NARRATIVE OF FACTS.

1925-1926.

"That indeed a notable miracle hath been done . . . is manifest to all . . . and we cannot deny it."

WHEN our Lord was on earth, going about doing good to the bodies and souls of men, efforts were made to disprove or disparage the reality of the beneficent miracles which He performed. His enemies—the religious leaders of that day—finding it impossible to deny the genuineness of His "Wondrous Works," there being too many irrefutable witnesses who had either been healed or blessed themselves, or were prepared to testify of the help and blessing which had come to others—tried to prove that while "we cannot deny" the genuineness of the miracle, it had been performed by some other power than that of God. To-day, alas! all this is being repeated, and the children in some of our Sabbath Schools are being taught to disbelieve the clear and plain teachings of the Word of God. "The Burning Bush" did not burn, but the setting sun made it look as though it was burning. The Red Sea did not divide, but the strong wind and low tide together provided dry land for the Israelites to cross. The Jordan was not opened miraculously for the people to enter the land of promise, but just at that psychological moment an extraordinary but purely natural landslide occurred, which made a way for the people to cross over. Well! well! this and much more of the same sort is very remarkable, and to us much more difficult to believe than the Bible narratives, which we have never had any difficulty in accepting just as they stand. We have too long believed, delighted in, and lived by all that is written in this wondrous Word of God, to be ready to part with any portion of it at the bidding of these clever young teachers of to-day.

But what has all this got to do with the Orphan Homes of Scotland at Bridge of Weir? "Much every way." Fifty-five years ago William Quarrier, after many years of feeding and meditating on this same Word of God, every part of which he absolutely believed in, and having become through constant communion intimately acquainted with its Divine Author, resolved to put the truth of both to the test, and launched out on the great venture of faith, out of which has grown in the course of years The Orphan Homes, The Consumption Sanatoria, The Colony for Epileptics, and much other overflow and outflow to the glory of God, and to the help and blessing of multitudes of poor needy men, women, and children. It is easy to sit down, with pen and pad, and write rationalistic articles against

NARRATIVE OF FACTS.

NOTE.

In order to simplify the titles of the various properties, and to put the administration on a more permanent and satisfactory basis, the whole organisation has been incorporated under the Companies Acts as a non-profit earning limited company under the original name of "The Orphan Homes of Scotland," the Board of Trade having granted a Licence dispensing with the use of the word "limited." The Company, however, embraces all the departments of the work presently carried on, including the Consumption Sanatoria and The Colony for Epileptics.

All the branches will be carried on as hitherto, and under the same management, the Trustees becoming the Council of Management, in terms of the Articles of Association, and the Executive Council an Executive Committee under the Council. There will, therefore, be complete continuity of administration in all the branches, and, as hitherto, a separate account will be kept for each.

Cheques should now be made payable to "The Orphan Homes of Scotland," and any contribution not otherwise earmarked will be regarded as intended for The Orphan Homes at Bridge-of-Weir, and the general work among the children; but friends who desire their contributions or other gifts to be for The Consumption Sanatoria, or The Colony for Epileptics, or The Home and Foreign Mission Fund, might please state so in their letters, when effect will be given to their wishes. Donations should, as hitherto, be sent to Miss QUARRIER, The Orphan Homes, Bridge-of-Weir, or money donations may be sent to The Honorary Treasurer, or as indicated on the last page of the Report.

the truth of what God has caused to be recorded for eternal remembrance in His Book; but here is a modern miracle quite as wonderful and quite as inexplicable as any of the Bible miracles, which cannot be argued away. Here it is to-day—come and see it and have your unbelief banished by a miracle that no one could possibly have performed but God Himself. “The God that answers by Orphan Homes let Him be God.” Well, here is this God, and here is this great work which He has wrought, the wonder of which does not become less but more to those who have been privileged to be in the midst of it from the beginning, and to see the miracle wrought out before our eyes day by day.

Only part of the miracle is to be seen here at Bridge of Weir; another part is detailed in the pages which follow, by reading which you will see something of the wonderful way in which God touches the hearts of good people in almost every corner of the world—not omitting the most out-of-the-way and unlikely places—and moves them to send their gifts to maintain His great family of needy ones at The Homes. The only human means used to keep alive an interest in the work is this annual “Narrative,” which is sent to donors, and only, of course, to those who send their addresses with their gifts. Naturally one would expect the flow of gifts to die down and decrease as the years pass, and great numbers of our donors pass with them. But this has not happened!—and that is another part of the miracle. We have before pointed out—and do again now to the glory of our Heavenly Father—that while many expected that with the death of the founders twenty-three years ago, it would be difficult, if not impossible to carry on the work on the same lines of simple faith; the fact has been exactly the opposite. Since then, as all are aware, costs of everything in daily use have soared to two or three times what they used to be, so that to-day an annual income of about £80,000 is required for all the work. Yet all that is needed is always supplied, and there have not in recent years been any of the keen tests of faith which were a common experience in the early days.

We have written only of matters which any accountant can audit and attest, but beyond these are matters which cannot be appraised in the same way, and these are the things of greatest importance. All through the years many thousands of children in dire need have come in at our gates, all of whom have been “fathered and mothered,” lovingly cared for, fed, clothed, educated, and fitted to take their part in the battle of life. And not a few of these have gone forth with the Grace of God in their hearts to “adorn the doctrine of Christ” in that walk of life in which their lot may be cast. A constant stream of greatly valued letters reaches us from many near and distant places—some samples of which will be found in the “Narrative,” telling how the lessons learned in cottage, school, and church are standing the test and strain to which they are now subjected.

On another page will be found the names of those of our friends who have passed away in the last twelve months as far as these have come to our notice. From that list we select two names for special mention here.

Sir John H. N. Graham, Bart., of Larbert, had been a friend from almost the first days of the work, and was during most of that period one of our valued trustees. Brought to Christ as a young man through the personal instrumentality of Mr. D. L. Moody, he continued to the end of his long life a keen soul winner, and was deeply interested in all faithful work for God.

Dr. Donald Fraser, of Paisley, had also far exceeded the “three score years and ten” before the home call reached him. For a long period he gave help and counsel in connection with the medical sections of our work, being specially interested in the Colony for Epileptics.

Unlike the previous year, the one just completed has been fairly free from important contract work. No large scheme has been undertaken during the year, with the exception of the repair, renovation and re-decoration of Mount Zion Church building. During the forty years since the erection of the original church very little has been spent on the fabric of the building, apart from extensions, but latterly the stone has shown considerable sign of erosion, and the whole of this has been gone over, and where necessary, replaced and otherwise repaired and protected. The interior of the church has been re-decorated, and the machinery which works the chime of bells installed in the church tower in connection with the clock is at present being overhauled, repaired and renewed by the makers.

At Whitsunday last an additional piece of land, on the other side of the River Gryffe from the Homes property, was gifted, which after the erection of a bridge over the river will form part of the extensive grounds devoted to sport and games for the children.

Alterations and improvements have been made in several of the children's cottages to facilitate the working thereof, and in addition many repairs and renewals, which had been delayed during the war and owing to high costs since, have been more extensively carried out.

Alterations have been made to dwelling-house accommodation to increase that available for staff.

On completion of the electrical and telephone contracts carried out in the previous financial year, it was thought advisable to dispense with contractors' men in connection with the maintenance and repair and further installations of electric light, equipment, etc., throughout the village. This was accordingly carried out by the formation of our own Power Department, which is now responsible for the engineering and electrical equipment of the various parts of the establishment. The supplying of electricity is being put on the same footing as that of any small township, and extensions are being made in the accommodation at the Power House to facilitate the new arrangements.

Further improvements and repairs to the roads in the village have been made, bringing these into a condition to bear the continuous traffic which now travels over them.

The Trustees have had on hand for several years a sum of money for the erection of a swimming bath, etc. During the year the Executive Council invited competitive designs and costs with a view to the possibility of erecting such a building. After full consideration of the designs submitted and the costs which would need to be incurred, the Council felt that these were still too high, and that they were not justified in proceeding with the scheme at present.

Hatrick Farm, in connection with the Colony for Epileptics, has drawn further on the funds of the latter for improvements and stock, but the farm is showing satisfactory results for the money expended, and from time to time the colonists and some of the boys in the Homes have had an opportunity of helping in the cultivation of the land, and in reaping the harvest.

The condition of the Canadian Receiving Home, Fairknowe, Brockville, has called for extra expenditure to protect the building against the weather, and floors and other parts of the interior of the house have required to be renewed.

The costs for the works mentioned above have been included in the accounts for the past year.

Our family at the beginning of the year numbered 1384, in addition to workers—comprised of 1110 orphan children, 165 consumptive patients, and 94 epileptics. During the year we have received 194 children, 183 patients, and 28 colonists; leaving us after deducting discharges, etc., with a family of 1369 on 31st October. For feeding clothing, nursing, and caring for all of these we have received the following amounts, including payments:—

I.—For the Orphan Homes	£49,497	9	3
II.—For The Consumption Sanatoria	23,239	14	4
III.—For The Colony for Epileptics	5,403	15	6
IV.—For The Home and Foreign Missions
Fund	1,419	14	2
Total	£79,560	13	3

For the sake of friends who have not seen previous reports of The Orphan Homes, etc., the following states the basis upon which the work is carried on:—

In the year 1864 Mr. Quarrier began his public work among the street boys of Glasgow by the organisation of shoeblack and newsboys' brigades. Out of these developed The Orphan Homes, which to-day provide a home and Christian training for 1500 fatherless and orphan boys and girls of all ages. In the years between 1871, when the first Home was opened, and now, 18,489 children have passed through the Homes, 6761 of whom have been sent to Canada. Something like £1,837,743 has been received; £337,185 of that sum has been expended on buildings, land, etc., and £1,500,558 on the maintenance of The Homes, The Sanatoria, and The Colony, and Home and Foreign Missions. The work of The Orphan Homes is carried on in dependence upon God for daily supplies. No one is called on personally, nor do we send out collectors. The needs are committed to God in prayer, and we look to him to move the hearts of His people to send all that is required.

NOVEMBER, 1925.—Old years and new years and annual balances, though not unseen by Him are not according to God's own reckoning. By that very thought we are the more firmly established in our faith, and face another year's untried way, knowing full well that He will never fail us. He who has led, will lead. He who has blessed, will bless.

“He guided by paths that I could not see,
By ways that I have not known;
The crooked was straight, and the rough made plain,
As I followed the Lord alone.
I praise Him still for the pleasant palms,
And the water springs by the way;
For the glowing pillar of flame by night,
And the sheltering cloud by day.

There is light for me on the trackless wild,
As the wonders of old I trace,
When the God of the whole earth went before
To search me a resting-place.
Has He changed for me? Nay! He changes not.
He will bring me, by some new way,
Through fire and flood and each crafty foe,
As safely as yesterday.”

Throughout this new chapter in the Narrative of work done for Christ in this community may the Great Master Workman Himself direct the selection of the very gifts, and letters, and incidents, that will carry most encouragement, and even it may be conviction to the hearts of those who read. The work is His. The privilege to tell of it is ours. But He must bless its world-wide testimony of these succeeding pages.

Almost the first gift of this new financial year is a collective one, amounting to £2 16s. 9d. from Winnipeg, followed later by 6s. 3d. and 4s., and then by £5 from the South of Scotland from another friend of the Canadian sender. Next we notice twenty pounds from a lady in Fife; £1 from our old friend “Cable,” St. Andrews; £1, “In memory of my dear wife” from an Aberdeen friend; 10s. from West Hartlepool; 5s. from Milngavie; other 5s. from one of our grown-up girls—her monthly remembrance; 8s. 10d. from a Ballater Sunday School; £2 from the grateful grandmother of three little boys in the Homes; 10s. with happy memories of her sojourn in our village from one who has taken up similar work in India; £2, “Of Thine own”; 2s. 6d. with two pairs of stockings from Aberdeen; £50 from a gentleman interested in a delicate family under our care; 10s., a memorial gift for the Colony for Epileptics; and £2 with a few small articles of clothing from an aged friend, who has long worked for the children, and is still hoping “to be able to knit a pair of socks for your dear large family” for “God has watched over me and again has lengthened my day.”

A younger friend writes, “I enclose the usual subscription but this year in my own name. My dear aunt died last week, aged 82. For her sake I hope to continue her subscription. She was very jealous of Quarrier's.” Enclosing a ten shilling note a New Zealand helper explains, "I was afraid I would not be able to send you even a small mite, as a near friend needed my help, but the other day this note was sent me from home, so I send it on to you, trusting you will lack nothing which will bring comfort to your big family."

Five shillings has been received from a lady in Worcester, "instead of at Christmas time because winter has set in so early and you will need much for the flock God has left in your care"; whilst another in Chislehurst regrets being obliged to curtail the amount of her usual cheque. How wonderfully our Heavenly Father adjusts the gifts that come to us. Surely His reserves are inexhaustible.

Other contributions to our treasury this month include £2 10s. from one of our grown-up girls in a situation in this country; £25 from a lady in the South; £20 from another in Thurso; and £35 paid into the Union Bank in Dundee on behalf of a third; £5, "In loving memory of our friend" from still another in the same town; 7s. 6d., "In memory of our beloved and only daughter"; 10s. from a minister in the North; £5 from one of the teaching staff; £3 from Natal; £10, a Christmas cheque from Montreal; 10s. from a helper in Eyemouth, "to buy a toy for the children's Christmas tree"; £5 from one in Edinburgh saying, "My old figure. I see my way better now out of my financial difficulties, thank God!"; £1 from someone in County Down; 5 dollars from a couple in Philadelphia; £5 from a former helper in the work at the Colony; a like amount contributed by the employees of a Fife foundry; 2s. 6d. from a helper in Surrey, whose parents were donors before her; seven one pound notes anonymously under postmark of Renfrew; 23s. "from the sale of tablet"; £25 and 5s., both anonymous gifts received at the City Home; and 10s. from one of our girls in Western Australia, along with an interesting letter in which she says,

"At last I am on the road to letter writing, and you will forgive me for being so long. I have been spring-cleaning my wee bungalow besides taking part in a church concert, which kept me busy going to practices when I had time. I was very glad when it was all over, I assure you, as it takes all my energy to look after my house, cooking, washing, sewing, and looking after my baby, who is getting quite a big boy and wants some looking after those days, as he goes into all kinds of mischief. Yesterday I caught him sitting in the duck pond with all his clothes on, as if he was having a bath, and he kept splashing and yelling with glee. He has such loving wee ways, one can hardly be angry with him, but I have to teach him right from wrong. By the time this reaches you he will be two. I am hoping to enclose a wee mite in my letter just to show you I am grateful for your wonderful thoughtfulness of me, and pray that this will only be a beginning and some day my little son will make up to the Homes for what they did for his mummy. It is my nature to give, and it worries me when I can't, but I assure you, my dearest friend, that there is not a day passes but I give to somebody or help somebody, and I find God bountifully gives me four-fold. We have our own cow now, and here am I with heaps of milk and cream and butter made by myself, and it's lovely to be able to give the milk to our church socials or a wee jar of scalded cream to the minister's wife, who is an invalid, or anybody else who comes to see me and never goes away empty-handed. Each thing I have in my home and all the good things around come from God, I'm sure. The view from the house is glorious just now. The wattle is in bloom, and the colourings are truly beautiful. My husband is very highly esteemed in the district. He is in the church choir, and helps in many other ways. Thank God for home. It's lovely. We all join in sending our love."

To complete Hallowe'en festivities, on the second evening of the month, we had our time-honoured and ever charming lantern procession, after which the youngsters and grown-ups too spent a hilariously happy time enjoying a carefully selected programme of motion pictures. Three weeks later they were delighted to have the missionary work of Livingstonia presented by the same means. What an instrument of valuable instruction and healthy entertainment the film might be if only it were directed and controlled aright.

It was most encouraging to find so large a gathering of interested friends in the Christian Institute, Glasgow, on the afternoon of 27th inst., for our annual public meeting. Much of its inspiration has been missed in the following notice, from next morning's Glasgow

GOING TO THE THANKSGIVING SERVICE.

Herald, but the larger number of our helpers, unable to be present in person, will be glad to have some account of the proceedings.

The excellence of the work which is carried out at the Orphan Homes of Scotland, Bridge of Weir; the Consumption Sanatoria of Scotland, and the Colony of Mercy for Epileptics was mentioned by several speakers at the annual meeting of the organisation, held in the Christian Institute, Glasgow, yesterday. Mr George W. Service presided. Lord Maclay, who dealt with the annual reports, stated that the income for the Homes for the past year amounted to £43,062, and represented donations from all quarters. The number of subscribers was 3875, and of these 100 were young men and women who had been brought up in the Bridge of Weir Institution. The expenditure for the same period amounted to £55,697, and the excess over the income was largely due to the fact that considerable building activities had been carried on during the past year, and other important improvements had been made on the buildings. For the coming year it was estimated that an income of £45,000 would be required for the Homes, and something like £3000 for emigration purposes. The total income for all the works had been £79,774. The reports were approved.

Pastor Findlay spoke of the fine results which had been achieved in the Colonies by young men and women who had gone from the Homes, and mentioned that in the 50 years of its existence 18,286 children had been taken care of.

The Rev. Dr. George H. Morrison referred to recent attacks which had been made upon Glasgow by certain people, and expressed the opinion that when setting out to describe Glasgow, writers should endeavour to obtain a sense of perspective and maintain a correct balance of judgment. There were, said Dr Morrison, some peripatetic visitors who came to Glasgow from London, explored the city, and then went home and wrote about what they saw. He wondered if those people had ever heard of Quarrier's Homes. They examined the slums, and upon going back headed their articles "Glasgow." If the articles were headed "The Slums of Glasgow" that would be perfectly fair criticism against which no Scotsman would say anything. But the writers came here, and in an incredibly short space of time went through the slums and put their articles up under the single word. That was a thing to which he strongly objected. The writers, apparently, never heard of the Foundry Boys' Society, the Boys' Brigade, the Girls' Guildry, Quarrier's Homes, the Consumptive Sanatorium, the Colony of Mercy—all of which had had their origin in Glasgow, and which were part and parcel of the city's history and its spirit. He did not want strangers to flatter the people of Glasgow, but he did think that they should endeavour to get a true sense of Glasgow before committing their ideas to print. "Is there any Corporation in the land," asked Dr Morrison, "which is addressing itself so much to the slum problem as Glasgow?" He did not speak without knowledge, and he ventured to say that not the Corporations of London or Liverpool, or Manchester or Leeds, were bringing to that heart-breaking problem the same vision, the same tenacity, and the same faith as was the Corporation of Glasgow.

Professor Leonard Findlay and the Rev. Gordon B. Watt also spoke.

DECEMBER, 1925.—"What a very interesting meeting we had. I enjoyed it ever so much, and when I looked at the dear children so fresh and clean-looking, and listened to their fine singing, I pictured myself years ago in the same position and singing at the annual meeting. How we used to look forward to going in the buses up to the City Home, where it was then held." So writes one of our big family, ever grateful in remembrance of the old home, where she learned to overcome a terrible physical disability. Enclosing a cheque for £2, a helper in Fochabers says, "I have read again the 'Narrative of Facts' received a few days ago"; whilst another in Edinburgh explains, "I was very pleased with the 'Narrative,' which I have passed on to a friend who has since given me £1, enclosed with this £1 for the children." From Galashiels comes this further encouraging testimony, "Thanks very much for report received. It is indeed a grand testimony to the goodness and faithfulness of our loving Heavenly Father. We, too, have proved His faithfulness. Trade has been very slow in our little shop, and yet when we have thought we were going to have the poorest week, somebody would come along we never expected. Time and again we have seen this. They miss much who don't trust in all things and put God first, giving Him of His own."

We are asked to accept two shillings, "this wee mite, just in the way my dear mother always sent it, 'with love and prayer for the Homes.' " Another friend has sent her usual 10s., "and also 10s. which would have been sent to you on the 19th inst. by my dear mother in memory of her son." Four pounds, "part of the Lord's tenth," is the gift of an old nurse; and £1 of another old helper, who says, "I remember your father, and have heard him speak many a time." Alongside this recollection of bygone days is the gift of a new friend, "as a small thankoffering on the successful completion of my first year of service in the Homes' school."

A near neighbour's contribution of £10 brings the explanation, "I have received a cheque in settlement of a claim for damages which I felt it my duty to make, and as I have no desire to make personal gain out of the matter, I have decided to hand over to Quarrier's Orphan Homes of Scotland this sum after deduction of my doctor's account and other small expenses incurred." Ten shillings for the Colony of Mercy from a sympathising mother, who has an epileptic son, is accompanied by the wish, "God bless you in your labour of love."

Five shillings "to buy somebody their New Year gift" has come to hand from a girl in service in this country; 25 dollars from one of the small boys of the 1914 Canadian party; 20 dollars from one of the older lads, who tells us, "I have been laying by a small amount each week to send you as a thankoffering"; and 3 dollars from one of the girls, who writes, "It really isn't very much, but I know every little bit is welcome at this time of year. I think it's just about this time that we boys and girls feel sort of lonesome to be back once more to enjoy the lovely Christmas trees and all the nice things included around Christmas time. But even if we can't be there we can just think of all the good times we had while with you." Twenty shillings "for the children's Christmas treat" bears the good news that "Nellie gets on fine in Canada." Her sister, we hope, will follow her to the Dominion during the course of this year. In acknowledging receipt of the "Narrative," their grateful uncle's letter begins on this jubilant note of praise in which we most cordially unite, "Wonderful, wonderful Jesus, in the heart He hath planted a song."

Like birds with the homing instinct, at this season of family reunions, there come numerous letters and gifts from grown-up members of our great family, scattered the wide world o'er. From a girl in domestic service in the Homeland, 10s.; from another, 5s.; from one in Massachusetts, 30s.; from a farm lad in Arran, 3s.; from another girl in a situation, 10s., as she was "thinking about the happy times at the old home"; from a Saskatchewan farmer, 30 dollars, with good news of his wife and family; from the children of one of the older girls, 5s., to say, "I will be thinking about you all on New Year's day as thousands more will be doing too, and our prayers will rise with yours"; and from a younger girl, 5s., with the remark, "I often think of all the things I got and all the things that were done for me more now than when I was in the Homes, and I am sure I am not the only one." In the letter bearing the gift of another in Chicago we read, "Again the season of goodwill and fellowship draws near when we like to remember old friends and all that we owe them. I always intend writing you during the year but never seem to get it done, although my thoughts are often with you. I expect you will be busy now getting ready for the New Year festivities. I remember the old days and how we used to look forward to the Christmas trees and all the other good things. I had hoped to send more, but the little I am able to send, I send with a thankful heart, remembering that the widow's mite is as acceptable as the merchant's thousands."

Other gifts from over the seas include £5 from a friend in New Zealand, "always interested in hearing about your work"; £2 from Vancouver; other £2 from a personal friend in Guelph; £20 from a missionary in China; £2 from a couple in Pretoria; 2 dollars from British Columbia for the Christmas treat; a like sum from one of the last girls' Canadian party; 20s. from two friends in Otago; £5 from Johannesburg; £5 from a lady in Hong Kong; and £150 towards the upkeep of the Home for invalid girls, from Mentone. The donors of one of the boys' Homes have again sent £80 to help with its house-keeping expenses, and added £20 for the Sanatoria.

Old workers, as well as the grown-up family, turn their thoughts especially at this time, to the scene of their former labours, and offer their gifts, sometimes out of a slender income, now that they are able no longer to render personal service among the children. From one we have received a pound; from a former "mother" of a girls' Home, another pound; from an honorary helper, a like sum; from a member of the medical staff and some friends, £3; from a former teacher, £1; and from another "mother," 10s. "A grateful couple" still on the staff have sent along £3, "with best wishes for the work"; the "mother" of a boys' Home, 10s. for the Christmas tree; two other helpers, £2 each, with an extra £1 from a friend of one of them; and the "mother" of a girls' Home, two guineas as a token of thanksgiving.

One of the Colonists, himself an orphan, has sent 3s. 6d. to help the children as, he says, "I got some money sent to me," and adds, "I was never so happy in my life till I came to Quarrier's Homes." His parents' cheque is accompanied by a little boy's one shilling postal order, which his mother tells us, "is from the pennies saved by my small son during the year for the children who have not got daddies to work for them." Three girls "who have a father, mother, and a good home of their own," have contributed 10s. "to show our sympathy with the poor children in your Homes." Out of "Wee Davie's box" we have received 14s. 6d.; two guineas from the Bible Class of a Boys' Brigade company; 10s. from yet another of our young folks, who does "not know how to thank you for the way I was brought up in the Homes"; 5s. from another still within our gates who evidently has learned that it is "better to give than to receive"; £1 "from two motherless children who have had a happy Christmas"; and a great many collective gifts from young people in Sunday Schools and similar gatherings from Thurso to Coldstream and Stranraer, over the border into Cumberland, and in Orkney and Shetland. Over against these is a contribution from an aged friend in Rutherglen, who rejoices in the unbroken record of God's faithfulness to the Orphan Homes, and recalls hearing the Founder speak in the open air "at the foot of Little Dovehill in the Gallowgate, and another time in the Parish Church, Motherwell." The son of another old friend has forwarded 10s. "from my father who, now too old to write, always likes to remember the Orphan Homes at a time like this."

Amongst donations specially marked for the extra expenses of the festive season, a golden sovereign has been sent by a lady in Rutherglen; 10s. for the Sanatoria children by some young friends of theirs in Bridge of Weir; £4 by a few girls in a Hawick warehouse; 2s. 9d. by a mindful helper in Mull; 5s. by two friends in the County of Durham; and 4s., "just a trifle to fill one corner of the New Year box" by someone in London.

In going through the multitude of gifts received this month we have been much impressed by the marvellous variety of the means by which our Heavenly Father provides for the ordinary and the special needs of His work in this place. Surely "the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof; the world and they that dwell therein." His servants are everywhere, young and old, rich and poor, in the crowded city or the lonely glen, and even on the sea-girt isle. By His gracious bounty, nothing has been lacking of all the accustomed treats for the children during this festive season, which began with the closing of school for the holidays on Christmas eve, bringing again to our ears the welcome harmonies of our village carol singers. For the Christmas entertainment we had a cinematograph display depicting most attractively the work of the League of Nations and the signing of the historic Locarno Pact, than which nothing could have been more appropriate to celebrate, with deepest gratitude, the birthday of the Prince of Peace.

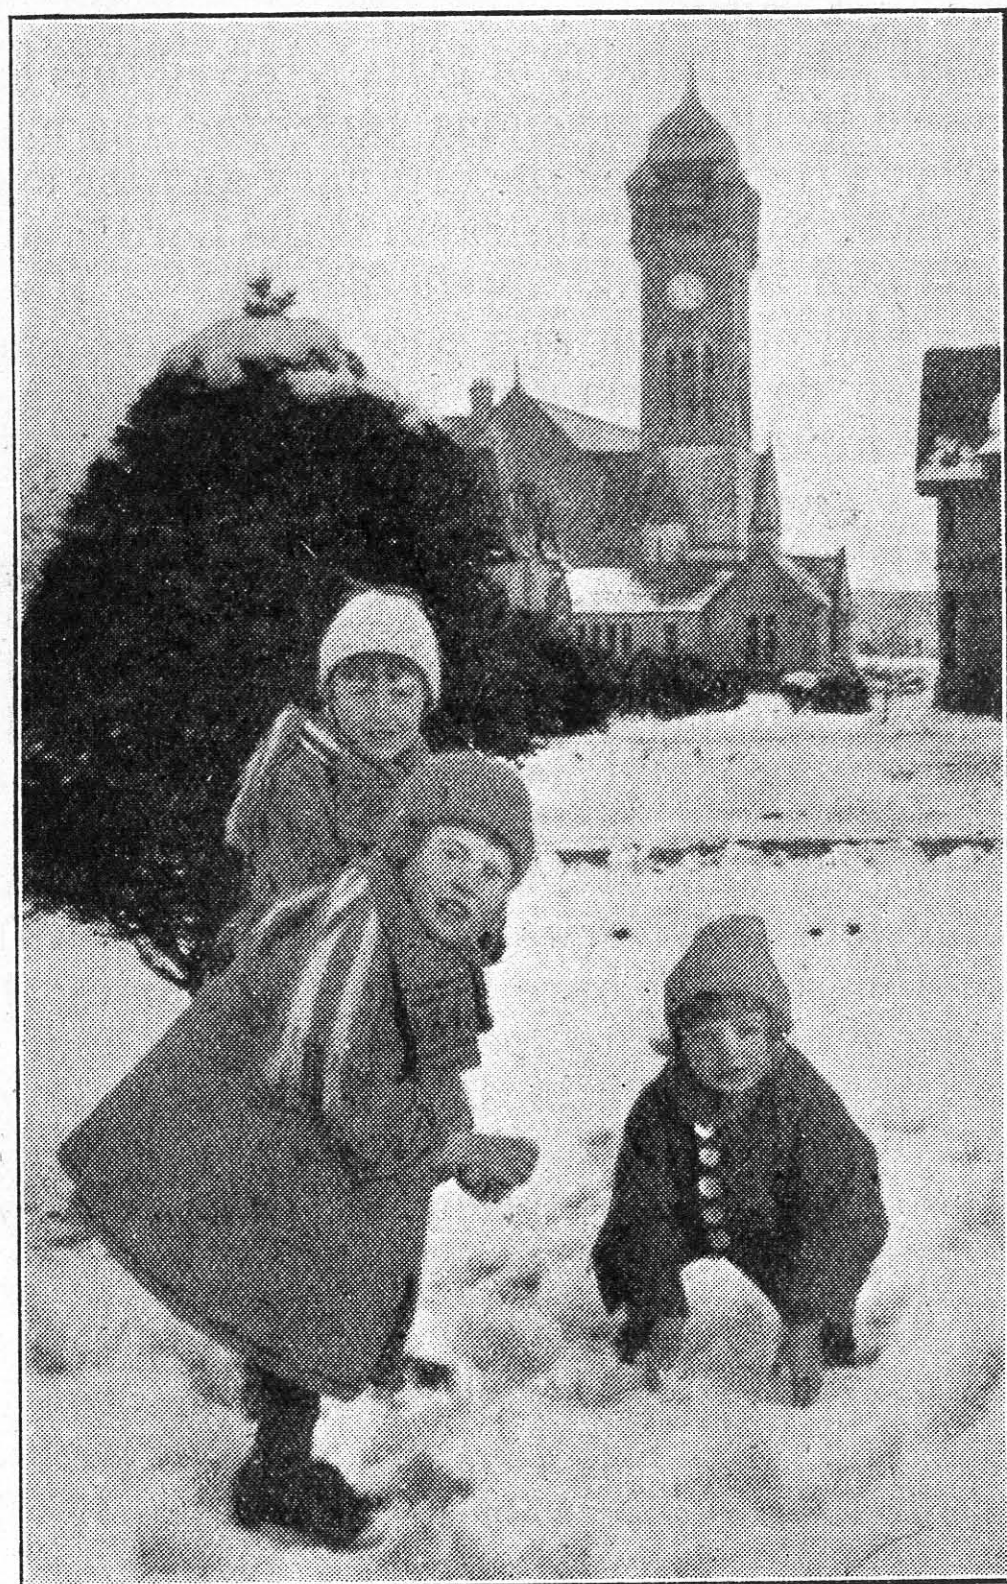

Having completed the final preparations for the one day of the year to which the youngsters look forward most eagerly, with hearts full of the goodness and mercy that have followed us during the last twelve months, we turn aside as usual to spend the closing hour of 1925 with fellow-workers and older children in the church, there to "rest awhile" for praise and prayer and rededication of our lives to His happy service. With the thought of God's supreme kindness in hiding the future from us, thus compelling us to live one day at a time, we seek fresh grace to trust Him more and say,

"God holds the key of all unknown,
And I am glad;
If other hands should hold the key,
Or if He trusted it to me,
I might be sad.

"I cannot read His future plans;
But this I know;
I have the smiling of His face,
And all the refuge of His grace,

"Enough; this covers all my wants,
And so I rest;
For what I cannot, He can see,
And in His care I saved shall be,
For ever blest."

JANUARY, 1926.—For older folks the first day of the year is apt to be a somewhat melancholy reminder of Time's inexorable passage, but for our young people what realisation of great expectations this day of joy has brought. The climax is reached with the dismantling of three great trees at the afternoon gathering in the church. How Santa's resources have been taxed to obtain the very things each boy and girl and colonist has wanted, and not one of them has he forgotten. All the weariness of weeks of preparation vanishes from his hard-wrought helpers as they feel the air vibrate with happiness and gaze with tear-dimmed eyes upon a sea of faces radiant with delight.

MAKING A SNOW MAN.

In the dear children's names we say, "Thanks, thanks, a thousand thanks to all whose thoughtful gifts have made this possible."

But the day is not yet done, for there is still a special tea with cakes and shortbread for which the ham-and-egg breakfast and the turkey, roast beef and plum pudding dinner has left scarce any room. Then comes the evening entertainment, with family worship as the fitting end of a perfect day, when, thanking God for all His loving kindness, we pray the Father's blessing upon all the absent members of our family as well as those within our gates to-day.

From one of our girls has come a one pound note—the first gift of the new year—in a letter which reads, "This is just a very small gift. I hope you will accept it. Thank you very much for your loving care and kindness not only to myself, but also to my three brothers and sister. I feel I will never be able to repay all you have done for me. I hope that as the years go by I will be able to increase my gift." Another, who is in the same situation in which she was first placed, having had the misfortune to lose the postal order she intended to send us, asks, "Will you take the enclosed 5s.? I wish it was much more, for I feel I can never repay all that the work has done for me. I hope to be able to send something later on. I was glad to have your New Year Letter. I always look forward to getting it, for I am saving them, and have gathered seven of them—one each year since I left the Homes." Six others in domestic service in this country have contributed thankofferings to the old home amounting to five shillings each; five more, sums of ten shillings each; one in a nearby village, £1; one of the old boys and his wife away in Winnipeg, 5 dollars; one of the last boys' party, half-a-dollar from the province of Ontario; and a girl in Paisley, 10s., "as a little thankoffering for keeping me in such a good, comfortable home, and also for the splendid upbringing I had for no less than eleven years."

More than two thousand copies of the New Year Letter were posted to as many of our grown-up bairns as keep us informed of their whereabouts. A girl who went to Canada in the spring of 1924 says in the letter accompanying her gift, "I was so pleased to receive the New Year Letter, for I just love to hear about the dear old home, for it was dear to me. I am so glad I was sent to Canada. I have lots of friends here, and people are very kind. I like my place just great, and have been in it since I came out. Well, Miss Quarrier, God has been wonderfully kind to us when one looks at all He has done." From two more acknowledgments of the New Year Letter we quote what is sure to be of interest to readers of this Narrative. The first was written by a girl of the long ago, and the second by a lad who has been only a few years in Canada, but has already shown his mettle at the classes he is taking to fit him for something more ambitious.

"It is a great pleasure for me to have the privilege of writing another letter to you as the old year is closing, and we look back over it all and see and know all of God's goodness to us. We can say, like the Psalmist, goodness and mercy have followed us all the days of our lives. Glad to say I have enjoyed a year of health, and able for my duties. My sister has not been so well. She was adopted. This month the lady that brought her up passed out to her long home in her eighty-seventh year, leaving my sister very lonely, as she has been a mother to her since she went to her at eight years of age. I enjoyed reading your last New Year Letter, giving such an interesting account of the work now going on. Yes, it is wonderful. Many and many a time my thoughts wander back over the kindness shown us poor orphans while there. The hymns we were trained to sing linger with me still. One thing grieves me, to think I am not more able to give to the Orphan Homes after all you dear people did for us. We can never forget it. It appeals more to me the older I get. If we can't give much we can pray. May God bless and prosper the good work. Please accept this dollar from one of your old girls."

"I hardly know whether to call this a Christmas letter or not. I've been kept pretty busy this year, and so didn't write as usual. Well, since writing last I've made another change, namely, attending Business College. There are five of the Bridge of Weir boys there at present, all aiming for a business education. It was not until the past year that I had any notion of attending Business College, but on mature thought it came to me that it would be the most direct way of starting something after leaving the farm. I can't say I don't like farming, although I never had a fascination for it, but one thing certain, it's the best place to make money and keep it, although the latter part ought to be easy for a Scotchman. But thereby hangs a tale. I've saved in the neighbourhood of 700 dollars. Of course I'll make my bank balance look small perhaps by the time I graduate, but I am sure it's worth while. Well, I received your New Year Letter, and I am sure that it is certainly appreciated by all of us away from home. It is just as of old the same round of activities, and many times around Christmas and New Year, yes, and lots of other times too, my thoughts and prayers are with you. Well, I am sending my little donation of three dollars, and wish you the best in this new year."

Yet another of our girls enclosing 5s. in a long letter says, "I thank you very much for your very nice letter, and it has helped me a great deal; also your little booklet. I am still trusting in Jesus, and as happy as the day is long. I see everything in a different light now, even to the spending of my pay. Enclosed is a very small donation. I feel ashamed, but I intend to make it a regular habit, for I don't think I will ever be able to repay you for all the kindness and the good start in life you gave me." What a lot of dull days of discouragement such letters dispel, and often they come just when their uplift is most sorely needed. Thank God for all of them, and may they encourage also the kind friends, whose generous support and faithful intercession make them our co-workers in this service always worth while no matter though sometimes we may be tempted to think otherwise.

To enrich our treasury and carry on the good work this month a Glasgow helper has sent 25s., a "thankoffering to the Lord for His goodness to us through another year"; one in China, £5; someone in Basutoland, £5 for the Sanatoria; a gentleman in Saskatchewan, £3 per a branch of the Royal Bank; two missionaries in North Africa, £1; another grateful steward of the Lord in New Zealand, 20s; a little girl in Fife, 6s. 9d. earned by herself and three friends; a congregation in Tobermory, one guinea; an Edinburgh lady, 30s. for the Missions Fund; a couple of friends in British Columbia, 10 dollars—a thankoffering; an anonymous donor, £2 under postmark of London; two ladies in Kirkwall, £3 each; an unknown helper in Berlin, £1 "for all your kindness to our beloved relatives"; one in Bournemouth, 1s. together with one article of clothing; a Paisley brother, £1, rejoicing that "it is 42 years to-morrow since I was converted in Fiddler Joss's meetings"; the uncle of a family helped, £5; one, whose kindly mothering is missed in a girls' home, £1, as a thankoffering for strength regained; and the "father" and "mother" of a boys' home, £2, "as a grateful thankoffering for God's goodness to us in days just past. We truly have much to be thankful for."

Among larger gifts we find £25 from an old friend in Alloa; a cheque for fifty guineas from London; £50 from the donor of one of the boys' homes; £100 from another friend of long standing in Kilmarnock; £1000 for the Missions Fund, with £360 for the Homes, £25 for the Sanatoria, and £115 for the Colony of Mercy from one donor; £25 from a Motherwell helper who "gives thanks for another birthday"; £100, a memorial gift from Edinburgh; £21 9s. 10d. from the Scottish National Sabbath School Union; and a most welcome and generous gift of £5000 from two friends in Glasgow on 30th inst., which will help to square the large and numerous bills that the month of January always brings.

To help in the same good cause we have received a postal order for half-a-crown, surely a precious gift like the widow's mites, perhaps more than they all have given, for the sender explains that the donor "is a widow of 76 years living with a married daughter on her old age pension. This gift has been gathered for the orphans by putting past a halfpenny when it could be spared." A little girl in Newlands nearly seven years old has earned one shilling and sixpence to send us because she writes, "I wanted to give you something from my own self"; and four other children of an Irvine family have contributed £1 for "we got so many Christmas presents that we thought we would send a tiny part of them to your children."

FEBRUARY, 1926.—The first of this month's donations to be mentioned is one of five pounds, forwarded on behalf of the employees of a large concern having works in different parts of the Kingdom. Amongst those received later is one amounting to twelve shillings and sixpence, the variable monthly contribution from employees of an Edinburgh ironworks. Such gifts seem rather impersonal, and it is difficult to come directly into touch with the individual donors, but we would like to make this public acknowledgment of our indebtedness to every employee of the many firms who help in this way to swell our funds in the course of a year. It is the more gratifying when one considers that their remembrance of the orphans under our care is not a matter of necessity or even of expediency, as we issue no subscribers' lines entitling them to nominate children for admission to the Homes or adults for treatment in the Sanatoria or Colony. We hope that their secretaries and treasurers themselves will understand and make the fact clear to all employees that our door is ever open to the needy and destitute without subscriber's line or influence of any sort. From time to time committees responsible for the distribution and allocation of these funds pay visits to the Homes. We would be very glad indeed if more such deputations would come to our village on a Saturday afternoon and see for themselves how we spend the money they so generously entrust us with.

The foreign mail has brought £3 from two friends in Sao Paulo; £25 from a faithful helper in Takoma, Md.; £1 from an old friend and former helper in Natal, with a like sum from someone she has interested in the work; 10 dollars from a couple in Vancouver; £8 6s., a collective gift from missionaries in West Africa; 5s. 6d. from Delhi, India, "from my small girl for the Homes," with her mother's explanation, "she has collected the money for a year from her pocket money and wants it to go to the Homes"; 45 rupees from a Sunday morning service at Kalimpong; 10s. from Kenya Colony "as a thank-offering from our little son for his own happy Christmas"; £2 from a former helper and her husband now labouring for the Master in China; £12 14s. 1d., proceeds of a New Year's Day football match in British Guiana; and £1 "in loving memory 10th February" from Western Canada.

To us that day is doubly hallowed, for it is exactly 49 years since, on 10th February, 1877, the first sod was cut for the foundation of the Broadfield Home, being number one of the group of ten cottages, which the beloved Founder hoped would one day constitute the National Orphan Homes of which he had dreamed and for which he had hoped and prayed so long. What a retrospect is ours over nearly half a century behind us. He and we too have had our full share of trials and difficulties, both in the earlier days of fighting for the children's rights before public authorities and the State had come to realise their responsibilities, and in the strenuous later period, when the work had assumed much larger dimensions and the world has been convulsed by the Great War and its terrible aftermath of moral instability and industrial unrest. But through it all we have been conscious of God's smiling providence and continued mercy, so that now with the Psalmist we may truly say our cup runneth over. To God be the glory! Great things He hath done. Praise the Lord!

"Great things He hath taught us, great things He hath done,
And great our rejoicing thro' Jesus the Son;
But purer and higher, and greater will be
Our wonder, our transport, when Jesus we see."

An old friend in Greenock, sending £2 from his wife and himself, reminds us, "I am one of those who saw the first home built at Bridge of Weir. You may know I am peculiarly interested. The very mention of them brings up happy memories of the 'Grand Old Man' whose name they bear. The Lord be with you ever." One shilling marked "first fruits of increase" has found its way anonymously into our treasury from Coatbridge; £1 from the birthday box of a Clydebank Sunday School; £7 5s. from friends and well-wishers of a little girl recently admitted to the Homes from one of the city hospitals; 5 guineas for the Sanatoria from a lady in Hyndland; 5s. for the Missions Fund from one of our old girls; £1 from the children attending a small Sunday School in the heart of Perthshire; £2 from others in Lerwick; £1 6s. 2d from another in Selkirk; 18s. from one in Kirkwall; £1 from one in a neighbouring Renfrewshire village; £1 from a member of Strathbungo Parish Church; 2s. 6d. from a Motherwell nurse; £5 from two old friends "as an expression of gratitude to God for the privilege of fellowship in the ministry at the Homes"; £1 from a Glasgow company of Girl Guides; £2 from one of our village "mothers"; and £5 from readers of the "Sunday at Home."

An Edinburgh minister's wife, who has been asked to forward a ten shilling note and the work done for the Homes by a junior Bible Class writes, "I was telling some of the new girls about the wonderful work done and how you go forward in faith and make no appeals for support except to God. I was struck by the eager breathless way in which one girl listened and by the remark she made. 'They'll never want,' she said, with a ring of certainty in her voice." Blessed assurance He is faithful that promised. The members of the Women's Service in connection with our City Home, which is doing such splendid work amongst the poor folks of that district, have sent five pounds to show their appreciation and thereby share in caring for the children in whose welfare they take a sympathetic interest. A letter enclosing a like amount reads, "My father, who is very weak and is patiently awaiting the final call, bids me send you the enclosed £5 for the work at Bridge of Weir. It has been one of his most esteemed privileges to send his yearly contribution, and he always felt himself more than repaid by the stimulus of your father's faith and yours."

An old and honoured servant of the Lord and his wife, "glad to be able to have even so small a share in your blessed work," enclosing ten shillings, assure us, "We are grateful recipients of the annual 'Narrative of Facts,' which always brings us a blessing and proves an incentive to faith, a stimulus which is often greatly needed in the difficult days in which we live." May God bless increasingly the testimony of this record for His own glory and the strengthening of His people's faith. Obedient to the request of his closing days, the family of an old and very generous friend have sent a cheque for one thousand pounds, the amount of their father's annual donation usually paid into our exchequer about this time of the year. Alongside of this large sum we have the request, "Please accept this small donation (£2) from a working woman who adopted three orphan boys and knows that you are doing Christ's work. 'Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these ye have done it unto me.'" A lady in Westminster has asked us to use her gift of ten pounds "for the Canadian emigration fund with all good wishes." It is most opportune, and will provide an outfit for one boy.

MARCH, 1926.—The first evening in March finds us beginning to receive applications from boys who wish to be included in the party we hope to emigrate in April. All through this month by a process of elimination after repeated medical, mental, and moral tests, the selection of candidates has gone on, for the boys and girls who have already gone to Canada have made a very high reputation, and we are careful that those who follow may not impair but improve it. By the time the Dominion Government's Emigration Agent made his official inspection on 30th inst., the original draft had been reduced by half to the number we believe should be sent on this occasion. One friend interested in this department of our work has sent one pound to say, "I wish the boys every success in their new undertaking to Canada"; and another, who desires to be anonymous, has written as follows:—

"I had a small sum of money to re-invest, and I feel that I could not have a happier investment than the chance of starting a boy in life, so I am enclosing herewith £24 instead of my usual donation, and I ask you to use it for the outfit of one of your lads for Canada. If you would choose your most unlikely boy and let me know his name and destination, I could make special petition for him, and I think that helps. I do think it is such splendid work you are doing to give those children their due heritage—a happy childhood and a chance to make good."

Surely this is following the example of Him, who is able to save to the uttermost, and will bring blessing not only to the protégé, but also to his kind benefactor, whose gift will cover the entire cost of outfit and passage to his new home in Ontario. Another good friend, who has made himself responsible for the support of one little girl after another for many years, again forwards his annual cheque "from myself and family for the maintenance and welfare, both temporal and spiritual, of my dear little unknown girl, Mary," and adds, "Would you think it a trouble to tell her how interested we are in her welfare, and to hear that she is doing well, and learning about her Saviour's love to her, and to return it with all her heart." Five pounds is also to hand from "George's sisters for our orphan." What increase of joy in life would come to any of our readers who for the Master's sake would thus adopt one of His little ones under our care. In sending the contribution of his Sunday school a Morayshire minister remarks, "It has been a pleasure to hear two or three times from the little A—— children, who seem to have quite settled down, and to have found a happy home at Bridge of Weir."

Into our treasury has been cast £10 for the general fund, together with £3 for the Sanatoria, and £2 for the Colony of Mercy by a gentleman interested in a boy and girl who used to be in the Homes; a ten shilling note "as a thankoffering for the gift of a daughter" by a couple in Parkhead; £1 "in loving memory of wee Sheila"; 10s. for the Sanatoria anonymously from Peeblesshire as "a thankoffering for our baby"; a cheque for £50 by an Ayrshire farmer; £10 by a Scottish gentleman in County Antrim; 20s. for the Colony of Mercy from a lady in Scotstoun; £3 from Bombay; 8s. 6d. by an old friend in Vancouver; £10 by a Women's Foreign Mission Association; two guineas by a Partick branch of the Girls' Guild; 5s. by a

A ROWING LESSON AT THE COAST.

Band of Hope in Perth; 25s. by a Hamilton branch of Christian Endeavour Society; £1, "a thankoffering for another milestone on life's journey," by a Paisley helper; £1, another birthday remembrance by one in Nairn; £1 by another in Adelaide, South Australia; £100 in memory of a Dunoon donor; £5 by someone in New Zealand; £2 by a personal friend and her husband in India; 10s. by an Orkney minister; and 2s. 6d. by one in training for missionary work in Africa.

The stream of gifts from grown-up members of our family towards the maintenance of their successors in the old home continues to flow steadily. Two girls in this country have contributed 5s. each; another, 4s. 6d.; a fourth, 4s.; one in Toronto, 2 dollars to say, "I can never thank you enough for all that was done for my sisters and me"; a lad of sterling Christian character in the North, £2; another of the girls, who is ambitious to improve her position, 10s.; one who has made his mark in the business world but still keeps his colours flying, a cheque for £20, to be used for the children's holidays at Torr Aluinn; another of the older boys with a considerable family of his own, 10 dollars; and one of the girls, before taking up work in a new situation, the reward of faithfulness in the old place, £1, "a small token in acknowledgment of the past years under your care."

In the letter enclosing her thankoffering for a friend's life spared, an Aberdeen donor, interested in one of our Canadian boys, says, "We thank you for the wonderful report. It brought tears when reading of so many of the dear ones acknowledging what they owed to the Homes. What a wonderful God is supplying every need. We are proving much of His love and care in this the time of our trouble. He is a never-failing Friend." One guinea, the surplus after buying a wreath for a school chum, has come to hand from the children of a Grangemouth school because one of their number was recently admitted to the Colony of Mercy. Twelve pounds is the proceeds of a concert given by the infants of a school in the same town. We have been asked to accept five pounds for the children "as a very small token of my gratitude for many privileges enjoyed while actually residing in the village."

Readers of "The Christian" have contributed £22; members of a Sewing Meeting in Stewarton, £14, saying, "We hope to send a bale of garments next month"; a shipping company, £22, being a share of collections made on their passenger steamers; the trustees of a mission hall in the city, £20; a lady in London, £10, as "I see March was the month my husband used to send it"; another in Glasgow, £2 "in memory of my sister and niece, who took an interest in the work but who are no longer here"; one who ministered with great acceptance in the church on a recent Sunday, a guinea; and another, a like sum, prior to his visit to say, "I am looking forward with much pleasure to my visit to the Homes on Sabbath first. It is one of the happiest days in the year." Just here we would reiterate our thanks and appreciation for all the helpful ministry of these and many others, both clergy and laymen, who have been to us the Lord's messengers from week to week. As one of them has truly said, the day's work for a preacher at the Homes is a "moderatorial" one.

APRIL, 1926.—A father, sending £1 "from our son who is now 10 years of age," prays "that he will always remember to maintain his interest in the Homes." Of this there need be little fear. The promise is still valid—"Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it." In proof whereof we have just received the sum of 3s. 6d. with "love and prayer," the donor of which writes, "as bairns we were taught to remember your father's work, and I will never forget." Still further support for this our faith is to be found in the fact that the contribution of an Ayrshire Bible Class has been forwarded by the grandson of one of the Founder's old friends still actively interested in the work of the Homes. From two Selkirkshire children another pound has come "for Jesus sake with kind love"; whilst an old-age pensioner in Renfrew has sent a ten shilling note, which was "a present from a son abroad on my seventy-fourth birthday."

A recent visitor to our village, who failed to find a box into which to drop his donation says, "Please accept this humble gift (four shillings), and may God reward all your labour for Christ. I am only a working man, but God saved me, and I am thankful for all He has done for me." The collective gift of the workers at one of the Clyde harbours has been passed on to us by the harbour master; five guineas by a friend in Alnwick who wishes to be anonymous; an Easter offering of £5 by one in Berwick-on-Tweed; 4s. by the grateful grandmother of a little girl in the "Mitchell" Home; £1 for the Colony of Mercy "in memory of my mother," by one who has experienced in her sorrow that "He giveth songs in the night"; 10s. for the same department of the work by an old worker in Edinburgh; 10s. by another; other 10s. by two more in loving memory of another who has gone to her reward; 22s. by a helper in Belfast; £1 by the members of a very old friend's Bible Class; and £1 by a new donor, who writes,

"My husband and I were very much interested in reading an account of the wonderful work carried on in the Homes. We feel we would like to contribute a little towards it."

An Edinburgh helper, referring to a recent issue of "The Christian" writes, "The article reminded me of a happy day I spent at Bridge of Weir Homes many years ago. I had the privilege of seeing a party being commended to God in the church ere leaving for Canada. The memory of that day is sweet."

So once again the time has come round for the outgoing of another party, preparations and outfitting for which have made the first two weeks of April very busy indeed. The afternoon of Wednesday, 14th inst., was spent wandering through the old world garden of Ducha, where they were the guests of Lord and Lady Maclay for tea before returning home for the valedictory meeting in the church—a gathering the memory of which is not likely to fade from their minds for many a long day. Two mornings later they had a hearty send-off by the entire population of our village as they drove through the gates on the first stage of their long journey. The sail down the river afforded ample opportunity to inspect the splendid accommodation reserved for them aboard the Anchor-Donaldson liner "Letitia," the geography of which they were already becoming acquainted with ere we bade goodbye to the party of thirty-five all told, including Mr. Walter Young, the worthy superintendent of the City Home, who goes in charge on this occasion. At four-thirty in the afternoon we watched the great vessel steam out into the Firth and silently commended them, for the voyage and all their future days, to the loving care of Him, who is able to keep them from falling and present them faultless by and by where partings never come.

Ten days later our hearts were gladdened by a message that, after encountering a good deal of fog, they had safely reached Quebec the previous day. Our friends will be interested and encouraged, as were we, with the following extracts from two letters recently to hand—the first from one of the 1893 boys' party, and the second from a girl who was sent to Canada in 1914.

"I would like to send you ten dollars. It will be a help to feed some poor child and still to show that I appreciate the kindness shown to me. We have three little boys of our own, and we had a little girl this year but God had a mission for her to fulfil. She has fulfilled it, and God had greater need of her so He took her home. Nevertheless we would like to have her stay with us, but now we have an interest in Heaven as well as here, and we would like to have the prayers of your people that God will help us and give us strength to overcome the temptations of this life that we may all meet again. Our great difficulty is that preachers try to tell us that the Bible is a fable and not inspired by God. Well, we know better. Had it not been for inspiration what would Mr. Quarrier have done, and God has been good to me through all these years that I have been away from you. I sent you a photo of my place. You can see that I have a nice home and good buildings, and I have a section and a half paid for, so surely goodness and mercy have followed me. Times have been hard I know, but I hope by your prayers that we will arise and go to our Father no matter what comes. Hope that this finds you all well and everything going fine."

"So many years have passed since I left the old Homes, and I am rather ashamed to be writing my first letter, but although you have not heard from me before my heart has been with you many times. I shall never forget the Christian training I received there, and the kindness which was shown me when I was so sick in Bethesda. I also appreciate the New Year Letter very much which comes so regularly. It certainly is good to hear from home. Well, I have had many experiences and temptations since leaving the shelter of the Homes, but the Lord has been with me all the way. Three years ago I came to Chicago to attend the Moody Bible Institute. My sister and brother-in-law, who are graduates of the Institute, were living in the city, so they wished me to make my home with them. They left two years ago to live five hundred miles from here, where he is a student at the Baptist theological seminary. The Lord has been very good in giving me friends, with whom I am making my home. They are real consecrated servants of His. I am enclosing a draft for twenty-five dollars from them. I hope you will accept my small donation of ten dollars.

Other transatlantic donations are 6 dollars from Philadelphia friends; 5 dollars from New York City; £1 from Guelph, Ontario; £25 from Maryland, U.S.A.; £2 from a minister in Toronto; £2 16s. 9d. from a few Scotch friends in New Jersey; and £4 as a memorial of their beloved pastor from the congregation of a mission church in Montreal. Ten shillings have been sent by a minister in South Africa; £10 by a friend in New Zealand; and £2 by a lady in the same overseas dominion to say, "I would like to tell you how often the thought of your father's work and his absolute faith in a loving Heavenly Father has helped me when my own faith was growing weak." The month's largest contributions are £125 from Hong Kong; and £150, the half-yearly allowance of the Thomas Porter Equipment Fund towards the cost of outfits.

MAY, 1926.—When on the first of May the threatening storm cloud of industrial strife broke in all its unreasoning fury upon the nation, it was difficult to forecast what an hour might bring forth or what turn events might take. More quickly than most, our community loyally adjusted themselves to the exigencies of the situation, and within three days our already considerable stocks of food and fuel were augmented, so that there would have been no shortage had the struggle gone on for several months. During these dark days when constituted authority was challenged we stayed our hearts upon the promise "the Government shall be upon His shoulder: and His name shall be called the mighty God, the Prince of Peace." As the days wore on and forces of order and righteousness triumphed (as they must ever do, "for God is not the author of confusion") like St. John in his vision we "heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of many thunderings, saying, Alleluia; for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth."

As a Canadian donor remarks, the real trouble with this old world is that Christ has been left out of the reckoning. It will be worth what it has cost if this experience lead the nation back to God. Before the Brotherhood of Man, of which so much is heard nowadays, there must be the acknowledgment of the Fatherhood of God by adoption into His family through faith in Jesus Christ.

Another friend in Montreal, enclosing £4, has written, "I am sorry that I have been unable to send anything for two years to help the fine work you are carrying on in the Homeland. I have now the great pleasure once more of contributing a wee bit to the general fund." Several friends in South Africa have contributed £2 7s.; another, whose home is in Sydney, Australia, 10s.; a gentleman in Otago, N.Z., his cheque for £50; another in Victoria, B.C., 10 dollars; the headmistress of a school in Natal, £1; one of our own teachers, £5; one who used to be "mother" of a girls' home, 10s.; another former helper, now across the Border, £1, "because I want to send you a P.O. on behalf of the hospital. It was Hospital Sunday not long since here, but I feel I would like to send something towards the one where I worked."

On the very day the last-mentioned gift was received there came into that hospital our second foundling. Left by someone late the previous evening, he cried intermittently as he lay, wrapped in a piece of blanket under the scant shelter of a bush on the grassy bank close by the windows of the boys' ward. All through the wet and stormy night the sound of his crying was mistaken for the bleating of a lamb, till the following afternoon an investigation of its persistence discovered a three weeks' old baby boy. The poor wee chap was found only just in time, but now our darling baby is the most popular patient in the hospital. It is fifty years since our first foundling was laid on the doorstep of Cessnock House in the old Govan Road.

Last year the Bible Class of a Boys' Brigade Company contributed a guinea. Now we read that "the annual report you sent us was of much interest to all concerned, and the boys became so interested that on their express instructions I am enclosing £2 this year." Eight shillings from Edinburgh have brought good wishes from a Mothers' meeting; £2 13s., the prospect of a visit from members of a Sunday School in Fife; the will of a donor, whose kind offer to endow the House which he gave, had to be gratefully declined, £150 to pay its housekeeping bill for six months; and the Indian mail a ten shilling note from a former helper, who writes, "I have been thinking a deal about you these days, and this little piece of paper seems to say, 'send me.'"

Several of our grown-up family have remembered our needs. Five shillings from one is "my bi-monthly gift as a little token of gratitude for all you did for me, and thanks unto the Lord for all His mercies"; whilst another who has recently gone into training as a nurse writes, "I got my first month's pay in the infirmary yesterday, so I am sending on to you the Lord's tenth with a little added, for my heart is filled with gratitude when I think back on the way by which He has led me, and I only wish I had more to lay at His feet. I have given my life to Jesus, and my prayer is that I may have grace to follow Him closely no matter how difficult the road may be." From Lerwick has come to hand £25, "a special and exceptional donation"; £18 for the Homes, with £1 each for the Sanatoria and the Colony of Mercy from "Sympathisers" in Largs; £20, a "thankoffering" from Leith; and from Johnstone, £1 "for the children's sail down the water."

Last year's experiment of taking some of the Elise Hospital children to the coast for a change was so successful, that on Friday, twenty-eighth, twenty of the permanent patients were safely transferred to the seaside Homes, where the large dining-rooms on the ground floor of Torr Aluinn had been transformed into hospital wards for their reception. Their transportation was quite an undertaking, for one little girl had to be carried all the way on her heavily-weighted bed, and at least twelve others were stretcher cases, some of whom had never seen the sea before. How happily excited they were with the great adventure, and fortunately none the worse for the journey.

JUNE, 1926.—"It is nearly twenty-six years since my mother left us, and I value the privilege of helping the little ones in memory of her on her birthday." So reads a letter from St. Boswells, whilst a friend in Paisley, who recently forwarded the donation of a married daughter and now encloses her own says, "When my children were young I taught them all to remember the children who were not so well off as they were. So we used to have little sales of work in the garden and always sent the money for the children." How hopeful to think of the splendid service of the younger generation, but we do miss the old friends and their long-sustained labours of love. A venerable friend and staunch supporter of our work and every good cause, whose Christian life and service will live on as a fragrant memory long after her day's work is done, writes, "I am sorry we have no parcel to send you for we have no sewing meeting now. Our young people miss it, but the old folks are not able to lead on! I am only able to give a little instead of doing work as long ago, and still pray on for you all."

Out of a very slender income an old worker in the South has asked us to accept five shillings for the children; another in the North, ten shillings; and one who used to share in service at the Colony of Mercy, £1. From one of the girls who visits the old home from time to time we have received 10s.; from one of the farm boys, 4s. for the Homes, with 2s. each for the Sanatoria and the Colony of Mercy; and an oft-repeated gift of 5s. from another of the girls. A friend in Ohio has added to the funds £20; a medical doctor in Victoria, Australia, £10; a lady in New Zealand, £3 15s.; another in Guernsey, one guinea; and two Dutch friends in South Africa, £1 as a thankoffering for the safe arrival of a baby girl. Not long ago we adopted another baby girl with a childless couple in a border town, and here is an extract from their letter of appreciation.

"I think it is my place to give you thanks from the bottom of my heart for the darling baby girl you have given us. To tell the truth she has not given us very much bother seeing we were strange to her. When we left your home in Glasgow she just seemed to take to us right away, and we had always to give her another kiss. People who saw us would think we were awfully silly, but what did we care. It was all for the love of the girl. We had a job with her going into shops, but she is getting used to it now. Also she has made friends with the rest of the children who stay near me. I had the minister in to see her yesterday but she was sound asleep, so he is going to put her name on the Cradle Roll. So I think that is very nice of him, and you can depend upon it she will get every attention and care and be brought up as you and ourselves would like her to be, trusting in God. Now I must say my husband and I find her a most lovable darling girl, and we simply adore her. I must also say she is extremely clean in her habits, which must have taken great patience and kindness from yourself and staff who had the training of her. It will be a pleasure to write to you about her progress. Again thanking you for the happy girl and the happiness she has brought."

We rejoice with a helper in Christchurch, New Zealand, who tells us that in the Sunday School where he teaches, "numbers of our boys have been led to the Saviour during this last year, and others of the children are anxious. In these and other directions there are not wanting tokens of the Lord working with us." Anonymously from Cupar we have received a guinea, "a thankoffering for many mercies"; £7 11s. 1d., "gifts from friends of your work here, raised through the scholars both of day and Sabbath schools" in Kirkwall; £1 from a lady who lives on another of the Orkney Islands; £10 from Cheshire; £3 from Hertfordshire; £20, "which will help to feed your large family," from Cowdenbeath; £15 from North Berwick; 12s. from the Bible Class of a Dublin Boys' Brigade; £2 10s. from a children's meeting in Birmingham; and £20 from a Montreal friend in London towards emigration expenses to say, "I want to let you know how much I enjoyed the short time spent in going over the Orphan Homes of Scotland, and in seeing the great work on behalf of the little ones of whom our blessed Lord said, 'Suffer the little children to come unto Me,' and as we see these monuments of God's faithfulness and love and grace how our hearts can rejoice, how our faith in a living God is renewed, and how we can thank God and take courage to go on seeking to serve Him."

On the twenty-second the children of the Elise Hospital were brought back safely and comfortably from the coast where they have enjoyed and greatly benefited by a splendid holiday, living as much as possible out-of-doors, with beds carried out to the terrace and sometimes even with mattresses on the beach, so that though their bodies and lower limbs might be encased in splints and plaster casts, they might enjoy the sea and sunshine to the full, and some, even thus handicapped, be able to use their arms for digging and making castles in the sand. How delightful to see them at it, and what a lot they will have to live over again and talk about during the long days of winter. Next day was the occasion of prize-giving at the school, where a large company, chiefly of our village folks, gathered to participate in what proved to be a very happy function.

Next day the school closed for the long summer vacation, and on the following afternoon the first party of holiday makers, to the number of 255 boys and 21 workers, set off with much rejoicing and great expectations of a jolly fortnight by the sea. Owing to the coal shortage the steamer had to make a double trip across the Firth before calling at Innellan, but the extra sail only served to enhance the pleasure of the trip and sharpen the edge of many already quite healthy appetites.

JULY, 1926.—The month of July is always fully taken up with holidays. On the ninth the first party returned from the seaside, tanned as brown as Africans, and were replaced by the remainder of our boys. When these in turn had spent a fortnight by the sea the first half of the girls took up residence at Torr Aluinn and Hoop House. What cheering at Princes Pier on these changing days as the two parties met, one contingent thronging hurriedly down the gangways to catch the train homeward bound, the others waiting eagerly to take their places on the same steamer.

much enjoyed by the youngsters, are 5s. from Selkirk; a guinea "in aid of the summer expenses of your large family," under postmark of Lancaster; 5s. from one who has happy memories of such holidays a few years ago; £3 7s., contributed by a few workers of a warehouse in Hawick; and half-a-crown from someone in Crieff.

For ordinary maintenance a Melbourne doctor has sent £5; a helper in Sydney, £10; two friends in Newton-Stewart, £1 for the Colony of Mercy; one of our grown-up bairns, 10s.; an old worker come to help us again during the holiday season, £1; the chaplain of a Territorial regiment of Highlanders, £2 0s. 2d., being the collection at Divine Service in their camp on the Isle of Wight; a Renfrewshire branch of the Y.W.C.A., three guineas; a lady in Portpatrick interested in a little girl helped, £5; the son of an old and generous friend, £30 for the Homes, with £15 for the Sanatoria and £10 for the Colony of Mercy; the younger son of another, £100; a frequent helper in Darlington, £10; one of our Canadian family, £6 2s. 6d.; worshippers in the Keith-Falconer Church, Aden, £2 1s. 7d., being the offering at a communion service; and an Ayrshire firm, five guineas, with a note from the manager to say, "Our subscriptions are down this year but we have not altered your amount."

More even than the children at Bridge of Weir, the lads of the City Home need a change to coast or country. This year they found a new camping ground for the ten days of the Glasgow Fair at Spittal, near to Berwick-on-Tweed. That they never slip such an opportunity for public testimony nor fail to contribute to the pleasure of the place which offers them hospitality, as well as the attitude of the local people to these fine fellows during their brief sojourn among them, is well set forth in the following appreciation which appeared in the "Berwick Journal."

"After attending morning service in St. Paul's Church, on Sunday, the two bands of Quarrier's Home, Glasgow, with the officials and members of the Camp, marched to Spittal War Memorial, where a large number of people had already gathered. The psalm 'Now Israel may say,' and the hymn 'O God our Help' was played by the silver band, while the pipers played 'The Flowers of the Forest.' A wreath was placed at the base of the Memorial by Mrs. Young, and a most impressive service was closed with prayer by the Superintendent, Mr. Young. In the evening a service was held in the public hall, and was very largely attended. Items by the band and hymns were rendered in fine style. Mrs. Young gave a timely address, and her words of counsel, along with those of Mr. Young, who afterwards addressed the gathering, will long be remembered. The meeting was closed with prayer.

"The departure of the Glasgow boys' camp from Spittal has meant taking from us something to which we were all growing accustomed, and finding much delight and pleasure in the musical element. Two bands, as Mr. Jackson said at the concert on Wednesday last, from one centre was highly creditable. The music which has been discoursed from time to time has been of the finest, and the lads have been ever willing to give their time for the enjoyment of others, and their efforts have brought forth loud praise from one and all. We can now only look to a return visit another year, when we hope to again have such privileges. A large number of the lads, with Mr. Young, paid a visit to Flodden Memorial on Monday. At the memorial, as a token of respect and reverence, the band played a lament. Several other places of interest have also been visited, and on all occasions an excellent time has been spent. The lads left on Tuesday evening from Berwick Station for Glasgow, all very much the better for their stay in Spittal."

With the arrival of Mrs. C. A. Winters, Matron of our Canadian Distributing Home, on 18th inst., on her first visit to this country and to make a personal acquaintance with this end of the work in which she has been engaged for several years, preparations for the small party of girls she has come over to take back with her to Canada, began in earnest. Especially the dressmaking department and the drapery store have been hives of industry, as each girl's dresses and outfit have to be made to her own measure and individually fitted.

A friend of one of the party has sent 10s. to help with her outfit; the uncle of another, 30s. towards the cost of her passage; and the trustees of a gentleman who very generously supported our emigration scheme during his lifetime, £100. Enclosing one pound from the children of a Perth Sunday School, the superintendent tells that "one of our teachers attended a service for your children, and she was amazed at the large congregation of children. The singing delighted her also, she herself being a medallist." The Kilmacolm donor of £5 also writes, "Since taking up residence in this district I have seen more of the work than formerly, and the sight of those dear children from the church gallery always brings the words, 'inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me' to my memory." The same feeling is echoed from Detroit with a gift of ten dollars "from an interested friend and daughter and a Christian American girl" by the sender, who says, "I have visited the Homes before I left Scotland for America, and the impression it made upon me I shall never forget."

It was a privilege to welcome also Dr. Bergin, honorary director of Müller's Homes in Bristol, and his wife, one day at the end of this month on their first visit to our village. Their stay was all too short, but we tried to make the most of it and enjoyed the Christian fellowship of these good friends from a kindred institution maintained so long upon the same principles as our own, with such a wonderful testimony to a prayer-hearing God.

AUGUST, 1926.—The church having been closed for repair and re-decoration, the morning service on the first of August was held in the Central Hall, which long ago became too small for the congregation, on this occasion restricted to twenty children from each Home, with no room for either Colonists or visitors. It revived memories of the old days and added a new zest to the grateful rendering of the familiar hymn, "To God be the Glory," sung with such heartiness and depth of feeling as we have never heard before. The evening service was held in the open-air on the lawn in front of the church. On later Sundays, when the weather was unfavourable, one half of the congregation worshipped in the morning and the other in the evening in the Central Hall.

The mid-week service, also held in the same building, took the form of a valedictory for the Girls' Canadian Party, who spent the following afternoon very happily at Duchal. As a memento of that visit each member of the party has received a small enlargement of the group photograph taken on the steps, with Lady Maclay in the centre, Miss Quarrier seated (on the top step) by the door, and Miss Macwilliam and Mrs. Winters.

Next day, 6th inst., was a busy one with a double share of excitement. In the morning, driving them all the way in our own motor bus to join the Anchor-Donaldson steamer Letitia at Princes Dock, we convoyed Mrs. Winters and our fifteen prospective Canadian girls to Greenock en route to the land of their adoption. Just what this parting has meant to them and us may be gathered from the fact that one of their number has been in the family over fifteen years, the most recent comer for nearly four. The average period of their residence in the Homes works out at eight years and eight months. With high hopes for the future we send them forth, these dear girls, children of many prayers and sheltered so long by our Father's love, in the assurance that they cannot drift beyond His care. In the afternoon the third contingent returned from the seaside Homes to make way for the rest of the girls to have their long-looked-for holiday.

To help pay for it a friend in Stirlingshire has sent £1 saying, "We are going off on holiday this morning and as a thankoffering I should like to send the enclosed money to help a little towards your giving your large family a holiday too. Our thoughts are often with you." Eight shillings and sixpence from Newport-on-Tay is also "to help with a child's outing even for a day"; and £1 from one of our own girls who "had a very happy holiday" is given in the "hope it will help for someone else on holiday." Several others of the grown-up girls who have been visiting the village during the month have contributed their tokens of gratitude. Two have given 5s. each; four others, 10s. each; one in London, £1; another in Airdrie, 5s.; and still another, 8s.

Of anonymous gifts there have been more than usual: £2 bears post-mark of East Kilbride; £1 of Dumfries; 1s. of Coatbridge; £5 of Peterhead; 5s. of Edinburgh; £1, "for the children's sake" of Rothesay, and 2s. 6d. of Galston from an unknown helper who asks us to "accept this small mite from a grateful one." A family donation from Newlands brings the encouraging information, "I remember you in prayer (especially on Wednesdays—Home Mission Day) and am always glad to hear all reports, newspaper or otherwise, which tell of your doings." Overseas gifts include £11 18s. 4d., proceeds of a church sale in Hong Kong; £2 from Sao Paulo; 5 dollars, a thankoffering for a safe but eventful journey from an old lady who has recently gone to join her family in British Columbia; five guineas, another thankoffering for journeying mercies vouchsafed to an old friend and faithful witness of the Master in Natal; and £50 from Takoma, U.S.A.

Help of friends in the Homeland has come from widely scattered points—7s. 6d. from a branch of the Y.W.C.A. in Orkney; £20 from a friend of long ago in Southampton; 7s. from someone near Wick; £3 from St. Ives, Cornwall; £1 from our old friends, "Alice, Willie and Jessie," with better news of their dear father; £1 from a voluntary helper in our own community; 3s. 6d. a birthday remembrance from Aberchirder; £1 from Kent; and a like sum from one in nearby Kilbarchan with 2 Chronicles xv. 7—"Be ye strong therefore, and let not your hands be weak: for your work shall be rewarded." They were evil days when with these words the prophet strengthened Asa to renew his covenant with God. May we not appropriate them to the present need for "in those times there was no peace to him that went out, nor to him that came in, but great vexations were upon all the inhabitants of the countries."

Welcome news of the Canadian party's safe arrival at their destination has set the village joy-bells ringing once again. Five days later the last of our young folks returned from the coast to be ready for the new session's work when school reopened on the twenty-fourth. Meanwhile the Colonists are having their much appreciated sojourn by the sea.

SEPTEMBER, 1926.—This month's first mails have brought £50 from a helper in Newlands; £100 from another in Alexandria; £5 from the Kilmacolm Hydro. in a letter which reads, "On Sunday last I met many of the orphan children out walking which touched a tender chord. I trust the enclosed will help a little to brighten the lives of the wee ones." Among other large sums to hand are £20 for the general fund with £5 for Missions from Thurso, with the promise of some socks and other garments by next mail; £150 from "Teach me Lord how much I owe"; £22 per a city firm of lawyers from "a client who wishes to remain anonymous"; £50 from the donor of a boys' Home, in whose family he takes a keen personal interest; and £800 to account of a legacy by an Ayrshire friend.

The younger of two sisters, brought up in the Homes, writes as she is spending the day where the older one is serving, "Pleased to say I am getting on well and liking my place. I am enclosing a small gift of five shillings as a token of gratitude for all that was done for me. It is only now I realise that it was all for my own good, for when I look around it makes me think what I might have been." Others of the big family have made contribution to the needs of their successors in the old Home—three of them, five shillings each; another, two shillings; and two more, ten shillings each. One in Egypt, who went to school with some of these, enclosed a pound in his recent letter; and another settled in a home of his own, ten shillings, "a token of God's bountiful goodness to us during the past year."

Of a cheque for fifty-five pounds a regular donor says, "the £5 for our little orphan, and the rest for your large family as a thankoffering for my daughter's happy marriage the other day." And this leads on to our own big wedding celebration, when on 22nd inst, in our Mount Zion Church, Lord Maclay's elder daughter, the Hon. Liliias Maclay, was united in marriage to the Rev. John E. Hamilton, B.D., M.C., minister of St. Michael's Parish, Edinburgh.

If there be truth in the old adage—"Happy the bride the sun shines on," the Hon. Mrs. Hamilton will be happy indeed. Certainly they had a fine start. All the arrangements went smoothly, and it seemed as if the bride and groom radiated their own happiness into the atmosphere. As on a former occasion there was a re-arrangement of seating in the church to accommodate guests and others specially invited, besides members of our own community and of the public to the number of about a thousand, in addition to the children of the Homes and the workers who have charge of them. On leaving the church after the ceremony, the Rev. and the Hon. Mrs. Hamilton, having run the gauntlet of several guards of honour, drove off along avenues lined by our children waving flags and cheering lustily.

In the evening, while "fathers" and "mothers" were participating in the "At Home" given by the bride's parents, all the children spent a jolly two hours and a half in the church, being entertained in a fashion easier to approve than to describe. The girls especially will enjoy re-acting the day's proceedings which have been a great treat for all the young folks who have each a new threepenny piece to spend—the bridegroom's gift. While much among us, Dr. Liliias has endeared herself to all, and we "grudge her sair" to Edinburgh where, into her new sphere, we know she will carry her own happy, helpful influence.

When one of the wedding guests got home to Edinburgh he wrote, "I was much impressed with the general appearance of the orphan children at the Homes to-day, and especially with their bright happy and cheerful little faces. I have much pleasure in enclosing cheque for one hundred pounds as a donation towards the maintenance of the large family."

Always at this season there come to us much valued gifts from fellow-workers past and present. Of these, one pound has been sent by one no longer able, regretting that this is the first Thanksgiving she has missed since joining the work with Mr. Quarrier 38 years ago. Another, who is "carrying on" sending most generously a five-pound note says, "On this Thanksgiving morning my desire is to thank the Lord for all His loving kindness. 'For the Lord is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works.' Enclosed is a thankoffering."

The crowd at the wedding was small compared with the throng of interested friends who filled every corner of the church at the Thanksgiving service exactly a week later on the ninety-seventh anniversary of the Founder's birth. God gave the sunshine, and this village He has so richly blessed was looking very fair to welcome the fifteen hundred visitors or thereby who came to rejoice in all the Lord has done for us in the last two years. The best press notice has been culled from The British Weekly, to give the greater number of our absent friends some slight idea of that helpful day.

THANKSGIVING DAY AT THE ORPHAN HOMES.

The little township nestling in a hollow of the Renfrewshire hills was en fete last Wednesday. The Children's City was very fair to look upon as it lay bathed in the rich, mellow sunshine of an ideal September day.

In the heart of William Quarrier (the founder of the Homes) was born the thought of rescuing the destitute children in the City of Glasgow. Burning with enthusiasm the thought soon took a practical form in the organisation of the Shoe black and Newsboys' Brigades, out of these developed the first Orphan Home in Glasgow.

But in his vision Mr. Quarrier had pictured transplanting the children of the city streets to some fair spot, where, in pure air and beautiful surroundings they would grow strong and healthy.

Looking round a suitable site was found in the Valley of the Gryffe, where in 1877 the first stone was laid of a city "which hath foundation whose builder and maker is God," and in the strong belief that "Except the Lord build the house, they labour in vain that build it," Mr. Quarrier, armed with the shield of faith, went on with his great work, never wavering, till to-day in the most marvellous manner his dream has become a reality.

In answer to prayer money began to flow in. The first Home was built by a father and mother in memory of their son, and building after building has been added. Till now, the Children's City (truly a garden city) is a complete township, with schools, hospitals, stores, bakery, laundries, post-office, fire brigade and, crowning all, stands the House of God, where each week the key-note of service is set so beautifully and harmoniously that the worshippers return to their homes inspired anew to find in the land of the commonplace beauty exceedingly fair.

On Thanksgiving Day the members of the community, old and young, with many friends from far and near, gathered in the church to render thanks to the Giver of all. Pastor Findlay, of St. George's Cross Tabernacle, Glasgow, presided. He was accompanied on the platform by the Very Rev. A. S. Inch, D.D., of Dumbarton, Lord and Lady Maclay, Miss Quarrier, Mrs. Quarrier Burges and others.

After prayer and praise, Pastor Findlay, addressing the large audience, said they were met together in the most wonderful spot in Scotland, and briefly reviewed the progress of the work from the beginning, and told of the early days of bitter opposition and persecution. Dr. Inch spoke of the spirit of enthusiasm that prevailed, and said that he never came away from a visit without being encouraged and refreshed and a determination to do better in the days to come.

A pleasant feature of the gathering was the bright young faces of the children, and the rendering of the praise so sweetly to the accompaniment of the fine organ.

On leaving the church and looking over the little township, one realises more and more that it is a wonderful spot. When one thinks of the more than 18,000 boys and girls who have passed through the Homes, many of them, both at home and abroad, now occupying prominent positions in the world, showing that they have been citizens of no mean city, truly one finds here sermons in stones, and good in everything.

Everywhere you go an atmosphere of love and kindness surrounds you, from Miss Quarrier's home at the entrance gate to the farthest boundary, among workers and children alike, from the oldest to the youngest you meet with it showing that all who are carrying on the work are doing so in the spirit of Christ, the Master whom William Quarrier so closely followed.

"Though he rest from his labours, his works do follow him."

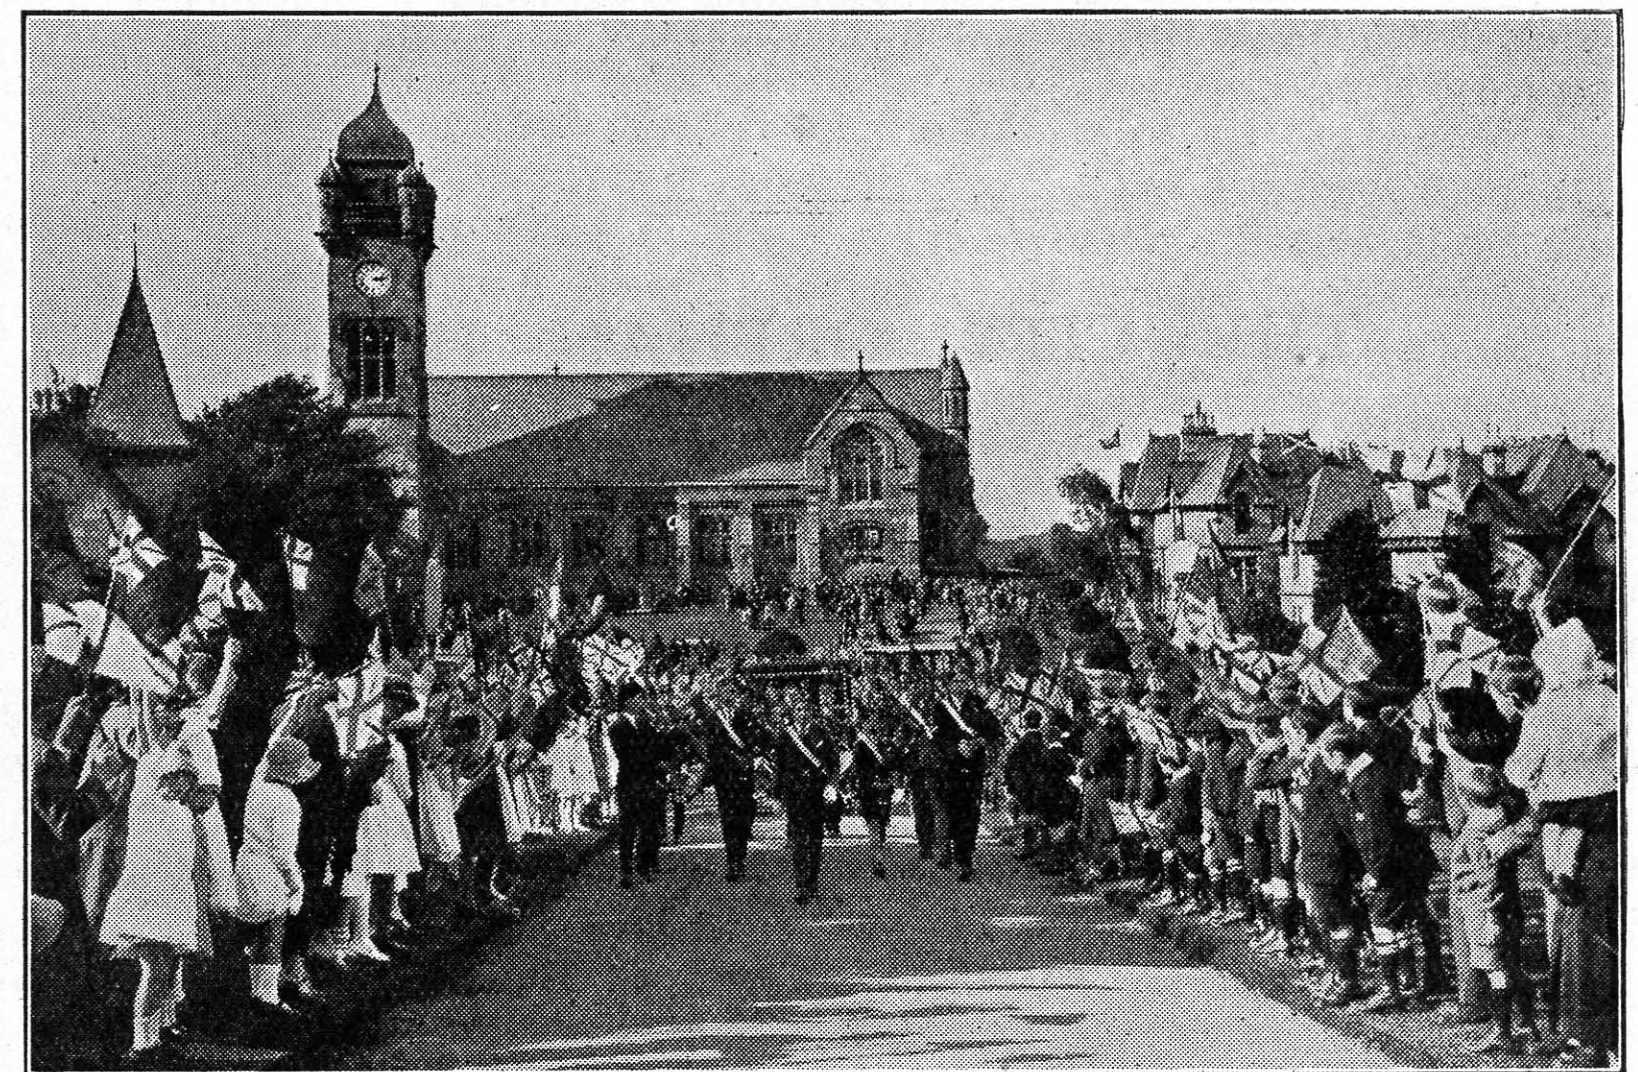

OCTOBER, 1926.—References to Thanksgiving Day are a feature of many letters received especially in the earlier days of this month. A friend in Greenock writes, "I have much pleasure in sending you the enclosed £1 as a thankoffering for the enjoyable day I spent at the Homes yesterday. I have been before and always was fortunate in getting a good day, but yesterday was extra fine and everything was nice and everyone looked happy as well as the children." A well-known Glasgow doctor says, "I was sorry I could not get down to your Thanksgiving Day yesterday. I enclose my cheque for £2 10s. as a little subscription to the work—the best in Scotland, in my opinion—a living monument to the power of prayer." An Ayrshire family gift brings the remark, "I would have liked to join you in person but did in spirit," as we feel sure a great many were doing. An Edinburgh letter reads, "My sister and I were sorry that we could not be present at your special gathering, and as we think this may be a difficult winter for the Homes through coal shortage etc., we enclose an extra donation of £1 each just to help a very little in the good work."

Two friends making their first acquaintance with our village have also written, one to say, "I felt greatly impressed by all the work that had been done. It was a delight to see the children all so bright and full of happiness. May they all learn early in life to know Jesus and to take Him as their own personal Saviour." The expression of the other is, "I was down at Thanksgiving Day for the first time, and your beautiful place was to me like Solomon to the Queen of Sheba, the half was not told me. Indeed, I felt I was walking on holy ground."

To help carry on the good work, Campbeltown friends collectively have sent eleven guineas; a Somerset friend, "praying daily for God's blessing on your work," 5s. for the general fund and 5s. for Jewish missions; a

Glasgow business man, £5 from his brother in Chile; a lady in Swansea, £1, "another little crumb," which she wishes "could be a loaf instead"; a Sunday School in Thurso, £2; a farmer, £1 10s., because "once again the Lord has fulfilled His promise in giving us a bountiful harvest"; one of the teaching staff, £2; an anonymous donor in Arbroath, 20s., "for God's work and yours"; someone in British Columbia, 15 dollars; two friends in China, £2; one of our grown-up girls, 5s.; a lady in Kilmarnock, £50; members of a branch of the Y.W.C.A., £5, towards the support of a girl in the Homes; a Newcastle helper, £1, "in memory of a little one's birthday"; a city business man, £100, also a memorial gift; and a personal friend, £5 "in memory of 29th."

Amongst other gifts on the sixteenth day of this month there came to hand £4 from one of our fellow-workers; £1 specially designated "In memoriam"; and this letter:—"Another anniversary of mother's birthday comes round and we wish to send you a small remembrance. We do not forget that this month holds very sacred memories for you too, and we feel we are privileged, indeed, to share the memories of your father and mother, and to have been associated with them and you in the work which was so dear to their hearts." Twenty-three years have passed since the beloved Founder was called into the immediate presence of the King, and still the work goes on, deprived of his personality but sustained by the same promise "A Father of the fatherless is God." As year by year old friends and helpers enter the "gates of pearl" to join "the countless host," the feeling that "we are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses" grows stronger, and we would exclaim, "For all the saints who from their labours rest, Hallelujah!"

And now as we look back over the way by which the Lord has led us through this most difficult year, it seems all more wonderful than ever when we consider that like Jacob we are "not worthy of the least of all the mercies." A Belfast donor sends a gift, "hoping that all your needs will be fully met," and corrects himself with, "I should say sure instead of hoping, for He is abundantly able to supply them." An Orkney minister's assurance has been our experience, "No doubt He, who furnished a table for His people in the wilderness, will be supplying all the needs of the Homes in these trying days." Upon His resources inexhaustible rather than upon the increased balances, which we were prepared to find considerably diminished, we rest our hopes for coming days. At the end of another financial year this long continued story of God's unchanging faithfulness demands a fresh pæan of praise, "O sing unto the Lord a new song; for He hath done marvellous things." Looking forward, with Job, we say, "I would seek unto God, and unto God would I commit my cause; which doeth great things and unsearchable; marvellous things without number."

THE CITY ORPHAN HOME.

FIFTY years ago on the 29th day of April The City Orphan Home, built in answer to prayer, was opened. After the dedication service, conducted by Mr. Quarrier, the doors were opened to the public, and over one thousand visitors, from the Beggar to the Merchant Prince, made a thorough inspection of the various departments, bedrooms, etc. One old body declared, Why! it's a perfect palace. One boy and one girl were received into the Home on this day of days, a great Red Letter day not only for the needy bairns of the City of Glasgow, but for thousands from all over our beloved land. One vision the great army of "Apprentice Lads" who have passed through these City Home doors and come under the Christian influences of Godly men and women, learned their trade, and gone out to live their own lives, building up homes of their own and becoming worthy citizens of our City and Empire. Looking backward over the long vista of years striking landmarks and numberless tokens of God's goodness and mercy mark the long, long trail awinding down through the years until on Sabbath night, 14th November, 1926, at our Service of Remembrance we paid tribute to the great company of "Brave Lads" who rose to fight and fall for God, King and Country.

It is deeply interesting to note that a goodly number of "Old Boys," who are now married with families of their own, are amongst the most earnest and most capable of our Mission Hall workers, and none of them are ashamed to declare they owe all under God to the Orphan Homes of Scotland. To-day close upon sixty lads are resident in the City Home, working at various trades on the Clyde and in the City. Evening classes are attended by the more diligent and ambitious among them. A fine, healthy, happy crowd of young manhood, they show every promise of becoming as worthy citizens in an even more difficult age as those who have gone before them. The Silver and Pipe band are full of increasing enthusiasm and are fast becoming first-rate musicians. Splendid service is continually rendered by them in our own work, and to deserving causes throughout the country.

In the month of July we encamped on the shores of the North Sea at Spittal, Berwick. The lads, including a number of old boys, saw the real sea for the first time, and enjoyed to the full the rolling billows which tossed them about like corks and cast them laughing and rollicking upon the sandy beach.

The work of the Mission Hall still goes from strength to strength, receiving continual evidence that God is with us, blessing his own people, and turning many from darkness to light and from the thralldom of sin to the liberty of Christ's kingdom. We are at our wits end on Sabbath nights to find accommodation for all who flock to our services. The continual prayer that rises from the hearts of all the workers as they watch the eager upturned faces of our "Five hundred men and women" is "God save the People." The Women's Social Hour service on Tuesdays offers a great opportunity of service in the homes of the people. Five hundred women folks eager for social fellowship, Gospel song and story, gather in. Sorrow, anxiety, weariness, depression, and disappointment give place to joy, trust, rest, inspiration, gladness.

The baby this year is our newly-formed "Girls' Guildry," junior and senior, fifty strong. Mid-week Service, Girls' and Boys' Lantern Story, Choir Practices, Saturday Night Socials, Monthly Lectures, Rambles in Summer, Foundry Boys' and Girls' Sabbath Morning Meeting, the Young Women's Bible Class, and many other services (social and spiritual) go to send out all around us the glad news of Free Salvation, Social Fellowship, and Helpful Service.

In closing, tribute must be paid to the happy willing service of staff and workers, both in Home and Mission Hall. Without their willing, hearty co-operation the work could not be carried on.

HOME AND FOREIGN MISSIONS FUND.

FOR another year it has been our privilege to be stewards of this Fund, and the stewardship has brought much joy to ourselves and help and comfort into the lives of many beloved missionaries. The Fund has a two-fold object; it is educative for the children and helps to train them in unselfishness and the blessedness of giving to others; and it is beneficent in that it helps to supply the needs of many faithful servants of our Common Lord. The present list of "Our Own Missionaries" consists of Mr. and Mrs. Cuthbert Nairn, of Marraksh, Southern Morocco; Mr. and Mrs. John Ritchie, Lima, Peru; Mr. and Mrs. James H. Haldane, Pernambuco, Brazil; and Miss Anna G.

Ritchie, Shansi, China. In addition to these friends, it is the privilege of the Fund to minister more or less regularly to about forty missions in the Home and Foreign fields. Here are a few extracts from letters recently received:—

Mrs. David Baron.—“My dear husband has not yet returned from the Mission House, where he has remained for the Sunday services and to-day, so I acknowledge the kind help which you have sent from the Orphan Homes H. & F. M. Fund with very warm thanks.” Only a week after this letter was written beloved David Baron was “absent from the body and present with the Lord.”

Mrs. S. H. Wilkinson, M. M. J.—“This beautiful gift from the O. H. S. brought a sweet touch from the Lord for which we heartily thank you. My husband is at present in Eastern Europe visiting our Missionaries and seeking new openings. He is keeping well and being consciously upheld.”

Secretary of Qua Iboe Mission.—“We wish to thank you for your note and enclosed cheque towards Miss C.’s support from O. H. S. H. & F. M. Fund. This renewed help is most acceptable, and we are deeply grateful to all who contributed. These gifts coming so regularly give us much encouragement, and we trust all who have a share in helping may be richly rewarded.”

Mission to Lepers.—“B. is having the new treatment, and we are glad to say he is benefiting by it. His general health is good, and there is some decrease of the disease. He is still able to take an active part in the life of the Home, and his conduct is quite good. He is also progressing spiritually. He sends his grateful thanks to his supporters at O. H. S.”

Southern Morocco Mission.—“I have much pleasure in sending you receipt for your generous remembrance of Mr. and Mrs. Nairn. Your constant kindness is a great encouragement. These are difficult days, and one is thankful for such a gift.”

North Africa Mission.—“It was a big heart cheer to get your letter this morning, enclosing very timely contribution from the O. H. S. Will you please pass on to all contributing friends the warmest thanks of our Council for such gracious fellowship. We do so appreciate also the intercessory sympathy which we feel we may count upon, on behalf of the work which the Lord has entrusted to our mission, among the sin-deluded souls in those dark and difficult lands of North Africa.”

Secretary of Z. B. & M. M.—“Many thanks for cheque for support of orphan at Munmad. The work there is most encouraging, and they have great reason to thank God for what He is doing.”

“John G. Paton Mission.”—“Thank you most heartily for the kind subscription sent towards our Mission from O. H. S. H. & F. M. Fund. Your faithful and generous help is greatly appreciated; please assure the kind donors how grateful we are for this evidence of their continued interest in our work.”

Zambesi Industrial Mission.—“We thank you for cheque from O. H. S. on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. S. at N’tonda. The work there is growing and spreading in an ever widening circle. Each Sabbath between fourteen and fifteen hundred people have the Word preached to them by workers connected with that station. Yet the Missionaries are far from satisfied, and would like to see far greater things.”

Africa Inland Mission.—“It was a joy to receive your letter with generous cheque from O. H. S. H. & F. M. Fund. We are again encouraged by tokens of God’s favour towards the work at home and abroad, and are looking forward to sending out two more new workers in December.”

Egypt General Mission.—“Your kind letter and gift from the Orphans touched our hearts greatly, and we do thank God for all the loving sympathy and prayer, and for the children’s gifts which are very precious in His sight. I had letters from the field this morning with a real note of victory in them in spite of all the straitness of these days. In wonderful ways God has supplied personal needs just at the most difficult time.”

China Inland Mission.—“We have just received your letter with further cheque enclosed from O. H. S. for the support of Miss Anna Ritchie in China. Kindly pass on our very warm thanks to all who have contributed. We continue earnestly in prayer on behalf of all our fellow-workers who are in positions of peril or danger at this time, and that the work of the Gospel may go on unhindered.”

Ceylon and India General Mission.—“Thank you very warmly for your kind gift from the O. H. S. towards the work of our Mission. It is a great cheer to us to receive it. Do thank the Orphans and those taking care of them for their kind and practical remembrance of the work in Ceylon and India. God’s goodness to our Mission continues, and we have much to praise Him for, both in blessing on the work and in temporal supplies.”

South Africa General Mission.—“How can we thank the Orphans at the Homes at Bridge of Weir for this handsome gift for the work of the Mission? I only wish I could be present in person to thank them, but as that is impossible, please say to them on behalf of our Council how grateful we are, and how very much we appreciate so large a sum coming from them out of their pocket money.”

Pundita’s Ramabai’s successor at Mukti.—“So many thanks for your kind cheque from O. H. S. H. & F. M. Fund, and thank you for giving me the privilege of sending it on to India. They are feeling the work a bit heavy, but I believe that God will make a way for them, and every difficulty will bring them a deeper experience of God. . . . How splendidly the work goes on at the Orphan Homes. They are a standing testimony to the fact that God does answer prayer and He does supply all the needs of those who look to Him. The whist drives and bazaars and entertainments which I see advertised to raise money for the Lord’s Work make me feel sick at heart.”

These are just a few out of the many missions it is our privilege to minister to through this Fund. Practically all of these missions carry on on same principles as those which guide us at the Orphan Homes, and if reading these pages leads some of the Lord’s stewards to take a further practical interest in the missions mentioned, this will be a joy to us. In any case, please do not forget all these faithful witnesses for the King when you have audience with Him at the Throne of Grace.

EMIGRATION WORK.

Another year of Fairknowe's work amongst the boys and girls entrusted to her care has been writ on the pages of history, recording as they do a contribution to the enlargement of life's opportunities, and also a real contribution, in number and quality, to the citizenship of Canada. It is my duty and privilege to report on these activities.

Our numbers are much smaller than we or the Government would like or had hoped for, but we are proud of the quality. Selection for the needs of the country has been wisely and carefully done; our family can stand the closest inspection by the most critical.

A happy group of twenty-eight boys under the manifestly efficient and kindly conductorship of Mr. W. Young, superintendent of the City Home, arrived at Brockville, 25th April. A small, but welcome party of fifteen girls conducted by Mrs. Winters reached Fairknowe on 15th August. Both boys and girls were immediately placed in approved homes and not a grievous complaint has been made about any one of them, but in practically all instances real appreciation is expressed.

For the benefit of some, it may be well to state that boys and girls are placed only after careful inquiry has been made as to the moral and physical suitability of the homes. A formal agreement is entered into in which are embodied safeguards and requirements which make for the child's physical, moral, spiritual well-being, and of which the applicant has been made aware previously. Ministers of the church that the children are to attend are advised of the placement, and asked to co-operate. We keep constantly in touch by letter and solicit correspondence. Never is any indication of unhappiness ignored, even though the home is considered a good one, for we have found that even in such there may be incompatibility of temperaments. Annually each home is visited by myself, and all possible care taken to get a real appraisal of conditions obtaining. A reasonable wage is arranged for all over school age, and we see to it that proper adjustments and settlements are made at appointed times. It is very gratifying to see the development of thrift resulting from a real pride in the very commendable bank balances.

Moreover, it is our policy to encourage preparations for the future. Wherever enquiry finds a sincere desire to press on with education, we foster the desire and make plans for the realisation of these ambitions. At the "Entrance" examinations several of our boys were successful, most taking honours. In Brockville alone six boys attending the "Collegiate" were singularly successful; one taking the medal for his year. As a result one lad enters the second year at Queen's University and another enters "Normal" preparing for teachers' course. One of our 1910 girls, who has been teaching, is now taking her last year at Queen's seeking a B.A. degree. A girl coming to us in 1924 has entered a course of training in one of our most important nurses' training schools. In all the cases cited a faithful application and self-denying heroism are manifested.

As suggested above when it comes to the realm of conduct, our boys and girls deserve great credit. Very few, indeed, can be complained of; in fact I know of no case where a boy or girl is looked upon by the community as "bad." On the contrary, free encomiums reach me from pastors, teachers and neighbours. I have been very happy, indeed, about results of our work as revealed by inspection visits. The unfortunate turn of events whereby we in Ontario are compelled to fight the repeal of Prohibition, has brought home to me the fact that I have not been called upon to deal with one case of liquor drinking amongst more than one thousand boys with whom I have had the privilege to deal since the Ontario Temperance Act has been in force. In view of the alleged charges that this Act is ruining the boys of the land, surely this statement reflects credit on the boys and their previous training. I think most will see in it a refutation of the claims of the opponents of Prohibition.

I find one of our 1924 boys of seventeen years is teaching with remarkable ability a Sunday School class of boys of his own age in one of our most progressive communities, and two others are "secretary-treasurers" of the Sunday School in similar localities. From the former district two of our lads have gone to prepare for the ministry. At a large funeral I attended this year, two Anglican ministers participated who came to Canada in 1908 and 1916 respectively from the Orphan Homes.

Human weaknesses are, of course, constantly coming before us, and problems resulting therefrom are often disturbing and trying, but we are glad to record that, backed up by the prayers of our friends, we have been given grace, guidance, and help from God which we feel should be gratefully recorded here. This consciousness, together with results recorded above, have given us abounding joy in this bit of service for the Master.

GENTLEMEN,

I have pleasure in submitting to you a report of the work carried on at The Consumption Sanatoria and The Colony for Epileptics during the year.

REGARDING THE CONSUMPTION SANATORIA, at the beginning of the year we had 165 patients in residence—73 males and 92 females. During the year we had an average of 165 patients each day in the institution, and on the last day of the year there were 166 patients—73 males and 93 females in residence. At no time during the year have we had any empty beds, except during the short periods requisite for disinfection, etc., after patients have been discharged.

There were admitted during the year 74 males and 109 females, a total of 183, and there were discharged 173 patients. Nine patients died during the year.

The patients who were treated and discharged were chiefly cases of pulmonary tuberculosis. Twenty patients, however, suffered from other tuberculous conditions — tuberculosis of the hip, spine, foot, abdomen, kidney and bladder, glands, supra-renals and skin. Seven cases which had been admitted did not suffer from tuberculosis. This was suspected because of the similarity in the symptomatology. They were cases of neurasthenia, neoplasm, amoebic abscess, bronchiectasis and Hodgkin's disease. The Sanatoria is specially adapted for the treatment of pulmonary consumption. We are always glad, however, to have a number of cases with other tuberculous conditions in the institution. It is not only interesting—giving variety to the nurses and doctors; it seems to influence favourably certain other patients. The nervous type is apt to become obsessed with the main symptoms of the pulmonary form of the disease when everyone around presents the same syndrome more or less. On the whole the cases with extra-pulmonary tuberculous lesions did very well indeed. The patients who had abdominal mischief, the hip cases, the gland cases, and the two patients with scrofuloderma, had the disease apparently arrested. A spine case admitted was too advanced and too septic to respond. A case of tuberculosis of the kidney was removed to the Western Infirmary to have the affected organ removed. She has since been re-admitted and is now doing well.

Regarding the patients who suffered from lung tuberculosis, these, on examination after admission, were in a large percentage affected with the disease in an advanced stage. Classified according to the Turban scale, only 9.6 per cent. had the disease in the early stage. In 32.9 per cent. the disease was at an intermediate stage; 57.4 of the cases had advanced lesions.

Much more can be done for those with advanced mischief than previously, and many of these respond most encouragingly. Failures also, unfortunately, are not uncommon; hence when so many are advanced on admission the number of deaths and cases not improved as a result of treatment is somewhat high. Nine patients, i.e., 6.4 per cent., died in the Sanatoria; 44, i.e., 28.3 per cent., were not improved. 42 cases were much improved, and 59 had the disease apparently arrested. In all, 65 per cent. definitely benefited by their period of stay in the Sanatoria.

It is to be regretted that more cases do not reach us at an earlier stage. The patient is more frequently to blame for this than the doctor. The insidious progress and the indefinite symptomatology of a chronic tuberculous lesion of the lungs frequently lead to neglect, and aid being sought only when the condition has progressed widely and the prognosis is correspondingly grave. On enquiring into the history of each case on admission to ascertain the duration of the disease prior to receiving treatment, it was found that 25 per cent. only had had symptoms for a period of less than six months. 21 per cent. had had those for six to twelve months; 14 per cent. for one to two years; 17 per cent. for two to three years; 23 per cent. for over three years, and 5 per cent. for an indefinite period. Much good would probably accrue if the symptomatology and clinical features of the disease were better understood generally, and if a thorough investigation were made whenever persisting or recurring indications of the disease presented themselves. The first symptoms shown by those cases dealt with and discharged during the year were:—

Coughs, Recurring Colds, Chills,	67 Cases.
Loss of Vigour, Sense of Fatigue,	35 "
Pains in the Chest,	23 "
Influenza and Feverish Attacks,	13 "
Hæmoptysis or Spitting of Blood,	12 "
Loss of Appetite, Dyspepsia,	10 "
Laryngeal Symptoms, Loss of Voice,	8 "
Loss of Weight,	5 "
Night Sweats,	3 "
Insomnia,	2 "

When a large percentage of cases have an advanced lesion on admission, the period of residence must necessarily be a prolonged one. Disease that has been present progressively for years cannot be definitely or permanently helped in a few weeks or months. Hence the average period of residence of those discharged has been somewhat long—345.3 days. 10 per cent. were in residence under three months; 29 per cent. for from three to six months; 18 per cent. for seven to nine months; 8.3 per cent. from ten to twelve months; 23.5 per cent. over twelve months. 19 cases were in the Sanatoria for over two years.

Our rule in regard to the period of residence is to encourage patients to stay on in the institution as long as they are going up-hill and improving, and to advise a change if the maximum benefit has apparently been achieved, if no progress is being made, or if the condition is obviously becoming worse in spite of all the therapeutic measures adopted.

In the treatment of the disease, as in previous years, the basis of all measures adopted has been hyperæeration, hyperalimentation, and rest—the windows and doors, it is a rule, are kept fully and widely open night and day. Patients able to be up must be outside from after breakfast onwards. We weigh the patients on admission, ascertain what they should be, and endeavour by dieting, etc., to have them exceed the average weight for their height by a half to one stone. It is no uncommon thing for those progressing favourably to increase two to three stones in weight. Only 19 patients lost weight. 107—nearly 70 per cent. of the patients—gained definitely. 29 were not weighed previous to discharge. We find rest, more and more, to be a sine qua non, if permanently good results are to be achieved by treatment—particularly at the beginning of the cure. Later, graduated walking exercise and work are essential, but all through the course of treatment regular rest periods are insisted upon. We like to get our patients on eventually to the stage of work. This not only helps to increase the resistance of the individual; it also tests the capacity for employment. The work given the patients to do is garden work, joiner work, general jobbing, or anything that can be carried on out of doors. Tested thus with such work, first two hours and later four hours per day, 80 of those discharged were found to be apparently fit for work.

We do a great deal of Artificial Pneumothorax treatment in the Sanatoria. This is merely a method of giving the individual local rest. It places a "splint" of air on the affected lung. The diseased lung is thus kept from moving, and healing is thereby promoted. The results are frequently surprisingly good.

Mr. Quarrier, in founding the Sanatoria in 1894, planned to have various types of baths for the treatment of the disease, and when equipping the Sanatoria many were built. One form of bath which he desired was not gone on with—a sun bath. We have done a good deal of sun treatment during the past few years—somewhat spasmodically because of the varying and uncertain climatic conditions characteristic of the district. During the present year, however, we built at the male pavilion a solarium. This protects the patients from the prevailing winds, and yet enables them to lie fully exposed to the sun. Hence, even during winter weather, it has been possible for the male patients to avail themselves of any sunshine that comes our way. It seems rather severe to have patients lie with nothing but a loin cloth on while there is snow everywhere. They enjoy it however, and undoubtedly benefit from it. We hope to build a sun bath during the coming year for the female patients. Throughout the period under review, for those who could not have natural sun treatment, full use has been made of carbon arc lamps, tungsten arc lamps and quartz mercury vapour lamps of various types. Although but second best, these have undoubtedly been a help in certain cases.

We have continued to use tuberculin largely in the Sanatoria, both hypodermically and percutaneously. As last year, bacillary emulsion has been the variety which we have favoured, and this has proved a most useful adjuvant in the treatment.

During the year we have also given a thorough trial to several reputed "cures" that have been brought forward. One of those, a Danish remedy called "Sanocrysin," we have found of real service. It is a preparation of gold which is injected intravenously. Fortunately it seems to help most definitely that type of case for which so little could be done in the past—the acute exudative case. It is a drug which requires to be handled most carefully, as it can produce reactions which may prove disastrous. Fortunately, although it has been given by us to fully fifty patients, in no instance has harm resulted. If benefit has not accrued, the patient never has been any worse of the attempt to help. Several who have responded to it have done remarkably well. The progress made has exceeded all expectations.

We are very glad that the trustees of the late Mrs. W. A. Campbell have entrusted to us the legacies left by her for research in tuberculosis and epilepsy, and that progress is being made with the provision of a satisfactory laboratory for research work. It is hoped that a thoroughly well-equipped building may be put up, and that when this is established, problems relative particularly to the cure of tuberculosis and of epilepsy may be investigated and elucidated.

Throughout the year the pleasantest possible spirit has prevailed in every department of the Sanatoria. The patients have been of a good type, and have co-operated in a most encouraging manner. Very rarely have any disciplinary measures been required. The Matron, Sisters, and Nurses have whole-heartedly and ungrudgingly done their very best for those under their care, working late and early, frequently regardless of hours. The assistant doctors have given excellent service, and have left nothing undone that could be thought of for the good of those in the institution. The results which have accrued, it is true, still leave much to be desired. Of the entire staff, however, it can be said truly they have done what they could. The encouragement of seeing nearly 40 per cent. obtain arrest of the disease and other 27 per cent. definitely benefited has been stimulating, and makes it worth while to carry on.

REGARDING THE COLONY FOR EPILEPTICS, there were in residence at the beginning of the year 94 patients—44 men, 25 women, 18 boys and 7 girls. At the end of the year 94 are again in residence—42 men, 26 women, 21 boys, and 5 girls.

There were admitted during the year 9 men, 11 women, 5 boys and 3 girls. Twenty-three were discharged—10 men, 6 women, 2 boys and 5 girls. We had five deaths from epilepsy during the year, 1 man and 4 women.

Amongst those discharged there were four who had had the epileptic seizures apparently arrested. Our test in regard to the arrest of this condition is rather a severe one—there must be no fits for a period of three years. This has been our standard for a long period. It has been interesting to note that no patient thus discharged during the past ten years has had a recurrence of the seizures. Several have visited the institution from time to time. They are always welcome, as they are a helpful stimulus to the others. The colonists are encouraged to keep busy, and require to take part in the routine work of the house, the laundry and the garden. This undoubtedly is an important factor in their treatment. During the year two visits were paid to the institution by the Commissioners of the General Board of Control.

The following extracts from the Official Report may be interesting:—

22nd April, 1926.

The patients were found in good health. There was no complaint of any kind, and their circumstances are all that could be desired. They are well fed and well clothed, and have abundant exercise in the beautiful and extensive grounds of the institution.

H. C. MARR,
Commissioner, General Board of Control.

5th October, 1926.

The patients were seen at dinner. They were served with an ample and in every respect excellent meal of mince with pastry and potatoes, a baked milk pudding and milk. The dining arrangements and the service were in keeping with the high standard pertaining to all the arrangements for the care and comfort of the inmates.

JAMES STURROCK,
Commissioner, General Board of Control.

The epileptic seizures recorded here have been fewer than usual. This probably is due to the excellent effect of luminal treatment. This preparation given alone or in combination with certain other drugs frequently acts like a charm. Unfortunately the effects are not usually permanent. The administration of the drug requires to be continued.

The total number of seizures recorded was as follows:—

		Major type.	Petit mal type.	Totals.
Males,	2,021	5,510	7,530
Females,	1,801	1,023	2,824
		3,822	6,533	10,354

It is to be regretted that so far no reliable remedy that produces eradication of the condition has been found. Probably it never will, considering the varied nature of the condition and the many methods by which it is produced. The institution could be an excellent field for clinical research. The finances at our disposal for such work, however, are totally inadequate to cope with it on anything but the most modest scale. It is to be hoped that some generous benefactor will one day come forward and make a worthy effort possible. Alleviation is good, arrest of the disease is better. Much enquiry will be required before the best can be achieved.

The Matrons, Nurses, and Attendants at the Colony have no easy task. Much consideration, great patience, and infinite tact is called for by each individual patient. That troubles and difficulties will arise is to be expected; that so little that is really serious crops up; and that a true homelike happy spirit prevails throughout the Colony is due entirely to the constant thoughtful care and attention of the staff.

SUMMARY OF THE YEAR'S WORK.

THE ORPHAN HOMES, BRIDGE-OF-WEIR, AND CITY ORPHAN HOME, GLASGOW.—On 1st November, 1925, there were resident in the Homes 1,110 boys and girls. During the year 203 new cases were admitted, making a total of 1,313 dealt with.

These have been disposed of as follows :—Outfitted and sent to Canada, 49; domestic service, trades, and situations, 54; deaths, 3; children under 5 years of age adopted, 9; returned to relatives now in a position to provide for them, 76; left to go to relatives, etc., 13; leaving in the Homes on 31st October, 1926, 1,109; of whom 599 are boys and 510 girls.

From the above it will be seen that 112 boys and girls were provided with outfits, given a start in life, and placed in positions to make their own way. The older girls having been trained for domestic service, situations were found for them, and the older boys were apprenticed to trades or sent to farms. Amongst those returned to friends many were old enough to work, and where necessary we helped with outfits, so that a large proportion of these might be added to the number of the permanently helped.

THE CONSUMPTION SANATORIA.—The year began with 165 patients in residence. 183 were admitted, 182 discharged or died, leaving 166 in residence on 31st October, 1926.

THE COLONY FOR EPILEPTICS.—The year began with 94 colonists in residence; 28 men, women, and children were admitted; 23 were discharged; and 5 died, leaving 94 in residence on 31st October, 1926.

THE YEAR'S INCOME.

The amount received during the year is as follows :—For the Orphan Homes, which includes the maintenance of the Homes at Bridge-of-Weir and the City and Canadian Homes, including £1,253 16s. 4d. earned by working boys, and sundry amounts as per cash statement, £49,497 9s. 3d.; for the Consumption Sanatoria, £23,239 14s. 4d.; for the Colony for Epileptics, £5,403 15s. 6d.; for the Home and Foreign Missions Fund, £1,419 14s. 2d., making the total amount for all purposes, £79,560 13s. 3d., besides large quantities of clothing, provisions, and other useful gifts.

For the work accomplished we are, under God, indebted to our devoted fellow-helpers in the various Homes, and to the practical generosity of friends throughout the world; to ministers, evangelists, and all who have aided in the Church services and other gatherings; to Sabbath School superintendents, teachers, and scholars; to ladies and work parties who have made up garments for our little ones; to the Press which has given notices of the work; to the members of the Medical Advisory Board, and the Doctors who have freely given their time and skill for the benefit of the sufferers in the Sanatoria and Hospitals; and to the auditors, Messrs. M'Farlane, Hutton & Patrick, who very kindly act in an honorary capacity.

CONCLUSION.

OUR readers who have perused the foregoing pages will, we feel sure, be ready to join with us in praise to our wonderful God, who has through another year made such ample and overflowing provision for the great family of needy ones at Bridge-of-Weir. "Unto Him that loveth us, and washed us from our sins in His own blood, and hath made us unto God and His Father a kingdom of priests; to Him be the glory forever." As we said at the beginning, so we would repeat at the end, that the wonder of this "yet unfinished story" grows on us more and more as the years come and go. In temporal things there is, so far as we know, no unsupplied need. In spiritual things we are never satisfied, but constantly need more grace, more spiritual power, more of that wisdom which comes down from above; more of the mind and spirit of Christ that we may commend Him to all those He sends to reside within our gates for longer or shorter periods, that all may confess that God is amongst us of a truth, and may be led into right relations with Him.

We wish never to forget that the first object of this work is not philanthropic but spiritual. When God's glory first, the salvation of souls second, and the helping in all right ways of the bodies and minds of men, women, and children third, ceases to be the order of our aims, we hope that the work will cease to be, or at all events that we may no longer have any share in it. But we pray, and ask the prayers of our readers, that we may always be kept "seeking first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness," for only as we do so have we right to expect that He will continue to fill out to us His promise, "All these things shall be added unto you." The "These Things" for the coming year are likely to include :—

£45,000 for maintenance of Orphan Children in Glasgow and at Bridge-of-Weir.

£3,500 for Emigration and maintenance of the Canadian Home.

Gifts towards maintenance of Consumption Sanatoria and erection of Laboratory.

Gifts towards maintenance of Colony for Epileptics.

Christmas-Tree Gifts for 1,200 boys, girls, and Colonists at Bridge-of-Weir. These are required early in December.

£2,000 for Home and Foreign Missions Fund.

Consecrated Christian men and women to fill vacancies as they occur for "fathers and mothers" in the cottages.

Furniture, Clothing, etc., which can always be made use of at Bridge-of-Weir.

We are not unmindful of the human side of our work, nor do we forget that without the loving prayerful sympathy and gifts of our thousands of friends all over the world it would be impossible to carry on; nor do we forget the earnest, faithful, consecrated band of fellow-workers in all departments of the work here. To all of these we record our grateful thanks, and from all we seek a continuance of the loving fellowship of the past.
