefited. I shall take the earliest opportunity of personally expressing to you my deep appreciation of, and gratitude for, the noble work that is being carried on in Bridge of Weir under your guidance.

What a lot of gifts in kind have come to hand throughout the year. Their variety is endless, and includes every conceivable article of clothing; meat, fish, groceries, provisions, and potatoes; fruit, bread, cakes, and tea; drugs, hot water bottles, bulbs, and firewood; dolls, toys, games, and books. Almost everything we have found a use for, and some things have arrived just in the nick of time to meet a special need, as for example, the small child's bicycle, on which the village postman now makes his welcome rounds.

To every "helper together with us," whether by prayer, or gift, or work, we say "thank you" on our own behalf as well as for the children and sick folk under our care. The Lord Himself, will see to the reward, "inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these." May this simple Narrative bless every reader as already in the making it has blessed the writer. With the Psalmist, we can say from blessed experience, "it is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord."

O come, let us sing unto the Lord:
Let us come before His presence with thanksgiving,
O come, let us worship and bow down:
For He is our God:
And we are the people of His pasture,
and the sheep of His hand.

THE CITY ORPHAN HOME.

At the heart of the City, within sound of the old Tolbooth Steeple Bells, stands the City Home and Mission Hall. The work carried on is of a very varied character, full of absorbing interest to all who are privileged to labour in it.

Every week children from different parts of Scotland are received into the Home before being sent on to Bridge-of-Weir. As one watches them come in, nervous and afraid, and then, twenty-four hours later, go out bright and cheerful, one thanks God for the "visions" William Quarrier saw. Here are resident some seventy young lads over fifteen years of age, all working at various trades, keen to learn all they can to equip themselves to make their own way in life when they leave the shelter of the Homes. Largely through their own efforts, seventeen of them, accompanied by the Superintendent and Matron, visited London and the Empire Exhibition, and spent a full week of unalloyed pleasure and profit. The Lord Mayor and Lady Mayoress of London very kindly received them at the Mansion House, and entertained them to tea.

The summer camp at Tarbert, Loch Fyne, with its mountain climbing, sea bathing, boating, and rambling, was a real health-giving time. The Silver Band, now one of the finest lads' bands in Glasgow, is ever ready to assist deserving causes in and around the city.

The stranger who enters our Mission for the first time cannot understand the fine atmosphere; the saving influence at work; and the crowds of men, women, and children who throng it. What, they ask, is the explanation? The reply invariably is:—"Other men laboured, and we are entered into their labours."

On Sabbath evenings our hall is packed in every part with a very cosmopolitan crowd. It is a soul-uplifting service, and nothing is more sure that when the "Books" are opened very many will be found to have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb at the Orphan Home Hall.

The Women's Service every Tuesday continues to be a revelation of God's presence with us. The membership is now five hundred, and the average attendance four hundred and thirty. It is in many ways the most wonderful service of the week, and who can measure the influence of this great crowd of women in their homes and stairheads. Opportunity is also given to the members of putting away a little money in the "Bank" against "a rainy day," rent day, or a trip "doon the watter."

The Christian Endeavour of young people is very much alive with its open-air and Bible study on the Tuesday evening.

The mid-week service on Wednesday at eight o'clock is a real "Bridge-of-Helpfulness" between the Sabbaths, and is largely attended.

On Thursday, at seven o'clock, the Boys' and Girls' Lantern Story continues to draw a big crowd of youngsters. Their joy, their gladness, their appreciation, their noise make everybody feel "young," and it is in reality a "Joy Service."

The Young Women's Bible Class, conducted by Mrs. Young, is proving a real blessing. Some seventy are now on the roll, and testimony is continually being given of the way in which it is helping to mould, uplift, and inspire the girls to higher service.

Last, but not least, is the Children's Morning Service on Sabbath, under the auspices of the G.F.B.R.S. This service is only four weeks old, but already some one hundred and forty girls and boys have enrolled, with thirty monitors.

In conclusion, I would express sincere thanks for the loyalty and willing co-operation of staff and workers, without whose help the work could not be carried on.

WALTER YOUNG.

EMIGRATION WORK.

No year since 1897 has been so eventful in the annals of Canadian Juvenile Emigration as this. Important conferences of Cabinet Ministers and representatives of organisations engaged in this work have been held in London and in Toronto, with the result that what looked like insurmountable barriers in the way of continuing such emigration have been removed; the voluntary societies who have given themselves to this valuable service have been drawn closer together in a common cause; and the Ontario as well as the Federal Government have endorsed with their approval the settlement and after-care of our children, for more and more of whom they are pleading with us to emigrate to that vast Dominion of boundless opportunities under the old flag within the British Empire. Public as well as official opinion has been stirred to interest itself in the welfare of these young folks as never before, so that we hope for still better things in the days to come.

Not only in the selection and supervision of homes for our children have we always been scrupulously careful, but also in the choice of candidates for emigration. It is interesting to note that, in the case of the party referred to below, the average period of residence in the Homes was six years and seven months. The average cost of outfit and transportation per child sent to Canada this year was twenty-four pounds. Outfits for girls have worked out at two pounds per head more than the price of those for boys.

The following paragraphs are from our Canadian Superintendent's report just to hand:—

The event of our year, of course, is the advent of the new additions to our ranks from Bridge of Weir. We were very proud of the sixty-three boys and girls who came in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas. All of these, as usual, were very easily placed in choice homes, a large application list being available from which to select.

Our visitation, which is all but complete, still reveals a remarkable compatibility of personalities concerned. It is seldom indeed that a grievous complaint is made, and in most cases praise is unstintingly given. Children also rarely have a complaint to offer. There are, of course, the inevitable few who are the exceptions. I am glad to say, however, that we have nothing serious to report, and, on the whole, it can be said without the fear of refutation, that no class of boys and girls could be expected to do better.

It is a tribute to the physical fitness of our children that not only have there been no deaths, but no sickness in our ranks, apart from two 1923 boys, each of whom had the appendix removed.

The bank savings of the children continues to be creditable indeed. The farmer is passing through times which do not enable him to pay as high wages as during the war. In spite of this and the comparatively high cost of living, the savings each year are good. Undoubtedly many are thereby initiated into thrifty habits of living. One boy, on becoming twenty-one years of age, came in to draw his savings ($300.00) during the period under our care. In the three years interval he had saved an additional $300.00.

Few of the boys coming to us are of school age, but all these are doing well in their studies. Ten older boys and girls are pressing on with higher educational work. Others have been inquiring of us as to the possibilities in this direction. The success of one inspires others.

Altogether our year has been a happy one. Our life is full of little details, sometimes very monotonous, but when one stands back and gets the right perspective one is impressed with the privilege that is ours to guide and help so many through these critical years of their experience. Our hearts are frequently made glad and encouraged by the visit of old boys and girls who sometimes were not all that those in charge of them might have expected, but are now useful and prosperous citizens. Some of these are amongst the first with whom we personally dealt fifteen years ago, and in the succeeding years.

With an expression of gratitude unto our God for all His mercies and help the above is respectfully submitted.

CLAUDE A. WINTERS.

HOME AND FOREIGN MISSIONS FUND.

WITH God there can, of course, be no distinction between "Home" and "Foreign" Missions; all are one to Him, and in all of them He doubtless has an equal interest. It may give rather a startling shock to our human ideas of value—but it is and must be literally true that the soul of our gracious King George is of no more value before God than the soul of a poor outcaste pariah in India! For all alike our Lord made His great missionary descent from Glory to Calvary; and on the Cross He poured out His heart's life blood for all when "He tasted death for every man." And so every one of us, who has found and enjoys his own interest in the great salvation, is bound in fealty to his Saviour to do everything in his power to make Him known to "every creature" in "all the world." We have no choice as to whether we will or will not "go in for foreign missions"! God lays His great "Go ye" upon every one of us, and while we cannot all go literally, we all must have some share in fulfilling the command.

This was the attitude taken up by Mr. Quarrier in training his children at Bridge-of-Weir, and we seek to go on walking in his footsteps. He had a great missionary heart that was always overflowing with the desire and effort to help the needy ones, wherever he could reach them. Long ago he instituted the practice of giving all the money gathered in the boxes at the church services to missionary objects, at home and abroad, and this excellent system we still follow, to the joy and blessing of the children and our fellow workers. These boxes have gathered in the past financial year £374 5s. 8d., to which falls to be added a sum of £1072 14s. 6d., specially sent in for this fund. This amount has been divided amongst 56 missions, by the request and vote of the children themselves, and it is a privilege, which we greatly value, to be the medium of passing on their gifts to those who benefit by them. Mission secretaries and individual missionaries often write to tell us how sacred they consider gifts which come from Bridge-of-Weir, and how often they arrive at God's "nick of time." "The secret of the Lord is with them that fear Him," and frequently He gives a strange impulse to send help to some worker, just at the time when, unknown to us, he is in some special need.

The six missionaries towards whose support we contribute most largely—Mr. and Mrs. Cuthbert Nairn (South Morocco), Mr. and Mrs. James H. Haldane (Brazil), Mr. John Ritchie (Peru), and Miss Anna Ritchie (China)—have all had a good year in their different spheres; plenty of trials to keep them humble, but also plenty of cheery experiences to save from discouragement. Please make these faithful men and women, together with all others to whom our fund contributes, subjects for much earnest and unwearied prayer. In the great Harvest Home those who sow and those who reap will rejoice together.

Matron—MISS TAYLOR.

Tuberculosis as a disease is slowly being conquered. It is true that in 1923, 5,790 people died of it in Scotland. Of that number, 3,996 died of the pulmonary form of the disease. The death rate, however, was the lowest on record. It was only 118 per 100,000 for all forms of the disease, and 82 per 100,000 for the pulmonary form of the disease. When the Consumption Sanatoria of Scotland were being built in 1895, the death rate was 256 per 100,000 for all forms of the disease, and 184 per 100,000 for the pulmonary variety. In those twenty-eight years the claim made by the disease on the population generally has been reduced by 53.9 per cent. In other words, if the death rate last year had been as it was when Mr. Quarrier began his work, instead of 5,790 having died of the disease in 1923, 12,546 would have died.

In building these Sanatoria, Mr. Quarrier set an example to the country, and following on this, the first institution of its kind in Scotland, there have sprung up similar institutions of a private or public nature in almost every town of importance, certainly in practically every county. Although this has been the case, there has not by any means been any diminution in the demand for beds.

Lessened prevalence of the disease and increased facilities for the treatment of the disease have in no degree affected the need for this institution. It was Mr. Quarrier's desire to provide for 200 patients. This year the average number in residence each day has been 164. As many as 172 have been in the Sanatoria at a time, and we have often wished that the accommodation were what Mr. Quarrier aimed at.

Many we have had regretfully to refuse to admit, and not a few to their detriment have been kept waiting for admission for much too long a period.

At the beginning of the year there were 164 patients in residence and 171 at the end. During the period under review there were admitted 87 males and 107 females; and 180 were discharged—80 males and 100 females. There were 7 deaths in the institution—4 males and 3 females. Most of those admitted suffered from pulmonary tuberculosis. The others were cases of tuberculosis of the spine, of the hip, of the kidney, and of the glands of the neck. A few cases were not tuberculous. One suffered from scoliosis and one from anaemia, another from syphilis, another from empyema, and two from cancer of the lung.

There is an idea prevalent that the Sanatoria, like the Orphan Homes, deal only with children. This, of course, is not so. There are only 22 beds for females of school years. We have no accommodation for boys.

Only 15 were school children. The age distribution for the year was:—

Age, -	5—15	16—20	21—25	26—30	31—40	41—50	51—60
	9.6%	13.2%	14.4%	15.5%	25.7%	14.9%	6.5%

The majority were, therefore, at that period of life from 15 to 35 years of age—when from the earliest historical times tuberculosis has ever made its chief claim.

The patients have been drawn from almost every part of Scotland—from the Western Isles and Shetland to the Borders. An endeavour is made to maintain the national character of the institution by favouring no district particularly. None of the beds is reserved. The patients have also been drawn from numerous walks of life, the artizan, the domestic and the professional.

Many have been sent into the institution at the instance of the Public Health Authorities of the country. An increasing number has been admitted privately. There is great need for accommodation at a reasonable figure for that middle class who like to be independent and yet cannot afford to go for a prolonged period to private sanatoria where the charges require to be somewhat heavy. The actual cost of treatment worked out about 45/- per week per patient, and that charge has been made for all, irrespective of the source of payment.

There were 167 cases of pulmonary tuberculosis dealt with and discharged throughout the year. Of these 76 were males and 91 females. We classified them according to the Turban Gerhardt scale; 26 or 12.5 per cent. were in the early stage, 66 or 39.5 per cent. were in an intermediate stage, and 75 or 44.9 per cent. were in an advanced stage of the disease. We were very glad to get so many early cases. The satisfaction of handling such was great. 84.6 per cent. had the disease arrested, and only 7.7 per cent. were not improved. The number of those admitted with advanced disease was too high. Seldom can a cure be effected in such. 10.6 per cent. only had the disease arrested, and 40 per cent. were not improved. All those who died in the institution were admitted in an advanced condition. Our methods of treatment are varied. One method—the induction of an artificial pneumothorax by which the affected lung is collapsed and given rest, frequently produces very encouraging results in advanced cases. Several of those admitted in an advanced stage were admitted with a view to this treatment being carried out. Failure to secure compression because of adhesions of the pleura has swelled the percentage of cases not improved. Taking all cases together, 39.5 per cent. had the disease arrested during residence in the Sanatoria, 32.9 per cent. were improved, 24.5 per cent. were not improved, and 2.9 per cent. died.

Figures such as these do not give a true mental picture of the work accomplished. A glance at a few illustrated cases may be of more value.

Case A.—A female patient had for six months been much troubled with cough, spit, pain in the chest, and loss of voice. She tried the effect of a change to the coast, but returned rather worse. When we admitted her to the Sanatoria very active disease was present. Artificial pneumothorax failed to control it. It took four months to get her temperature settled, and it was nine months before her larynx was satisfactory. When we discharged her she had no symptoms of tuberculosis and had been doing four hours garden work for nearly six months.

Case B.—Is a young man who had not been well for ten years. He took colds readily, had frequent attacks of bronchitis, and just before admission had had repeated attacks of hæmoptysis. After admission to the Sanatoria he made rapid progress towards recovery. When, however, he had been with us a few months here was an exacerbation. His sputum was increased and tubercle bacilli became more numerous. There obviously was an extension of the lung lesion. General measures failed to secure an arrest of the progress of the disease, and artificial pneumothorax was also unsuccessful because of adhesions. A tubercle vaccine was given. It seemed to act in his case specifically. For fully five months previous to discharge he had no cough, spit, or other tuberculous symptoms, and did four hours hard garden work daily.

Case C.—A female patient five years previously had had a severe attack presumably of bronchitis for which she had been kept in bed for nine months. Since then there had been frequently recurring attacks of cough and spit. Previous to admission, while on holiday, she had an acute attack of lung mischief, and the sputum on examination was found to contain numerous tubercle bacilli. After admission to the Sanatorium, with rest and graduated exercise rapid progress was made. She increased over a stone in weight and felt perfectly well. The cough and spit, however, continued. It frequently was very troublesome and always showed numerous tubercle bacilli. Once it was blood stained. When she had been with us for six months an artificial pneumothorax was induced. It checked the cough, the sputum was gradually reduced to a mere trace in the morning, and for six months previous to discharge failed to show tubercle bacilli although examined on fully twenty occasions.

Case D.—A married woman who had contracted tuberculosis from attending to one of her family so affected, was admitted with disseminated pulmonary disease and well marked laryngeal mischief which caused discomfort on swallowing and loss of voice. Dyspepsia was also a marked feature of her case, and she had a good deal of trouble with cystitis. For three months she did not do well. We kept her in bed continually. Eventually she reacted. Her weight increased 16 pounds. With light treatment the laryngeal lesion was arrested. After eleven months residence she was discharged in excellent condition generally, having been free for three months from tubercle bacilli and other evidences of active disease. Her chief desire was to return home to look after the one from whom she had contracted her malady, and who was working rather hard.

Many complications were encountered in dealing with the pulmonary form of the disease. Chief among these, both in number and in importance, was laryngeal tuberculosis. 43 patients were thus affected. Fortunately the condition is not so hopeless as at one time was the case. The majority of cases did well. One new method of treatment—direct light therapy, has proved to be particularly beneficial. There are now five lamps in use daily for this and other forms of tuberculosis. Abdominal tuberculosis was present in 19 cases. Adenitis, tuberculous abscesses, dactylitis, orchitis, and tuberculosis of the kidney were the other principal tuberculous complications. The chief non-tuberculous complications were asthma, otitis media, rheumatism and nephritis. The complications of tuberculosis not infrequently come on with dramatic suddenness and with disheartening effects, for example:—

Case E.—A young man with extensive lupus of the shoulder and of the foot was doing very well. The shoulder condition cleared up, and the lesion of the foot which had persisted for 19 years was almost healed. We looked forward to his getting up, when one night without warning he had a profuse hæmoptysis, and died within five minutes.

Case F.—A female patient who had spinal disease, hip joint disease and dactylitis. She had been in bed for a year previous to admission. When admitted she was in such a condition that the slightest jar caused her great pain. While under treatment she improved very greatly. The pain was entirely removed, and she could move about with comparative freedom. Suddenly she developed a high temperature and severe pain in the head, and in a few days died of meningitis.

In the recognition of early disease we are convinced from our experience, not only during the past but also during previous years, that too much attention is paid to physical signs and too little to the symptoms of the disease. These often are well marked long before the signs of the disease are at all definite. The chief symptoms complained of in the early stages were, as is to be expected, respiratory—cough, spit, pleurisy, hæmoptysis, etc. Often, however, the symptoms are misleading and apparently point to disease in systems other than the respiratory. Indigestion, abdominal discomfort, anaemia, and neurasthenia particularly were met with. For example:—

Case G.—A female patient was treated for three years for abdominal discomfort. She had the gastric contents analysed, abdominal massage, special diets, etc., without any improvement. Eventually she was referred to a surgeon with a view to having the operation of gastro-enterostomy. He discovered lung disease. There was fairly extensive infiltration on the left side, and her sputum contained numerous tubercle bacilli. She was admitted to the Sanatorium. The abdominal condition subsided with the tuberculin treatment and general measures prescribed for the pulmonary disease. It required no special therapy. The lung lesion also yielded satisfactorily. For several months prior to discharge she was very well in every way.

Case H.—This patient for several years had been treated for neurasthenia. The fact had been overlooked that she had a very bad tuberculous family history. Two brothers had died of tuberculosis, and one was incapacitated on account of it. She herself several years previously had had a small hæmoptysis. There was no cough but well marked dulness in both the lungs. She remained in the Sanatorium for seven months, and during that time lost her symptoms completely and gained a stone in weight. She was able to return to her former occupation.

We have continued to encourage our patients to remain on in the Sanatoria as long as they were going uphill and improving. As a result, the average duration of stay has been a long one. It was 316 days. The longest period of residence was 1,429 days, the shortest 17 days. 21 or 12.6 per cent. remained under 3 months, 54 or 32.3 per cent. remained 3–6 months; 26 or 15.5 per cent. remained 7–9 months; 15 or 8.9 per cent. remained for 10–12 months; 51 or 30.5 per cent. remained over a year. The two who remained longest were:—

Case I.—A male patient who in addition to pulmonary tuberculosis suffered from tuberculous ulcers of both feet, tuberculosis of the knee, extensive lupus of the wrist, dactylitis, dacryocystitis, enlarged glands of the neck with scrofuloderma, tuberculosis of the pharynx, and laryngeal disease. He was with us for three years and seven months. Out of that time he was in bed for 2 years and 5 months. On discharge he had all the lesions arrested, and resumed his former occupation.

Case J.—A female patient who on admission was suffering from advanced phthisis, tuberculosis of the spine and tuberculosis of the knee. She was with us three years and eleven months. Of that time she was 2 years and 9 months on absolute rest in bed. She increased in weight nearly $3\frac{1}{2}$ stones, and was discharged with all the lesions apparently arrested. To have discharged either of those cases earlier would have been a mistake. They would have been dependent on others and unfit for duties. As it is they are very well both locally and generally, and more or less fit for their ordinary work.

It has been a pleasure to meet almost each week with old patients who return to visit those with whom they have been associated, or to report. Most of them carry on the treatment while at work and do well. We have been specially gratified by the visit of one who, after fully three years' residence, had his disease arrested with artificial pneumothorax, and who, after leaving the Sanatoria, has gone through, with great success, strenuous university courses in this country and abroad. He has been appointed to the staff of one of our great universities.

One would again take this opportunity of expressing gratitude and praise to the Matron and her staff of nurses for their loyal and faithful co-operation in the work of the institution. The excellent spirit manifested everywhere and the encouraging results of the work are largely, if not altogether, due to their untiring efforts from day to day.

COLONY OF MERCY FOR EPILEPTICS.

There were at the beginning of the year 94 colonists in residence—49 men, 22 women, 16 boys, and 7 girls. There were admitted 30 patients—4 men, 12 women, 9 boys, and 5 girls; and 31 were discharged—9 men, 11 women, 7 boys, and 4 girls. Two male colonists died during the year, both of status epilepticus. At the close of the year 91 patients were in residence.

Epilepsy is a disorder of the nervous system characterised by repeated attacks of unconsciousness associated usually with convulsions. The sudden discharge of nervous energy during a seizure has frequently a very detrimental effect on the brain tissue, producing sluggishness of action, a dulling of the mental activities, irritability of temper and general instability. Not infrequently, without warning, transient attacks of insanity manifest themselves. Epileptic patients are, therefore, a very mixed lot. A few are bright and intelligent, some are exceptionally gifted, the majority are difficult, quarrelsome and inclined to be indolent. There is a close relationship between epilepsy and crime. "The criminal is essentially an epileptic even though he shows none of the ordinary signs of the disease," is a dictum of Lombroso which has in it a good deal of truth and suggestion. There is no doubt that in the majority of instances epileptics for their own safety, as well as for the comfort of those related to them, should be in an institution such as the Colony. There, continually under medical supervision, protected from irregularities and such excitement as is likely to stimulate them and produce seizures, and provided with employment, they improve and usually are happier and healthier.

We have three houses at the Colony—one for females, one for boys, and a third for men. Because of the mixed character of those affected with the disease, it would probably be better if the Colony were larger and the houses more numerous to permit of the classification of patients. Those who are bright and intelligent would not then require to associate continually with those at a lower level mentally. A greater variety of occupations could also be engaged in.

There were 14,112 fits recorded during the year—4,171 were of the grand-mal or major type, characterised by rapid loss of consciousness, tonic and clonic convulsions, and followed often by long periods of unfitness or automatic phenomena that made the individuals a danger to themselves and a disturbing influence to those around. 9,941 fits were of the petit mal or minor type, characterised by sudden loss of consciousness, without any convulsions, yet frequently with well marked post-epileptic features.

The treatment of the disease, apart from regulation of exercise and supervision of diet, has consisted in various medicinal measures. Because of the indefinite and undoubtedly varied etiological features of the disease, the effect of these has differed greatly in individual cases. In several, complete cessation of seizures has been secured. Some of the cases have returned to ordinary life. In other instances, the mental impairment resulting from repeated seizures has been such, that although the fits were arrested, a return to ordinary life and work was out of all question.

There have been very few changes in the staff during the year. One cannot but admire the constancy and the devotion of those who have remained year after year at this difficult and often discouraging work.

SUMMARY OF THE YEAR'S WORK.

ORPHAN HOMES OF SCOTLAND, BRIDGE-OF-WEIR, AND CITY ORPHAN HOME, GLASGOW. —On 1st November, 1923, there were resident in the Homes 1,115 boys and girls. During the year 221 new cases were admitted, making a total of 1,336 dealt with.

These have been disposed of as follows:—Outfitted and sent to Canada, 59; domestic service, trades, and situations, 54; deaths, 1; children under 5 years of age adopted, 5; returned to relatives now in a position to provide for them, 69; left to go to relatives, etc., 29; leaving in the Homes on 31st October, 1924, 1,119; of whom 602 are boys and 517 girls.

From the above it will be seen that 118 boys and girls were provided with outfits, given a start in life, and placed in positions to make their own way. The older girls having been trained for domestic service, situations were found for them, and the older boys were apprenticed to trades or sent to farms. Amongst those returned to friends many were old enough to work, and where necessary, we helped with outfits, so that a large proportion of these might be added to the number of the permanently helped.

CONSUMPTION SANATORIA OF SCOTLAND.—The year began with 164 patients in residence. 194 were admitted, 180 discharged, and 7 died, leaving 171 in residence on 31st October, 1924.

COLONY OF MERCY FOR EPILEPTICS.—The year began with 94 colonists in residence; 30 men, women, and children were admitted; 31 were discharged; and 2 died, leaving 91 in residence on 31st October, 1924.

THE YEAR'S INCOME.

The amount received during the year is as follows:—For the General Fund, which includes the maintenance of the Homes at Bridge-of-Weir and the City Home, including £1,360 15s. 6d., earned by working boys, and sundry amounts as per Cash Statement, £47,305 10s. 7½d.; for Consumption Sanatoria, £24,859 4s. 3d.; for the Colony of Mercy for Epileptics, £6,040 15s.; for Home and Foreign Missions Fund, £1,467 7s. 3d., making the total amount for all purposes, £79,672 17s. 1½d., besides large quantities of clothing, provisions, and other useful gifts.

For the work accomplished we are, under God, indebted to our devoted fellow-helpers in the various Homes, and to the practical generosity of friends throughout the country; to ministers, evangelists, and all who have aided in the Church services and other gatherings; to Sabbath School superintendents, teachers, and scholars; to ladies who have made up garments for our little ones; to the Press which has given notices of the work; to the members of the Medical Advisory Board, and the Doctors who have freely given their time and skill for the benefit of the sufferers in the Sanatoria and Hospitals; and to the accountants, Messrs. M'Farlane, Hutton & Patrick, who very kindly act as Honorary Auditors.

IN CONCLUSION.

You will find the “firstly,” “secondly,” and “thirdly” in the preceding pages, and we hope you have read these with some profit, and that their briefly told story will bring to you and many others some message and blessing from the Lord. We, ourselves, feel it to be one of our greatest privileges to be allowed to have a little share in the work and ministry of the Orphan Homes—it is indeed a work of love—and we feel sure that God does and will richly repay all who in any way—by prayer, work, or gift—do something to bless the children and other needy ones who are so near to His own heart. “Given to the poor” is “lent to the Lord,” and that which we “lend” He pays back “good measure, pressed down, shaken together, and running over.” We thank you in His name for all your loving service, and we pray that His grace may abound towards you more and more.

We are at present engaged in a large hydro-electric scheme—to provide light and power for all departments of the work. This will cost many thousands of pounds, but we expect that, when complete, it will effect a large saving year by year in coal and labour.

We are also this year taking over our own farm—which has hitherto been rented to a farmer—and will in future own and manage the dairy, which provides most of the milk to supply the daily needs of our great family.

So far as we can forecast them the needs of the coming year are likely to be similar to the year just closed, namely:—

£45,000 for maintenance of Orphan Children in Glasgow and at Bridge-of-Weir.

£3,500 for Emigration and maintenance of the Canadian Home.

Gifts towards maintenance of Consumption Sanatoria.

Gifts towards maintenance of Colony of Mercy.

Christmas-Tree Gifts for 1,100 boys and girls at Bridge-of-Weir. Required early in December.

£2,000 for Home and Foreign Missions Fund.

Consecrated Christian men and women to fill vacancies as they occur for “fathers and mothers” in the cottages.

FORM OF BEQUEST TO THE ORPHAN HOMES OF SCOTLAND

(OR CONSUMPTION SANATORIA OF SCOTLAND)
(OR COLONY OF MERCY FOR EPILEPTICS).

"I leave and bequeath the sum of _____ pounds to the ORPHAN HOMES OF SCOTLAND (or CONSUMPTION SANATORIA), (or COLONY OF MERCY FOR EPILEPTICS), Glasgow and Bridge-of-Weir, originated by the late WILLIAM QUARRIER. I appoint the same to be paid (free of or less legacy duty) at the first term of Whitsunday or Martinmas after my death; and to be applied for the purposes of such Orphan Homes (or Consumption Sanatoria), (or Colony of Mercy for Epileptics); and the receipt of the Treasurer of the said Homes (or Sanatoria), (or Colony) for the time being shall be a sufficient discharge to my executors."

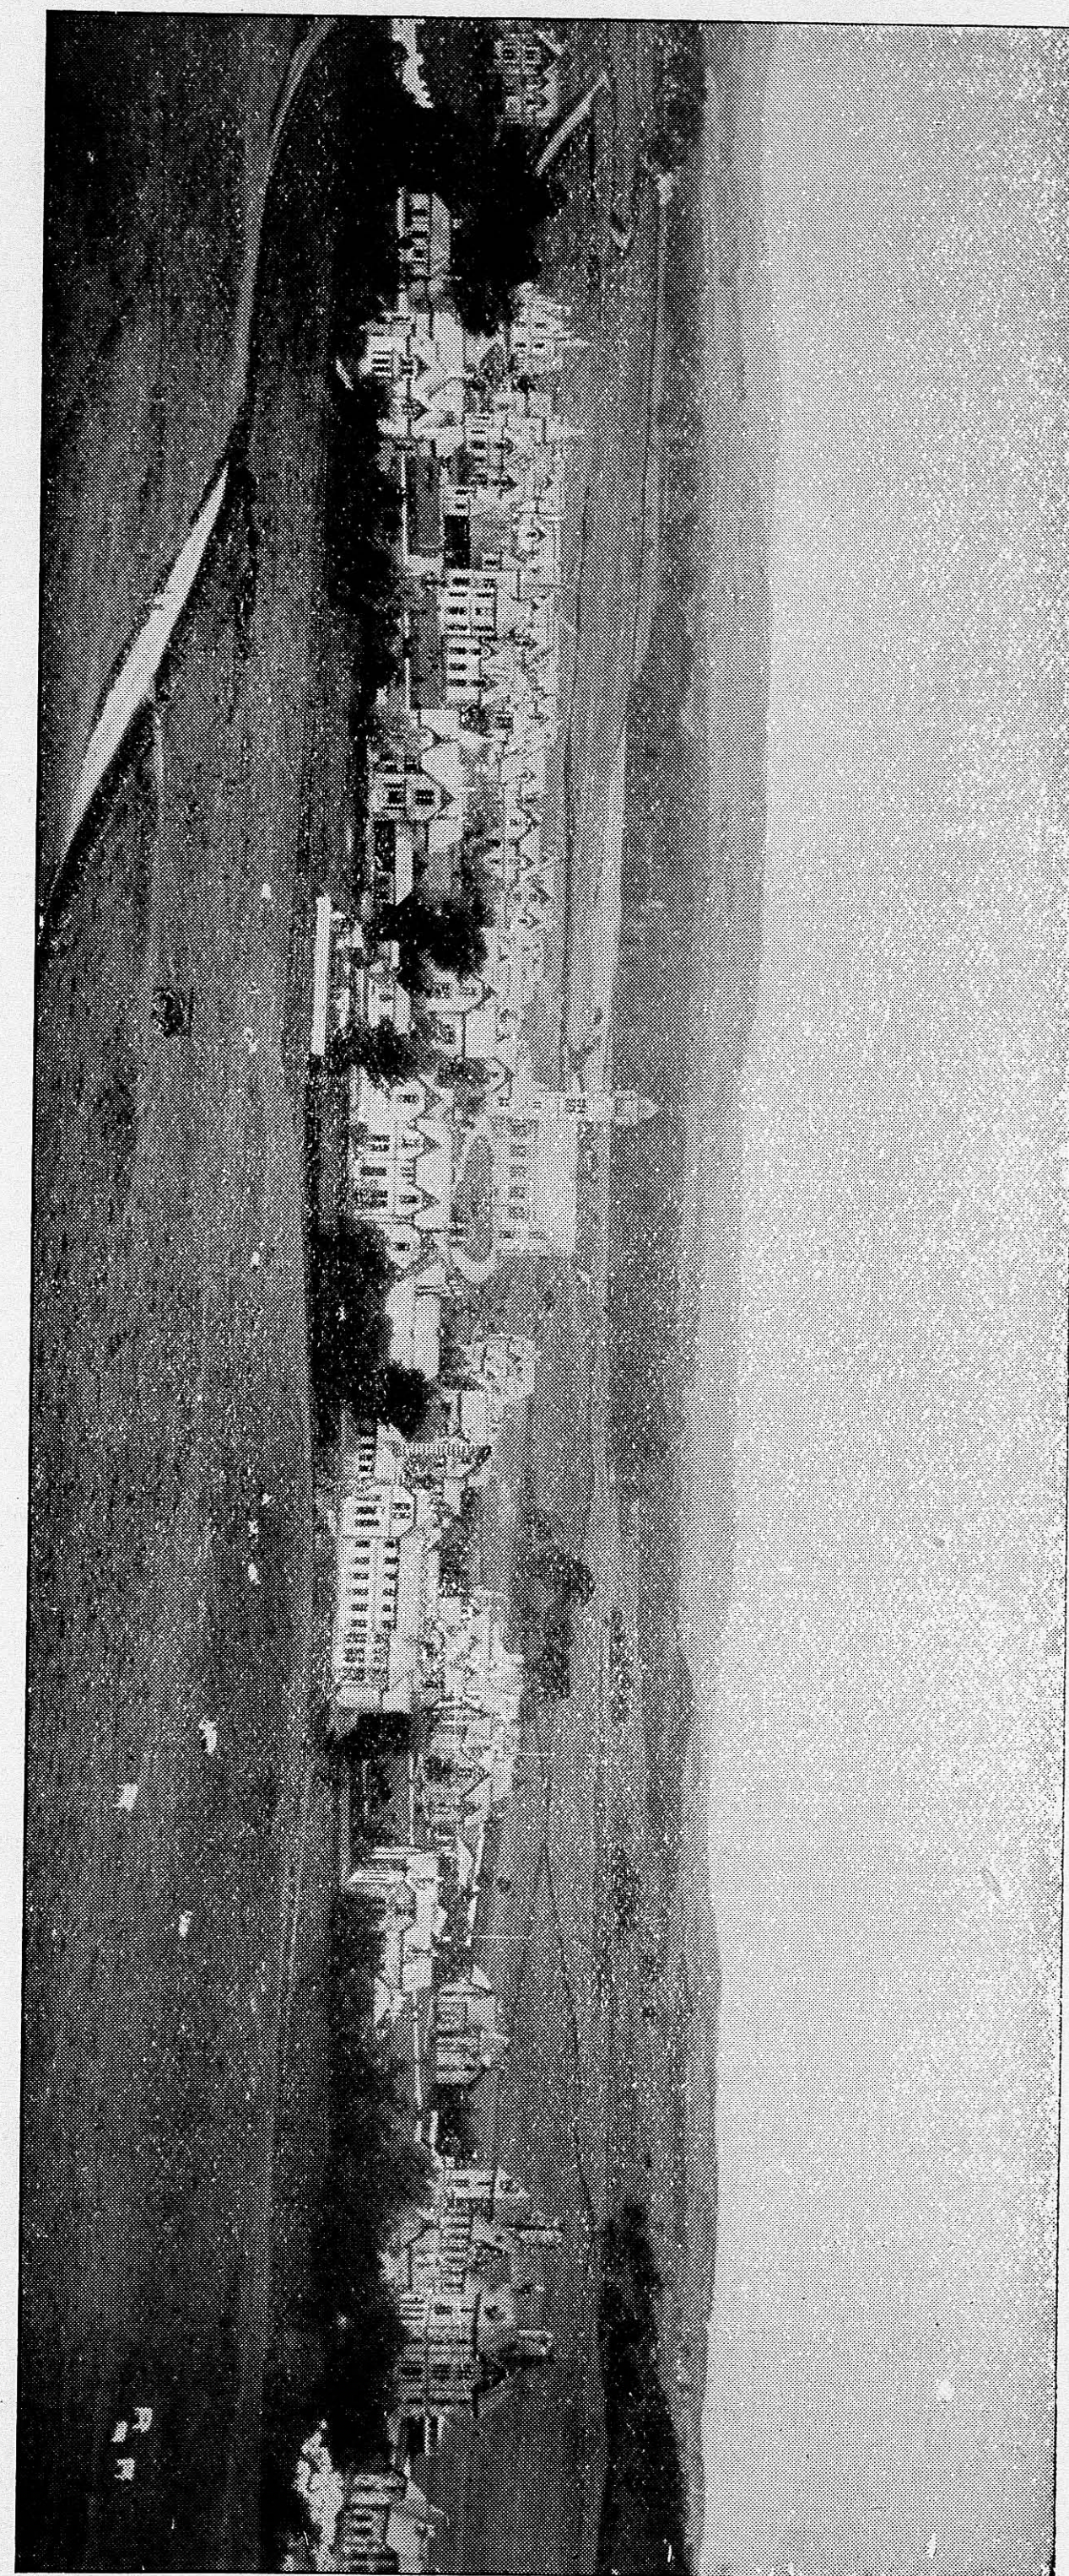

To prevent mistakes and delay, all letters relating to the Homes or Sanatoria or Colony for Epileptics should be addressed to Miss Quarrier, Orphan Homes of Scotland, Bridge-of-Weir. Cheques and Orders to be made payable to Miss MARY QUARRIER, Orphan Homes, Bridge-of-Weir, or to the Hon. Treasurer, Lord Maclay, 21 Bothwell Street, Glasgow. If more convenient, donations can be left at City Home, 13 James Morrison Street, Glasgow, or paid into the Union Bank of Scotland, 182 Argyle Street. Donations in money may also be left with Pastor D. J. Findlay, St. George's Cross Tabernacle. Clothing, provisions, etc. may also be sent to City Home, 13 James Morrison Street, Glasgow; or, if post-card is sent from any part of the city, a messenger will call for parcels. Telephone numbers are 80 Bell and 34 Bridge-of-Weir.

All donors whose names and addresses are sent with their donations will receive the Annual Report, and others desiring one or more copies can have them forwarded.

Friends sending Money can have it placed to whatever part of the work they name—(1) to the General Fund, which includes the maintenance of the Orphan Homes, Bridge-of-Weir, and of the City Working Boys' Home, (2) to Emigration Fund, (3) to the Orphan Homes Building Fund, (4) to the Consumption Sanatoria, (5) to the Colony of Mercy for Epileptics, or (6) to the Orphan Homes of Scotland Home and Foreign Missions Fund. If left to our discretion, it will be applied to whatever object is most in need at the time. Friends sending their names and addresses will have their donations acknowledged privately in due course, and failing to receive this should communicate with Miss Quarrier at once, in case the money has gone amissing.

Reproduced from a photo taken from the Bridge-of-Weir Road. Many of the Homes are not in view, but it will give friends some idea of the "Children's City." The Consumption Sanatoria are situated to the south and the Colony of Mercy to the west of the Homes, and are not seen in the picture.

There are 80 Buildings already connected with the work.

CLASS OF CHILDREN ELIGIBLE FOR ADMISSION.

Orphan Homes, Bridge-of-Weir.—Orphan boys and girls deprived of both parents, and fatherless children, with no relative able or willing to keep them, from 1 to 14 years of age, from any part of Scotland. Destitution is the title for admission, and no subscriber's line or voting paper is required.

City Receiving Home and Working Boys' Home, 13 James Morrison St., Glasgow.—Working boys under 18 years of age.

Mr. W. Douglas will deal with all cases applying for admission at City Orphan Home, 13 James Morrison Street, off London Street, at 3 o'clock P.M., on Wednesdays.

Pastor D. J. Findlay may be seen by appointment at the St. George's Cross Tabernacle, 56 Maryhill Road.

The Superintendent or Matron of the City Home will be glad to show friends through the house any day (Sabbath excepted).

The Homes at Bridge-of-Weir are also open to visitors every weekday between 11 A.M. and 5 P.M.

Trains leave St. Enoch Station (L. M. & S. Railway) almost every hour. The Homes are two miles from Bridge-of-Weir Station.

A Bus meets 1-5 Train from Glasgow, and leaves the Homes Gate at 3-15 for the 3-43 Train from Bridge-of-Weir daily. Fare—9d. each way.
